Egypt readmitted to Arab group

DAMASCUS (API -- Egypt was rendmined Wednesday to full membership in an Arab League-sponsored agricultural organisation in a move that hinted at possible Syrian willingness to patch up a 10-year-old rift with Caim. Syrian Agriculture Minister Mohammad Gabbache said that farm ministers and officials from 18 Arab states and Palestine unanimously decided "to halt the suspension of Egypt's membership with immediate effect." The move was announced at the end of a three-day meeting in Damascus of the pan-Arab Organisation for Agricultural Development. Syrian officials noted that the meeting was held under the personal auspices of President Hafez Assad. In the past, the Syrian leader has spoken our harshly against Arab reconciliation with Egypt. "This decision indicates a common desire to consolidate pan-Arab action and help our Egyptian brothers get rid as soon as possible of the bonds of the Camp David accords," Agriculture Minister Mohammad Gabbache said. Earlier this month, Syria agreed to resume diplomatic relations with Morocco after a 30-month gap. Assad broke ties with Rabat in July 1986 to protest a meeting between King Hassan and the then Israel Prime Minister, Shimon

Volume 14 Number 3989

 3 (Ap).

itra; p_{era}

of sport

Unwenie of tryings

er of cros

FOUND n the size

d cannon

 $\mathcal{A}_{V} = P_{Olio}$

guine ile

eral none

few cross

emans is

Curi IAb. . 🦫

anid boar

Bonal Ag-

v. quarter

er rift from

· P reaped

արխ (որդ

checks to:

red them

! the boar

:धःदः "ध्य

Contribu-

t -- and w

max Chy

the larged

- Hospa

was open that de-

Line Printer

i the You

i w while 🌶 a Tent it out they

A from the rande va

: Fureau

archina.

- N. C

wright (

47.23.00

· 31,417,00

 $W_{i} \in \mathcal{M}_{i} \times \mathcal{M}_{i}$

In acres

Sec. 3500

4 40274

$ 22

W.15

115

21.15

on that of

A SECTION AND ADDRESS.

and the b

1.5

 $g_{\alpha\beta}(B_{i})$ es

ire

3

AMMAN THURSDAY-FRIDAY JANUARY 19-20, 1989, JUMADA AL AQIRA 11-12, 1409

Price: Jordan 100 fils; Syria 1 pound; Lebanon 1 pound; Saudi Arabia 1.50 riyals; UAE 1.50 dirhams; Great Britain 25 pence

AROUND THE WORLD...

Taba dispute near end

OCCUPIED JERUSALEM (R) - Israel and the United States voiced optimism Wednesday that a seven-year Israeli-Egyptian dispute over Taba, a Red Sea beach, could be solved by next year. U.S. State Department legal adviser Ahraham Sofaer met Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir on the eve of three-way negotiations at the disputed Taba beach resort and told Israeli newspapers he expected a solution by the weekend. The talks Thursday will centre on ownership of a five-star hotel and a topless holiday village and access to the area for Israelis once Israel bands the 700-metre beachfront back to Egypt. An international arbitration panel last year upbeld Egypt's case on the border. "We do have every intention of finishing this issue, this small issue, as soon as possible," Foreign Ministry spokesman Mordechai Amihai told reporters. He said the talks could be wrapped up by Friday midday, or at the latest with another session next week.

N. Yemeni premier arrives in Baghdad

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — North Yemeni Prime Minister Abdul Aziz Abdul Ghani arrived in Baghdad Wednesday for an official visit, the official Iraqi News Agency reported. The agency, monitored in Nicosia, quoted Abdul Ghani as saying on arrival that his visit was intended to boost hilateral ties and coordinate joint aims. Abdul Ghani's talks with Iraqi officials will focus on the continuing Palestinian uprising in the Israeli-occupied territories and other Middle East developments, the agency said.

Gorbachev meets Western statesmen

MOSCOW (R) - Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev met three statesmen from France, Japan and the United States Wednesday who are examining developments in East-West relations, Soviet news agency TASS said. It said Gorbachev met former French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing, former Japanese Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone and former U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. TASS disclosed no details of the meeting, but said the three were "studying new perspectives in East-West relations." The three are part of a delegation of the Trilateral Commission - a non-governmental organisation examining policies of Western industrialised nations.

Soviets say Berlin Wall must stay

VIENNA (R) - The Soviet Union and East Germany Wednesday rejected calls from the U.S., Britain and West Germany at the European Security Conference for removal of the Berlin Wall, arguing it must stay in place for the moment. At the same time, hard-line East Bloc states hit back at criticism from U.S. Secretary of State George Shultz over their human rights record, with Romania and Czechoslovakia accusing him of interfering in their domestic affairs. "The wall is not a relic of the cold war but a factor for stability in Europe," East German Foreign Minister Oskar Fischer told reporters before meeting West Germany's Hans-Dictrich Genscher who earlier called the wall an "anachronistic relic." He said it could "when the reasons for its construction no longer exist." East Germany has always argued that the wall was built in 1961 as protection against Western efforts to undermine it politically and economically.

Czechs allowed to demonstrate PRAGUE (R) - More than 5,000 people - many chanting demands for freedom, human rights and "Gorbachev" - demonstrated in central Prague Wednesday but for the first time in four days of protests police did not intervene. In a direct reversal of violent tactics against demonstrators in the city's Wenceslas Square, witnesses said police made no move to disperse the crowd after Czechoslovakia came under heavy criticism at the Enropean Security Conference in Vienna (see story on page 81.

Lawyer says Marcos is dying

NEW YORK (Agencies) — Ousted Philippine President Ferdinand Marcos is dying and would be unable to face the rigours of a trial of conspiracy and corruption charges, his lawyer said Wednesday. The comment was contained in a letter sent to Federal Judge John Kennan by lawyer Richard Hibey and released here. "We have been advised by the last doctor who examined President Marcos that he is dying," Hibey's letter said. Meanwhile Marcos was offered to return an undisclosed amount of money stashed in Swiss banks in exchange for permission to return home, the Philippine Senate President said Wednesday. Sen. Jovito Salonga, former chief of a government body assigned to recover Marcos' fortune, said the offer was made in an August 1988 letter. Salonga said it was the second such offer made by

Psychiatrists say Hammadi not insane

FRANKFURT, West Germany (R) — Psychiatrists testified Wednesday that suspected Lehanese hijacker Mohammad Ali Hammadi was mentally fit, damaging a defence bid to have him acquitted of a mentally III. damaging a desence Did to have him acquitted of a murder charge by reason of insanity. Hammadi is on trial in West Germany for murder and air piracy. The charges stem from the June 1985 hijacking of a Trans World Airlines plane during which a U.S. passenger was shot dead. Psychiatrists said medical tests performed on him in recent weeks upheld his assertion that he had suffered serious injuries in Lebanon's civil war but showed no signs of mental

Bush opens inaugural ceremonies

WASHINGTON (R) - President-elect Bush, kicking off mangural ceremonies, saluted America's teachers Wednesday by renewing his campaign pledge to be the education president. But discouraging new trade figures released by the Commerce Department highlighted the economic problems the incoming U.S. leader faces. Bush, who had no immediate comment on word that the trade deficit rose by more than 22 per cent in November to $12.51 billion, told a selected group of teachers from across the country: Education will be on my desk and on my mind every day right from the start.

Venezuelan leader arrives in Baghdad

BAGHDAD (AP) — Venezuelan President-elect Carlos Andres Perez arrived in Iraq Wednesday to seek support for an OPEC summit meeting to stabilise the oil market and boost solidarity in the 13-member cartel. Andres Perez was greeted at Baghdad airport by Iraqi Foreign Minister Tariq Aziz. He was to hold talks with President Saddam Hussein and other senior officials during a 24-hour visit, Venezuelan embassy officials said. The Venezuelan president-elect flew to Baghdad from Tehran, where he said his talks with Iranian officials were positive, the Islamic Republic News Agency reported.

1 killed in Greece factory blast

PATRAS, Greece (AP) - One man was killed and two others were slightly injured Wednesday after a powerful blast tore through an explosives factory near this southern port city, police said. A police spokesman said Giorgos Sarandopoulos, 55, was killed in the blast at the Nicolaos Pappas explosives company. Two other men were hosnitalized at Patras General Hamital where they were listed in hospitalised at Patras General Hospital where they were listed in stable condition, said the spokesman, who requested anonymity in accordance with Greek practice.

Baker: New administration will continue talks with PLO

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Arab-Israeli conflict is the most stubborn problem facing U.S. diplomacy. Secretary of State-Designate James Baker said Wednesday. He also said the Bush administration will continue the dialogue with the Palestine Liberation Organisacion.

Answering questions on the second day of confirmation hearings before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Baker said the United States would continue to prod the two sides toward the negotiating table.

But we all ought to be realistic about the prospects of a breakthrough," he added. "There is no more intractable problem facing

The United States will also' continue its efforts to bring peace among Lebanon's warring factions, "but again, there too we're limited in what we can do."

Baker's reception by the committee was as friendly as on his first day of testimony Tuesday, and the panel was expected to confirm his nomination by week's end. The full senate will act later. billion every year for weapons weapons, Baker said.

Baker said the administration and food, and $4 to $5 billion go would continue the dialogue begun last month with the Palestine Liberación Organisation (PLO) as a step toward direct Arab-Israeli peace talks. The talks will be used to convey abhorrence of terrorism to the PLO and should not be construed as a lessening of support for Israel, he added. In a sweeping review of his foreign policy plans Tuesday, Baker pledged to adhere broadly to President Ronald Reagan's policy of withstanding Soviet expansion around the world. He said President-elect George Bush also believed in that policy.

"Trust but verify is a good standard," be said, referring to Reagan's maxim in dealing with the Soviets.

He cautioned that "however fascinating the twists and turns of perestroika (Soviet restructuring) may be, and however, riveting the details of Soviet decline as reported in Soviet newspapers, the Soviet Union remains a heavily armed superpower."

to Communist Cuba, Baker said. In one indicacion of a possible departure from the past, Baker said the Bush administration would not resume talks with the Soviets on halving their long-range nuclear missile stocks until a review of the negociations is conducted in Washington. Calming concerns by some senators, Baker said he believed the strategic missile talks should be pursued on merit and not be linked to other issues such as East-West talks that begin in March on reducing convencional arms in Europe.

He also called for a review of U.S. policy toward South Africa, saying the economic sanctions imposed by Congress over Reagan's objections had failed to dent apartheid policies of the government, Congress and the administration must have a unified policy in order to succeed, he said.

High on the agenda of his office will be a push for an international treaty banning the use The Soviets give Nicaragua $1 and production of chemical

Iraq denies having bioweapons; warns Israel against strike

Wednesday denied producing biological weapons and warned Israel against any attempt to attack its facilities.

"Israel should not delude itself that what it did in June 1981 against the nuclear reactor... can be repeated because Iraq is cap-

Two U.S. television networks bad received any such warning developing weapons to spread cholera, typhoid, anthrax and other diseases. They claimed Israel bad warned Iraq to stop or face an attack like that in June 1981, which destroyed the Osirak Atomic Reactor.

able of defending itself and re-taliating for any aggression," an Information Ministry spokesman built to develop nuclear weapons.

a charge Baghdad denied.

The spokesman, quoted by the . Israel alleged the reactor was

Iraqi News Agency, denied Iraq

BAGHDAD (R) - Iraq elaimed Tuesday that Iraq was but said it would strongly reject it if it did.

> "The spokesman asserted that Iraq does not produce such weapons and does not need them for defensive purposes," the agency added.

An Israeli official told Reuters Wednesday his country bad in-formation that Baghdad had developed such weapons but did not yet have the means to use them on the battlefield.

Rabin under fire amid escalating army violence

Palestinians stage massive strike

OCCUPIED JERUSALEM (Agencies) ---Palestinians in the occupied West Bank staged a general strike Wednesday to protest at mounting casualties from army gunfire and Israel's opposition blasted the government for its handling of the Palestinian uprising.

Palestinians said a leaflet signed by the uprising's under-ground leadership, the Unified National Command, called for the strike to "protest at ruthless Israeli policies and the killing of ehildren.

Arab sources said residents observed the strike in most of the West Bank, Merchants closed sbops and students left clas-

Palestinians said Israeli troops shot and wounded seven people in scattered protests Wednesday. Military authorities said they were elosing all schools in the towns of Ramallah, Bireh, Qalqilya and Jenin from Thursday until Monday because of calls by Palestinian nationalists to boycott classes.

They said three other schools would be closed for 10 days. Palestinians hurled two fire-bombs at a bus carrying workers to Israel near the West Bank village of Dayr Abu Mashal. police said. Two people were injured and the bus was gutted. Amid growing concern by ministers over rising Arab casualties in the 13-month revolt, Israel's inner cabinet met to discuss army use of plastic bullets and other tactics.

Israeli Defence Minister Yitzhak Rabin was shouted off the podium by critics as he tried to defend his new tough tactics for putting down the uprising.

Right-wing criocs also criticised the government, saying it was not doing enough to end the

Rabin came under fire for his newest policy of allowing troops to shoot plastic or rubber bullets at stone throwers even as they flee and for expanding the number of troops allowed to shoot.

"As long as the residents of the (occupied) territories aren't ready to sit down at the negotiating table, as long as they respond with violence, rocks and bottles, they will not make us run away, they will not make us surrender. They will suffer." Rabin said.

He was interrupted by hecklers at least a dozen times before he stopped speaking and angrily took his seat. Some of the critics called for his resignation. Among his detractors were

Yossi Sarid of the Citizens' Rights Movement who said:

This policy is not only killing Palestinians but also the souls of Israeli soldiers. I say to you that for the sake of our future and our common destiny, ours and the Arab Bank Ltd.

HAKAMA AND EIDOUN

IN IRBID

THE ARAB BANK ANNOUNCES THE OPENING OF TWO NEW

OFFICES IN HAKAMA AND EIDOUN.

BANKING SERVICES WILL COMMENCE EFFECTIVE SATURDAY

JANUARY 21, 1989.

CUSTOMERS ARE INVITED TO DEAL WITH THE NEW OFFICES WHICH

CAN PROVIDE THEM WITH DIRECT AND INDIRECT SERVICES:

OPENS TWO OFFICES

Palestinians... I say to you Mr. Defence Minister, go.

The debate was in response to no-confidence modons brought by eight factions against the government's handling of the latesi violence upsurge in the occupied

In East Jerusalem, police clashed for the second day with Arab protesters firing teargas and rubber bullets to break up protests. Police arrested eight youths, Israel Radio said. A commercial strike in protest at a crackdown by Israeli tax authorittes continued into its fifth day in the Gaza Strip, Palestinians said.

On Tuesday, the army destroyed three homes of Palesonians in Qalqiliya. It was the first time such harsh measures were used against protesters. On Wednesday, Palestinian merchants closed their shops and public transportation ground to a halt to protest the latest house destructions and the rash of deaths, reports said, The house demolitions were part of a new army policy against protesters by wrecking or sealing their homes or confiscating their families' property, Chief of Staff Dan Shomron said Tuesday. The United States voiced concern over the increase in West Bank violence Tuesday.

"We are deeply concerned over the rise in violent confrontations between Palestinians and Israelis which have resulted in increased injuries and deaths. We especially regret the loss of life," State Department spokesman Dennis Harter said at a news briefing.

Lebanese rivals agree to Arab League talks agreed to cooperate with the 22- committee." member Arab League in a bid to Lebanon, officials reported

Wednesday.
Acting Prime Minister Salim with a special committee of the league on ways to resolve a fourmonth-old poliocal crisis that threatens to cement Lebanon's partition into sectarian cantons.

"We are prepared to cooperate with the Arab League committee," Hoss told the Associated "Tentatively, I will leave for Tunis to meet the committee on Jan. 28." he said. The committee, headed by Kuwaiti Foreign Minister Sheikh Sabah Al Ahmad Al Sabah, was formed in Tunis last Thursday at a meeting of Arab foreign minis-

It also comprises the foreign ministers of Sndan, Tunisia, Algeria, Jordan and the United Arab Emirates and Arab League Secretary-General Chadli Klibi. Parliament Speaker Hussein

mittee in Tunis later this month, his office announced. A political source in east Beirut said army commander Michel Aoun, who heads rival military cabinet, also "welcomed the

P.W. Botha, who has led South Africa for more than a decade,

suffered a mild stroke Wednesday and was admitted to a militwbo turned 73 Thursday last week, was in stable condition.

Officials at his Tuynhuys office

alongside the Cape Town parlia-

But political sources said Botha was conscious and able to speak.

The Argus newspaper said

Botha became ill at his official

Cape Town residence, Westbrook, and was taken by ambu-

Hospital about five kilometres

Opposition legislator Marius

surgeon, said he believed from dependence.

would be released later.

His spokesman said Botha, said.

ment declined to give details of retire. his condition, saying a statement He r ary hospital.

Botha suffers mild stroke

CAPE TOWN (R) - President watching Botha in parliament and lance to the Wynberg Military the year was to have been a

Barnard a renowned heart ruled territory's transition to in-

BEIRUT (AP) — Leaders of Lebanese situation and expressed rival Lebanese cabinets bave readiness to cooperate with the

The source, speaking on condiprevent the formal partition of oon of anonymity, said Aoun Lebanon, officials reported "would decide on the level of his representation at any meeting with the committee after he for-Al Hoss said he would leave for mally receives an invitation, Tunis later this month for talks which is expected later this

> Hoss and Husseini were invited by Kuwaiti envoys to meet the committee when the Lebanese officials visited Damascus Tuesday.

> The Kuwaio diplomats, Abdul Mohsen Al Gaian and Ahmad Ibn Al Jassem, were expected to visit east Beirut later this week to deliver Sabah's invitation to Aoun, the independent Al Nahar daily said.

> While they were in Damascus, Hoss and Husseini met Syrian Vice President Abdul Halim Khaddam and discussed efforts by the committee to resolve the Lebanese crisis and facilitate the election of a new president to succeed Amin Gemayel, whose term expired Sept. 22.

Parliamentary efforts to elect a successor failed when Christian Husseini will also meet the comdepudes boycotted the electoral Minutes before he stepped down, Gemayel appointed Aoun head of an interim military cabinet to rule Lebanon until a Arab League's interest in the new president was elected.

from 'a certain weakness of his facial muscles" that he suffered a mild stroke about two years ago.

out taking it easy after this," be of South Africa's white minority government on Sept. 28 last year but gave no bint of planning to

He returned to Cape Town at the weekend after a four-week

boliday at his south coast country

bome and is due to open a new session of parliament on Feb. 3

with a traditional keynote address setting ont his plans for the year.

meeting Friday with leaders of the interim government of Namibia about plans for the white-

His first official engagement of

"Perhaps he should think ab-

Botha marked 10 years as head

THE DIRECT SERVICES

OPENING OF ACCOUNTS.

DEPOSITING AND WITHDRAWING CASH EITHER AT THE COUNTER OR THROUGH

THE AUTOMATED TELLER. CHEQUE DEPOSITS.

-TRAVELLERS CHEQUES. -CASHING INCOMING TRANSFERS. -ISSUING MONEY ORDERS.

-DEALING WITH PURCHASED AND ACCEPTED CHEQUES.

DISCOUNTED BILLS AND CHEQUES UNDER

THE INDIRECT SERVICES (CONDUCTED THROUGH THE BRANCH)

- ISSUING CHEQUE BOOKS AND TELEX

TRANSFERS.

- CUSTOMERS CERTIFIED CHEQUES.

-LETTERS OF CREDIT.

- GUARANTEES.

-ISSUING CARDS FOR THE AUTOMATED

-INCOMING AND OUTGOING COLLECTION

- APPLICATIONS FOR CREDIT FACILITIES.

Arab Bank Ltd.

SHAFIQ IRSHEIDAT STREET P.O. BOX 16 IRBID TEL: 278145 & 278146 FAX: 278147

Arab Bank Ltd.

HAKAMA STREET P.O. BOX 16 IRBID TEL: 278140 & 278141

A property of the second secon

FAX: 278142

Amal-Hizbollah mediation deadlocked

BEIRUT (R) — Talks between Lebanon's top Shi'ite Muslim clerics to end almost three weeks of militia battles are deadlocked, Shi'ite sources said Wednesday.

They have failed to reach any common points to solve the feud." one source said.

Pitched battles between Amal and Hizbollah have died down in the past few days during the talks. But individual killings and anductions continued in Beirut's southern suburbs and South Lebanon, the scenes of herce battles which have killed 140 people since Jan. 1. The two sides also traded accusations, with Hizbollah saying Amal had seized more than 350 people in the south and Amal charging Hizbollah with killing Amil captives.

The rivals have been competing for leadership of Lebanon's 1.5 million Shi ites since 1984. when Hizbollah emerged with Iran's help to challenge Amal.

The Shi ite snurces said Hizbollah cleries, including its spiritual mentor Sheikh Mohammad Hussem Fadlallah, had reached a dead end in talks with Sheikh Mohammad Mehdi Shamseddine, vice-president of the Higher Shi ite Council. But they said efforts would continue to end the hloodbath.

Amal sources said their militia

Minister Turgut Ozal said

Wednesday Greece and Turkey

should do all they could to maintain their year-old reconciliation.

both Turkey and Greece should... refrain from actions or

'It goes without saying that statements that might damage the Dayos process," Ozal said in a statement issued by the Foreign with this ment has take Ozal urges efforts to maintain Turco-Greek ties

ANKARA (R) - Turkish Prime al stability talks (CST) last week

"There are major differences. had delegated Shamseddine to negotiate with Hizbollah. The Shi'ite sources said Hizbollah was demanding an overall political settlement with Amal, including a share in the control of South Lebanon and a major say in representing the Shi'ite community in internal politics.

Amal leader Nabih Berri told reporters Wednesday he wanted an end to the fighting before any political solotion. "The overall reconciliation does not start when a knife is pointed at your neck. There should be first a security agreement then the door for a general solution will be open," he said.

A senior Amal official said

Amal demanded the withdrawal of Hizbollah gunmen from the villages of Jnbah and Ain Buswar in the southern Iqlim Al Tufah

The militia in return will be ready to help provide guerrillas fighting Israel with weapons and money," be said.

Amal forced Hizbollah militants out of most of the south in April last year. It has been battline this month to oust the pro-Iranians from their last bastion in the region.

Hizbollah has used Iglim Al Tufah, stretching from Sidoo to Israel's self-declared "security zone," to launch attacks against Israel and its local militia allies. Hizbollah said Amal was besieging its positions in Iqlim Al

Tufah and bampering its attacks against Israel. Fadlallah urged the rival fight-

Syria pledges cooperation with panel

DAMASCUS (R) - Syria will support an Arab League ministerial committee in its efforts to resolve the political crisis in Lebannn, Syria's semi-official daily Al Thawra said Wednesday. Syria, which spared no effort in the past to enable Lebanon nvercome its crisis, will extend all facilities to any sincere and honest Arab effort aimed at liberating Lebannn from the Zionist cancer and ensuring it belongs to the Arab Nation," it said.

Vice-President Abdul Halim

Khaddam held talks in Damascus Tuesday with Lebanon's acting Prime Minister Salim Hoss on the committee's planned meeting come unsuitable ... it does not when Greece objected to Turkey's exclusion of a southern port

out of the zone was a matter solely concerning Turkey as it had a direct bearing on its secur-

"With this in mind, our government has taken into consideration in the zone because it was Turkey's direct supply point to north Cyprus where Ankara has around

Ozal said keeping Mersin port from a disarmament zone.

with Lebanese leaders later this month, officials said.

The six-member Arab League contact group, headed by Kuwaiti Enreign Minister Sbeikb Sabah Al Ahmed Al Sabah, bas invited Hoss and Michel Aoun, bead of Lebanoo's rival military cabinet, to Tunis for

Al Thawra repeated Syria's conditions for resolving the crisis - ending all links with Israel and introducing political and constitutional reforms to achieve oational reconciliation.

The Lebanese constitution which was born in 1943 has be-satisfy the majority of the Lehanese people," it said.

It said the 1943 national covenant, which tends to favour Christians over Muslims, was a source of discrimination which partitioned Lebanese society rather than unified it.

"Any attempt (to resolve the crisis) which is not based on achieving drastie political reforms in Lebanon before the election of a new president will remain useless. It will not alter the bad situation in Lebanon," Al Thawra said.

Lebanon bas been without a president since Sept. 23 when Amin Gemayel's term expired.

ers Tuesday to lay down their arms, saying be would continue contacts with Shamseddine.

Shamseddine Monday met Hizbollah leaders for the second time in four days.

"We delegated Sheikh Shamseddine to talk to Hizbollah but it seems Hizbollah wants to min any peace chance. They are putting obstacles in the face of all solutions," said an Amal spokesman.

Fadiallah said Tuesday tbat Iran had asked Syria, which has more than 25,000 troops to Lebanon, to launch an initiative to end the conflict.

Adel Osseiran, defence minister in Lebanon's civilian administratinn, told reporters a meeting in which Arab states and Iran would take part would be held in a oew effort to end the fighting. He did ont say when or where it would take place.

Seminr sources io the government of acting Prime Minister Salim Hoss told Reuters efforts were under way to convene a meeting between Syria, Iran and the rival factions.

They said Hoss discussed the proposed meeting with officials in Damascus Tuesday.

The Iranian cabinet pledged support Wednesday for any plao which would end the elashes. Tebran Radio reported.

State Department to discuss Arafat visa with ADC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two fat visa," Boubafa said Tuesday. Arab American officials bave been invited to the State Departmeet to discuss the possibility of grantiog a visa for Palestine Liberatioo Organisation (PLO) last week, but declined to discuss Chairman Yasser Arafat to visit the United States, an Arab American group has said.

The president of the American-Arab Anti-Discrimination Committee (ADC), Abdeeo Jabara, and the chairman of its board, James Abourezk, were asked to meet Monday with an aide to White House said Tuesday they Assistant Secretary of State had not received an application Ricbard Murpby, said the group's from Arafat for a visa. If it spokesman, Faris Bouhafa. The comes, said White House spokesaide, Ned Walker, deals in Mid-dle Eastern affairs. man Marlin Fitzwater, 'we will consider it very carefully. We invitation was to discuss an Ara- do."

State Department officials confirmed such a meeting had been set to discuss the results of Abourezk's meeting with Arafat the question of a visa for the PLO leader.

Arafat last Friday accepted an iovitation from Abourezk to address the ADC's annual convention April 13 in Washington, the ADC said. The State Department and the

"The stated purpose of the won't say in advance what we'll

- A woman sticks out her tongue at an

U.S. lawyers' group criticises Reagan's silence on Israeli abuses

OCCUPIED JERUSALEM does not hesitate to challenge Secretary of State Shultz and (AP) - A U.S. lawyers group criticised the Reagan administratioo io a report issued Tuesday for failing to speak out against Israeli abuses in the occupied territories, singling out the U.S. president for bis "virtual silence"

"Quiet diplomacy, closed door meetings and limited public comment are simply not sufficient," said the New York-based Lawyers Comminee for Human Rights in its annual assessment of American policy.

The 342-page report titled The Reagan Administration's Record on Human Rights in 1988" also urged incoming Presideot George Bush to publicly address the issue of Israeli bandling of the Palestinian uprising in the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip.

"The United States, as the major supporter of Israel, must demonstrate that it applies buman rights slandards evenhandedly, scrutinises the hu- Rabin. man rights record of allies and publicly ... systematic and oogoing abuses," the report's 16page chapter on Israel said. The chapter was made available bere. Among the abuses cited by the group were Israel's expulsion of 49 Palestinians, the demolition of hundreds of Palestinian homes and the detention of some 2,600 Arabs for six months or longer without trial.

All of the measures violate international conventions for the treatment of people under occupation, the report said. It also crincised the Israeli army for allowing beatings, the use of live ammunition and other measures that have led to the deaths of more than 360 Palestinians during the 13-month up-The group singled out Reagan and Secretary of State George Shultz for failing to speak out during visits last year by Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Sbamir and Defence Minister Yitzbak

"We are disappointed that other officials consistently avoided vigorous and detailed public comment io response to the mounting death toll in the occupied territories," it said.

The state of the s

$ 100°

81.18

O MEE

٠.

alish (

.

ut ev.

. U.

1.0

JASH

141 eWorM.

44 W V...

W UOÆ

-101 ·

R.Luj

DUCATE(

اعاد

i_{s (2)}

Hasin a

Je la

tragi a: dildren a the 1

gestivite gestivite fill takis

a the f

partolization of the state of t

The report added that "President Reagan, in particular, was virtually sileot on buman rights problems in the territories.

The group noted that American support for Israel was "solidly anchored" by $3 billion in annual U.S. aid.

"Given this level of support, the Reagan administration should have designated a high-level U.S. official to raise human rights concerns." it said.

Despite the criticism of U.S. officials, the report praised former U.S. Ambassador Thomas Pickering and his staff for "actively monitoring human rights in the territories...and repeatedly cooveying their concerns to Israeli Pickering left his post earlier this month after he was appointed by Bush as the next U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Ministry. primarily Turkey's and NATO's Ozal and Greek Prime Minister security interests in determining Andreas Papandreou launched the boundaries of this zone," he efforts to end long-standing disputes, including the divided is-Greece said Mersin, 75 miles Turgut Ozal land of Cyprus, at a meeting in from Cyprus, should be included Davos, Switzerland, in January

Ozal's statement followed a dispute at the Vienna convention-Mine probably caused fatal blast in Gulf

BAHRAIN (R) - A drifting

mine in the Gulf was probably responsible for an explosion which split a Bahraini dhow in two. killing one fisherman and injuring five others, officials said Wednesday. They said the force of Tuesday's hiast near a coral reef 35 miles northeast of Babrain sugg 'ed it was caused by a mine the northern Gulf. "Evidence seems to point to a mine explosion." one security official said. "The strong

UNITED NATIONS (API - A

U.N. official said Tuesday that Alghan rebel groups will convene a 5001-member Islamic council, or

Shura. by Feb. I to work towards a new government for their Beam Sevan, the secretary-

general's alternate representative

ou Afghanistan, told a news conference that he hoped members of the Soviet-backed Kabul government also would take part.

But he said the composition of the conference, a kind of religious parliament, was still under

JORDAN TELEVISION

Tel. 773111-19

war-torn nation.

w ch had drifted south after hreaking loose from moorings in winds and rough seas we've had means mines are more likely to break loose and drift The crew of a second dhow pulled the body of the stricken vessel's Bahraini captain from the water and rescued his five Asian companions. One of the survivors, 39year-old Mobammad Noor

Fager of Bombay, told Reuters from his hospital bed he believed the explosion was caused by something underneath the

"I was brushing my teeth at Sevan, who has been shuttling between Kabul, Afghanistan and Islamahad and Peshawar, Pakistan, for the past two months, said he had "no reason to believe that by Feb. 15." as required by a into Afghanistan in 1979 in support of a pro-Soviet government.

following a coup in April 1978.

reports that the Soviet Union

may provide the Afghanistan

army with new, long-range missiles with which to battle rebels

The Soviet Union sent troops

Sevan declined to comment on

Sovici troops will not withdraw

U.N.-mediated agreement.

Afghan rebels to form 500-member council

29,000 troops stationed.

Turkey said the Cyprus issue was not relevant to the talks.

the back of the boat. Suddenly

I beard a very big noise. The boat split into two pieces and I fell into the water," he said.

spine, said be was in the water for about 10 minutes but could have been released from hospital while the fourth, Indian

Leyaqat Ahmad, 23, is being treated for shock and back

The sources said they had not yet raied out a faulty boiler or engine problems as causes of

after the Soviet withdrawal.

deadline.

The Soviet Uoion has said it wants to withdraw the 50,000

remaining troops by the Feb. 15

ited Nations, which has a 50-man team io the region, would do if a civil war broke out after the Soviet withdrawal. He said the Security Council would have to decide if it wanted to create a special observer or peacekeeping

Afghan dialogue" is under way between the seven-group Sunni

Sevan said that an "intra-

Sevan was asked what the Uo-

Three of the other survivors

remember bttle.

Fager, who has a fractured almost certain a mine was re-tensive minesweeping by West-ern navies, at least 200 tethered mines left over from the Iran-

Iraq war were thought to be in the northern Gulf beyond the reach of foreign minesweepers.

The British minesweepers

are due to start searching a

26-mile shipping channel lead-ing to Bahrain's Mina Sulman

Muslim alliance io Pakistan and the eight-group Shi'ite alliance in Iran, all representing anti-Kabul sides to hold a shura, a consultative connoil, which will be the first step toward a formal intra-

Afghan dialogue," Sevan said.

there," he said. "There are a lot of pirouettes all over, but they are moving fast enough after 10 years of fighting toward a shura

which is accepted by all concerned as an intra-Afghan way of resolving the problem."

"All the elements for peace are

There is agreement now on all port Saturday.

Afghan guerrillas.

MIDDLE EAST NEWS IN BRIEF the explosion, but Western naval officials said they were

ALGIERS (R) — British Charge d'Affaires John Illman was called to the Foreign Ministry Tuesday to hear complaints about the way British officials treat Algerians arriving in Britain, the official oews agency APS said. The British diplomat was told of the government's "concern over the repeated offences against the dignity of Algerian cibzens going to Britain," the agency said. "The British government was invited to lift restrictions on the circulation of people between the two countries," it added. Last week APS reported that about 20 Britons were turned back in 1988 in retaliation for the mistreatment of Algerians held overnight in jail in Britaio before being sent back home. The agency said at the time the expulsion of Britons had been suspeoded pending assurances from London that the measure would be reciprocated. It said 580 Algerians were turned back at British airports in 1987 but the figure rose to 662 in the first six months of last year. Knesset urges Bush to release spies

Algeria protests British mistreatment

TEL AVIV (R) - Israel's parliament Tuesday urged incoming United States President George Bush to release Jonathan and Anne Pollard — convicted of spying for Israel — on "humanita-rian" grounds. Pollard, a former U.S. navy analyst who admitted passing secrets 10 Israel on Arab and Soviet military strength was sentenced to life imprisonment in March 1987. His wife received a five-year sentence for aiding him. 'The Knesset (parliament) appeals to President Bush to release Mrs. Anne Pollard from prison in light of her state of health and to grant the Pollard couple elemency on humanitarian grounds," the resolution said. Pollard admitted passing secret information that helped Israel bomb Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO) headquarters in Tunis io October 1985. The data included information on Soviet and Arab military strength.

Protests over price rise, shortages in Sudan

KHARTOUM (R) — Hundreds of people took to the streets of the Sudanese capital Tuesday to protest against food shortages and a 150 per cent rise in the price of sugar. Witnesses said the protesters shouted anti-government slogans in Khartoum and its twin city of Omdurman. There were no reports of violence or arrests. The protests coincided with the start of a five-day strike by state-employed engineers and technicians seeking more pay. Prime Minister Sadeq Al Mahdi told a oews conference Monday that his government bad decided to raise the price of sugar to 1.25 Sudanese pounds (27 cents) from 50 piastres (11 cents) per pound. Last month the government rescinded a 500 per cent increase in sugar prices after a nationwide strike and three days of protests io which at least one person was killed.

Kyprianou faces libel suit

NICOSIA (R) - Retired West German diplomat Paul Kurbjuhn is suing former Cypriot President Spyros Kyprianou for libel over an incident that shook relations between Bono and Nicosia 10 years ago. Lawyer Michael Pissas representing Kurbjuhn said be would call as witnesses ministers of Kyprianou, who was defeated for reelection to the presidency in February last year. The case opened before a Nicosia district court in November and was adjourned again Tuesday to the end of the month. Kurbjuho, 75, who served at the German Embassy io Nicosia in the 1970s, accused Kyprianou of implicating him in a conspiracy to overthrow the Cypriot government and of being an accessory to a gunbattle over a hijack at Lamaca airport in 1978 in which 15 Egyptians died. "I want a public apology, which has to be signed hy him personally and has to be distributed on an international scale," Kurbjuhn told Reuters. He said he was also seeking up to $100,000 in damages.

18:00 18:20

PROGRAMME TWO

JORDAN TIMES DAILY GUIDE AND CALENDAR

PROGRAMME ONE Koran 15:50 Programme review Children programmes 16:15 17:30 News for the deal Local programme "Alph" Health programme Programme review Programme review Arabic film News summary in Arabic

PROGRAMME TWO La Baby Sitter La chance aux chansons News in French La vie en Panne Bill Coshy Show Beauty and the Beast

22:20 Feature film: Reckless Disre-

PRAYER TIMES 05:10 Fajt 06:31 (Sunrise) Duha 11.46 Dhuhr 14:37 'Asr 17:01 Maghreb

CHURCHES Assemblies of God Church, Tel.

St. Joseph Church Tel. 624590. Church of the Annapolation Tel. Terrasanta Church Tel: 622366 Church of the Annuaciation Tel. Anglican Church Tel. 625383, Tel. 628543. Armenian Cutholic Church Tel. 771331. Armenian Orthodox Church Tel. 775261. St. Ephraim Church Tel. 771751, Amman International Church Tel. 685320 Evangelical Lutheran Church Tel: 811295. Rainbow Congregation Tel. 822505. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latteraints Tel. 815817, 821264

WEATHER

Bulletin supplied by the Department of Meteorology.

In the morning it will be clear and very cold. During the day it will be partly cloudy and another rise in temperature is expected. Winds will be nonhwesterly moderate. In Aqaba, winds will be nonherly moderate and

Amman
Agaba
Deserts	-1 / IC
Jordan Volley
Yesterday's high temperatures man 8, Aqaba 16, Humidity re Amman 63 per cent, Aqaba	: Amman & Anaha 16 Hamiding re-	adinas.
America 10, Humbury to	amilgo.
Amman os per ceni, Aquba	.90 per

USEFUL TELEPHONE NUMBERS NIGHT DUTY AMMAN:

Dr. Tayseer Khadr ... Dr. 'Abbas Al Hakim 777751 625778 Dr. Hani Haddadin Dr. Fakher Balbisi Firas pharmacy ... 778336 Nauroukh pharmacy 623672 636730 644945 637660

Dr. Fawwaz Al Moamani Al Sharaa' pharmacy 982799

EMERGENCIES

Civil Defence Department	111100
Civil Defence Immediate
Recens	630341
Civil Defence Emergency	199
Rescue Police 192, 621111.	637777
Fire Brigade 62	1090/93
Blood Bank	775121
Highway Police	943407
Traffic Police	10/101
Trank Police	270:1
Public Security Department
656000 /	095111

totel Complaints	605800
rice Complaints	661176
Water and Sewerage
Vater and Sewerage Complaints	897467
Complaints	_
Complaints	787) ti
Telephone Information
(directory assistance)	12
Overseas Calls	17
Central Amman Telephone
Repairs	623101
Repairs Abdali Telephone Repairs	661101
ordan i cievision	//JIII
Radio Jordan	774111
Water Authority	680100
fordan Electricity Authority	815615
Flectric Prover
Company	636381
Company	8-53200
Durcen Alia Intl. Airpon 0	8-52000

HOSPITALS

AMMAN:
Hussein Medical Centre	813813/3
Khalidi Maternity, J. Amn.	644281/
Akileh Maternity, J. Amn.,	642441/
Jabal Amman Maternity	64236
Malhas, J. Amman	636]4
Palestine, Shmeisani	664171/
Shmeisani Hospital	66913
University Hospital	84584
Al-Munsher Hospital	667227/
The Islamic, Abdali	666127/3
Al-Ahli, Abdali	664164/

0	Qalian, Al-Muhajicen 777101/3
6	Al-Bashir, J. Ashrafieh 775111/26
	Army, Marka 891611/15
7	Queen Alia Hospital 602240/50
	Amal Hospital 674155
1	ZAROA:
	Zarna Govt. Hospital (09)983323
2	Zarga National Hospital (09)991071
2	Ibn Sina Hospital (09)966732
	IRBID:
ı	Princess Basma Hospital 102)275555
ī	Greek Catholic Hospital (02)272275
	Ibn Al Nafecs Hospital (021247100
t L	AOABA:
ò	Princess Haya Hospital (03)314111
š	Princess riaya ricopital (00)/14/11
•
1

MARKET PRICES

Apple	480 / 4
Banana	350 / 3
Bagana [Mukammar]	300 / 3
Beans	600 / 5
Broad beans	750 / 6
Cabbage	130 / 1
	200 / 1
Cucumbers	480 / 4
Dates	600 / 5
Eggplant [large]	1207
Eggplant (small)	[N) / [
Garlic
Grapelruit	160 / 1

Marrow (large)	200 / 1
Marrow (small)	340 / 3
Jrange (French)	350 / 3/
Orange (Shammouli)	340 / 2
Frange (local)	740 / 70
Onion (dry)	200 / 14
repper (hot)	400 / W
'cppcr [sweet]	400 / 3
Polato	740 / 70
Pinach	130 / 16
viandann	220 / 12
Tomatoes	230 / 15

FOR FRIDAY

12:20

13:20 15:15

PROGRAMME ON 11:20

JORDAN TELEVISION

Tel: 773\11-19

NE
Koran	F
hildren programme eligious programme
Friday's prayer	05:10
cligious programme Religious seminar	06:31 11.47
. Sports programme	14:38
The world around us Feature film	17:02 18:23
reasure nim	., چی.

29:00 20:30 21:10 Charles in Charge Thin Air ... News in English . Palcon Crest PRAYER TIMES

Message from Omar

Local programm

Programme review News in Arabic

Local programme

Children cartoon

News in French

.. Росипентат

News in Hebrew

French feature film

Local program News summary in Arabic Programme (contd.)

.... Arabic series

...... News summary in Arabic

Tabbaa, Watanabe discuss joint venture for joint Jotdanian-Japanese production of readymade clothes for export. The Jordan News Agency. Petra, said the possibility of setting up a joint venture in Jotdan's free zone area was discussed.

Petra said the ambassador and the minister reviewed other areas of cooperation which would be implemented through the help of Japanese firms in Jordan, and discussed visits by Japanese investors and businessmen to the Kingdom to assess its economic and industrial potentials.

Tabbaa and Watanabe, the ageocy said, reviewed the outcome of His Royal Highness Crown Prince Hassan's visit to Japan last year when he discussed Jordanian-Japanese cooperation.

In October 1987, Japan announced a $300 million soft loan to Jordao to help the Kingdom carry out economic development projects as part of a package of Japanese assistance tor countries in the region.

In a recent interview with the Jordan Times, Waranabe said Prince Hassan's visit to Japan helped increase bilateral cooperation. He also referred to a visit to mic and trade ties,

AMMAN (J.T.) - The Joint

Jordanian-Egyptian Higher

Committee will meet in Cairo

Jan. 27 under the co-chair-

mansbip of Prime Minister

Zaid Rifai and his Egyptian

The committee will discuss progress in joint economic projects and assess the integration process between Jordan and

Egypt in economic, information, cultural, agricultural and

The committee last met in

Amman in January 1988 and decided to raise to $350 million counterpart Atef Sidki.

industrial fields.

Shultz z

and dete-ryspone. that his ir neular n

human net

i that Age

c. was set

$3 billion of any

the order

an rights &

3000 of La

District gr

: There

the saw nyhwas watety w

and the long

WAR 122

- 1 upper

1.500

National

Sudan

2 11 11 1 A

i shortan

rates applica-

1.00

11 SHBM 7-

11.11.120

V.525

ego: 12 S

market 6 19 19 19 F

Control of the $\propto_{\rm CC} m^{1/4}$ dan 🗝 🎉

is differed

 $\prod_{i \in \mathcal{I}} \mathbb{R}^{n}$

1000 engline engline engline engline

 $t_{M,\Lambda^{\rm top}}$

5 5 B

fin est [] 🍨

AMMAN (J.T.) - Minister of Jordan in November last year hy Industry and Trade Hamdi Tab- a delegation representing C. Itoh hau and Japan's Amhassador to and Company, one of the six Jordan Makoto Watanabe largest firms in Japan, and said it Wednesday discussed prospects was one of the results of a Jordanian-Japanese economic seminar held in Japan during Prince Hassan's visit.

> C. Itoh and the Natural Resources Authority (NRA) signed a two-year agreement under which the company will conduct an oil prospecting programme in the eastern areas of Jordan.

> Following his talks with the ambassador. Tabbaa met with Mohammad Asfour, president of the Federation of Jordanian Chambers of Commerce (FJCC). and discussed means of encouraging investments in the Kingdom and stimulating trade.

He reviewed ways by which Jordanian products can be marketed abroad through foreign

Cooperation with Italy

Tabbaa later received Italian Ambassador to Jordan Francesco de Curten and discussed with him Jordanian-Italian economic and trade relations.

Petra said the two sides also looked into prospects for setting up a joint committee to be charged with promoting econo-

the volume of trade between the two countries during 1989,

and finalised a $250 million

"The two sides also agreed on specific measures to promote cooperation in health, manpower, information, trade, finishing touches to an agreement to launch a livestock production project through the

this week that the company would begin with an annual

The company's director said

The committee also put the economy and industry.

joint holding company.

trade agreement for 1988.

Joint Jordan-Egypt committee to meet Jan. 27

Arbor Day at Naour

MINISTER of Awqaf and Islamie Affairs Abdul Aziz Al Khayyat Wednesday plants a sapling during Arbor Day ceremonies held at a plot of land owned by the Ministry of Awqaf in Naour district, west of Amman. The minister said the site was part of a 120-dunum plot owned by the ministry and it would be planted with 5,000 saplings during the current agricultural season. Other Arbor Day celebrations organised by the Greater Amman Municipality took place at Marka and Naser Districts Wednesday (Petra photo)

Chechen delegation, RSS, HCST discuss cooperation

Soviet institute to test Jordan's shale for oil

AMMAN (J.T.) — A petroleum research institute in the Soviet Chechen Ingush autonomous republic will process shale rock found in Jordan to assess prospects for extracting oil from the rock.

The Jordan News Agency, Pet- Council for Science and Technolra, said agreement that Jordan ogy (HCST) and the RSS. would send a sample consignment of the rock to the institute came during a meeting held Wednes-day between Royal Scientific Society (RSS) President Jawad Al Anani and a visiting delegation from the institute. An RSS team will take part in oil shale research at the institute, the agency added.

Shale rock is found in abundance in the Lejjoun area in southern Jordan and Natural Resources Authority (NRA) officials estimate the deposits at about 13 billion tonnes. The delegation from the Petroleum Research Institute is on a week-long visit to Jordan to dis-cuss cooperation with the Higher use of grease oil and minerals, Haji added.

personnel, Haji said.

Royal Scientific Society President Jawad Al Anani (second from right) and RSS officials Wednesday meet with a delegation representing a in another meeting held Wednesday, the delegation head, Dr. Salam Bck Haji, told HCST Secretary-General Adnan Badran that the institute was ready to provide expertise and training to personnel from Jordanian institutions, including the HCST. The institute conducts wide research on work related to oil refinertes and installations as well as trains

The institute had concluded agteements with Japan and the United States to conduct joint research work and has special units to study oil products, with particular attention to the wide

Soviet petroleum research institute (Petra photo) Badran welcomed the guests and the Jordan Petroleum Refin-

and expressed hope that the ery Company. meetings would result in wider scopes of cooperation.

The team arrived in Amman Tuesday evening to work out with specialists from the HCST a detailed executive programme for ao agreement on cooperation with the RSS's Chemical Industries Department.

the way for bilateral cooperation in oil research fields.

the Natural Resources Authority ducts,

The RSS's Chemical Industries Department conducts scientific research and studies, offers consultations concerning paints, lubricants and other petroleum producis and provides advanced services to the industry.

The department also conducts The agreement was signed research on raw inorganic mateseveral months ago in the rials, particularly those used in Chechen Ingush Republic to pave industries and products, and on raw materials used in ceramic and glass industries with the aim of The team will also meet with offi-cials from Jordanian universities, kinds and upgrading final pro-

Iraq to continue exports of oil products via Agaba

Ramadan, Haj Hassan review land transport operations

BAGHDAD (Petra) - Iraqi First Deputy Ptime Minister Taha Yassin Ramadan met in Baghdad Wednesday with Minister of Transport and Telecommunications Khaled Al Haj Hassan and teviewed progress of the Iraqi-Jordanian Land Transport

Company's (IJLTC) operations. Also reviewed were Jordanian-Iraqi cooperation in transport and communications in general and the outcome of a meeting of the IJLTC general assembly which concluded in Baghdad

Haj Hassan earliet met with his Iraqi counterpart Mohammad Zuhaidi to discuss Iraq's exports of refined oil products through Aqaba. The Iraqi minister said that his country would continue tevenues for the year 1988 to export oil products through amounted to JD 15,860,000 while

Agaba but would stop exporting expenditure totalled JD crude oil through the Red Sea

IJLTC figures

Haj Hassan and Zubaidi Tuesday chaired the LILTC meeting which reviewed the company's plan of operations for the year 1989 and approved the company's estimated budget for the same

The company's estimated revenues for the year 1989 are JD 17,418,000 while expenditures are estimated at JD 15,590,000.

The company's secretary general, Mahmoud Al Talhouni. who was also present at the meeting, said the company's gross

Talhouni said the company transported one and a half million tonnes of goods from Aqaba to Baghdad, in addition to 50,000 tonnes of Jordanian phosphates from the phosphate mines to Agaba port during the year 1988.

Since its establishment in 1981, Talhouni said, the company transported 7,660,000 tonnes of goods to Iraq - 25 pet cent of the goods shipped to Iraq through Agaba port.

Later Tuesday Haj Hassan discussed with Zubaidi bilateral cooperation and the issues pertaining to the implementation of the Joint Higher Jordanian-Iraqi

Taha Yassin Ramadan

Committee's decisions in the field of transport and telecommunica-

Labour inspection

ROYAL DECREE: A Royal Decree was issued Wednesday endorsing an amendment to the Income Tax Law. The decree defined the petcentage of tax levied on doubtful loans at banks, financial companies, and specialised credit institutions. (Petra)

NATIONAL NEWS IN BRIEF

OMANI MINUTES ENDORSED: The Cabinet Wednesday endorsed the minutes of the Joint Jotdanian-Omani Ministerial Committee meetings held in Muscat early January. The minutes include adoption of a number of measures to develop and reinforce bilateral economic and trade relations. The Cabinet also endorsed the appointment of Khalifeh Al Smadi as mayor of Anjata in Ajloun district. (Petra)

IFAD MEETING: Planning Minister Tahet Kanaan and the secretary general of the agriculture ministry will represent Jordan to the 12th session of the International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD) council of governors to be held in Rome Tuesday.

BRITISH CONTRIBUTION: The British embassy has made a contribution of JD 2,145 to the Palestine Hospital in Amman to help it purchase a baby incubator from the United Kingdom. Mr. Malcolm Ives, development secretary at the embassy, handed over the donation to the bospital management this week. (J.T.)

opened at the Sports City Tuesday. The championship is the first activity of a new squash committee for 1989 formed by Sports City Director Marwan Khait. The committee, which is chaired by Abdul Ra'ouf Saad, groups six members, all known squash players. (J.T.) BAHOU VISITS GULF: Alex Bahou, director of the Al Sayyad

SQUASH CHAMPIONSHIP: A squash open championship

Press Establishment's commercial department, leaves Amman Thursday on a Gulf tour. Bahou is to spend a month on his tour that will include Saudi Arabia. EDUCATIONALIST VISITS LONDON: Jordanian educationalist

Bassem Barakat leaves Amman for Londoo Wednesday on a several-day visit related to his Rawdat Al Maarif College and schools educational project. (J.T.)

WHAT'S GOING ON

The following listings are compiled from monthly bulletins and the daily Arabic press. Readers are advised to verify the listed time and place with the concerned institutions.

EXHIBITIONS

☆ An exhibition of works by Contemporary Arab Artists at Al Wasiti Art Gallery.

The Iraqi Cultural Week which includes an exhibition by the Iraqi artist Salam Al Madamgheb and an exhibition of children's paintings and children's literary and cultural books, at the Royal Cultural Centre.

☆ An exhibition of photos and videos on "La Defense", a new district in Paris which became a symbol of architectural creativity, at the French Cultural Centre.

☆ An exhibition of caricatures by Jordanian artist Sa'id Haddadin at the Soviet Cultural Centre. An exhibition of decorations and Arabic orthography on mirrors by Ghada Al Khatib at the Royal Cultural Centre. ☆ An art exhibition by Egyptian artist Yassin Ibrahim Mohammad at the Housing Bank Gallery.

THEATRE

* Theatrical portraits of a selection of literary writings entitled "Shades of Eve" at the Royal Cultural Centre — 8:00 p.m.

A feature film entitled "A Soldier's Story" at the American Centre — 7:00 p.m.

BUSH INAUGURATION

Live television coverage of the inauguration of President George Bush, taking place at noon in Washington, D.C. (7:00 p.m. Jordan local time), preceded by a show of Reagan's Jan. 12 farewell address and a profile of the new president - 5:30 p.m.

drive to continue

AMMAN (J.T.) - Labour Ministet Marwan Dudin Wednesday visited the Amman labout paign. office, which processes in-coming non-Jordanian workers to be employed in the Kingdom, and was production of 14,200 tonnes of lean meat and 20,800 heads of

The project, to be set up near Egypt's port city of Alexandria, will cost about $12 million and production is expected to start towards the end

Tabbaa to visit Cairo

It was announced here

Wednesday that Minister of

Industry and Trade Hamdi

Tabbaa will visit Egypt Monday for talks with his Egyptian counterpart on ways to bolster ed on the procedures. The minister emphasised the need to ensure that non-Jordanians are employed only on jobs for which no Jordanian is available, and that foreign workers must be employed in occupations for which they had been issued work permits. The minister voiced satisfac-tion with the outcome of a recent inspection campaign conducted by employment offices and said teams from the Ministry of Labour would maintain the cam-trade and steps to promote

The Jordan News Agency,

Petra, said Tabban, who will spend a week in Egypt, will head the Jordanian side to the meeting of the Jordanian-

Egyptian holding company to review past year's accomplish-

Petra said that during Tabbaa's visit the two countries will announce the start of work on a project for the production of animal feed in Egypt with a capital of 50 million Egyptian

ments and future projects.

economic integration.

working in the Kingdom renewed their work permits over the past Dudin said labour inspection

At least 30,000 non-Jordanians

teams would continue to visit companies and other organisations employing non-Jordanians to ensure that the ministry's laws and tegulations are not violated.

A recent report published here revealed that a total of 226,754 non-Jordanians were living in the country at the end of December

University of Jordan President Abdul Salam Al Majali (right) and Federation of Jordanian Chambers of Commerce Wednesday sign a University, FJCC sign cooperation agreement

AMMAN (Petra) — The University of Jotdan and the Federaversity will provide training facilition of Jordanian Chambers of Commerce (FJCC) Wednesday signed an agreement on cooperation in scientific research, exchange of information and expettise and training.

ties for personnel working for the federation.

The federation pledged to inform the University of Jordan of activities of the private sector in the Kingdom and those of other countries' federations.

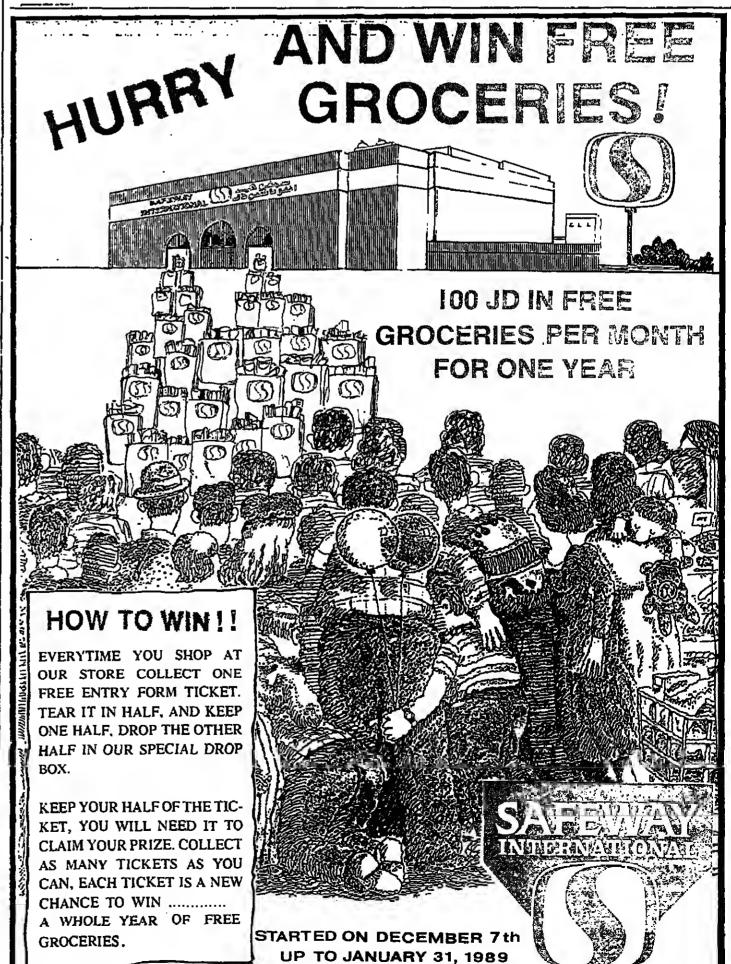

The two sides agreed to exchange of publications and The agreement was signed by University of Jordan President cooperate in organising confer-Abdul Salam Al Majalī and FJCC ences, seminars and lectures, President Mohammad Asfour. according to the agreement,

MEMORIAL SERVICE

A memorial service for the soul of our beloved

GABRIELE ASELMAN HASHWA will be held at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church at Um Ussumaq - Amman, on Friday, January 20, 1989, at 4 p.m.

The Aselmann and Hashwa families invite all friends and relatives to attend the service.

Jordan Times

يورس تليمز بومية عربية سيلسيه مستغلة نصدر بالانحليزية عن المؤسسة الصحعية الارينية

Editorial Director: RAKAN AL MAJALI Director General: DR. RADI AL WAQFI Editar-in-Chief: DR. WALEED M. SADI

Editorial and advertising offices: Jordan Press Foundatinn, University Road, P.O. Bux 6710, Animan, Jordan.

Telephones: 667171-6, 670141-4, 684311, 684366

Telex: 21497 ALRAI JO Facsimile: 661242

The Jordan Times is published daily except Fridays. Subscription and advertising rates are available from the Jordan Times Advertising Department.

A lesson to emulate

THE DOCUMENT on disarmament and human rights, formally endorsed Tuesday in Vienna by the foreign ministers of 35 member countries of the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe (CSCE), is rightly hailed as among the most significant achievements in international affairs since the end of World War II. The package deal struck between NATO and Warsaw Pact countries in their Vienna meeting over the past few days has set a new tone in East-West relations.

This milestone development must be the envy of other regions of the world which must be by now searching for ways and means to emplate the reign of reason and common sense that prevailed on the European theatre. The goodwill and understanding generated by such a giant leap forward in international relations among the developed nations of the world would surely bring pressure to bear on other countries to learn from this precedent and draw the necessary conclusions. Otherwise other states would be left far behind the process of positive developments in international relations that they could find themselves in some sort of intellectual and political cocoon from which they will not be able to liberate themselves. There is a clear message from all of this, especially to the Non-Aligned Movement which is currently engaged in some soul-searching about where it is

It should be alarming from the non-aligned countries point of view that at a time when they have rejected in their Cyprus meeting last week the reference to human rights issues as being relevant to the movement, NATO and Warsaw Pact countries did exactly the reverse by raising these human rights endeavours lond and clear as relevant to contemporary times. The juxtaposition of disarmament and human rights by even adversary blocs of countries serves notice on the rest of the international community that gone are the days when such matters can be swept under the rug. If the developing countries do not beed the advances registered at the East-West level, the gap between them and the developed world would get even more exasperated. More ominously, the intellectual gap between the developing and developed world could become even more unbridgeable than it already is.

ARABIC PRESS EDITORIALS

KING Hussein's directives to the Ministry of Youth on the need to promote the role and the activities of the Jordanian youth was the theme of an editorial in Wednesday's edition of Al Ra'i Arabic daily. The King was the first and staunchest supporter of youth activities in which he took active part, but the responsibility in developing the youth's activious and sports lies not only with the King and the government but rather with the youth themselves and all sectors of the community, said the paper. Of course, as the King said, the contribution of the youth towards the country's development is essential and therefore all possible means should be available to them to achieve that goal, the paper added. It is at the home where the youth grow and develop in the curly years of life; and it is therefore the place where the process of building up useful men for the future should begin, the paper said. The coming stage of construction, the paper concluded, requires determination and serious dedication on the part of the youth so that the country can achieve further progress.

A columnist in Al Ra'i daily welcomes the Iraqi government's moves to open the way for political parties to exercise their activities, describing them as a true facet of democracy. Political parties means accepting the views of all sectors and all groups, and a participation in the process of government - giving the political system more life and more guarantees for success, Mahmoud Rimawi asserts. Rimawi says that such moves, coming in the midst of a period of reconstruction and development following eight years of war indicate that the leadership in Baghdad seeks to gain the contribution of all sectors of the public regardless of their faith or hackground, and to provide full protection of the law for all citizens. The fact that changes are being made in the Iraqi constitution to absorb the new moves. reflects the leadership's determination of perpetuating this form of democracy not only to meet the requirements of the present stage, but also to maintain and perpetuate the change. Rimawi adds. Democracy he concludes will flourish in a country like Iraq which has had a long experience in the struggle against colonial rule and one whose land had served as a cradle of civilisations.

Al Dustour daily tackles prospects for a change in Washington's stand with regard to the Palestine question under George Bush's administration. The paper said that King Hussein's optimism about this prospect, as expressed in the Time magazine, is drawn from the fact that the present administration had finally decided To open a dialogue with the PLO, thus emoving a major block in the path of the coming government. The King's optimism is also due to the fact that Bush has a vast experience in foreign uffairs and is well informed about the Middle East situation, the paper said. In fact, the Arab World at large is optimistic about the coming administration's future policies with regard to the Middle East problem which continues to witness developments more than any other world issue. The Arahs, it said, sincerely hope that the Bush administration will take practical steps towards convening the proposed international conference which offers the best forum where a settlement can be reached.

Sawt Al Shaah daily says that the Ministry of Youth came into being for the sole reason of promoting the sports and other activities for the youth in the course of helping the young generation to serve their country. Commenting on King Hussein's visit to the ministry, the paper said his directives to the minister of youth Tuesday brings to mind the very important contributions to the youth movement initiated in the Kingdom by the late King Abdullah who created the scouts movement and engineered sports groups among other activities. It said that promoting the capabilities and skills of the young should remain an integral part of the whole process uf development.

Something is cooking

By P.V. Vivekanand

IT COMES as no surprise that the Israeli embassy in London has reported receiving a parcel bomb at a time when the Bridsh government is taking a lead in efforts for peace in the Middle East through initiating bigh-level contacts with the Palestine Liberation Organisation (PLO). The clinch came when Scotland Yard was called in to disarm the "small device", with all the media publicity the incident could get, while the Israeli government kept a very pointed silence, as if to leave it to the world, particularly the Britons, to decide who could have been the culprit. A beautiful diplomatic masterstroke, but it appears to have falleo short of its mark since even the leaders of the Conservative Friends of Israel were unimpressed. If anything, the trend was summed up by Robert Rhodes James, a Conservative member of parliament and leader of the Friends of Israel, who found it fit only to comment that he and many other penple were concerned by the Israeli government's "completely negative" response to peace overtures by the PLO.

For once, realities are coming into focus in the international scene and many leaders have gathered enough courage to tear down the Israeli-designed veil and openly speak out against Israel's intransigence and refusal to accept the inevitability of addressing the legitimate rights of the Palestinian people. The bold stand taken by the British government is evident in Foreign Secretary Sir Genffrey Howe's calls on the Israeli government to respond positively to the new Palestinian peace strategy and Foreign Office Minister William Waldegrave's meeting with PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat last week and his pointed reference to the terrorist past of today's Israeli leaders in comparison with their stale contentions over the PLO and "terrorism."

In any event, there is little doubt that Britain has indeed assumed a prominent role in efforts for peace in the Middle East. For once, British leaders are talking realistically in the context of the Palestinian problem and seem determined to exert the best of their efforts to push for a settlement of the conflict, which their forefathers belped create.

Imagination has very little to do with seeing Israel's own hands at work behind the parcel bomb that very conveniently reached the Israeli embassy Monday, the same day Waldegrave returned to London after his landmark meeting with Arafat in Tunis. For ooe thing, the bomb assumed as much prominence in the British media as did Waldegrave's trip and his comments. No doubt, Israel bargained for more but was disappointed.

One cannot see the parcel-bomb episode in isolation from the Dec. 21 bombing of a Pan Am airliner and Israeli assertions that one or another Palestinian group was responsible for it. Israeli strategists appear to have reversed tactics, having realised that Arafat's pronouocements have gained wide internacional acclaim and the world community has accepted them as an unquestionable

landmark in the Palestinian quest for a just and comprehensive settlement to the problem. Obviously, the option available to the Israelis is to undermine Arafat's credibility and influence as the unquestioned representative of the Palestinian people and his ability to restrain splinter Palestinian groups from resorting to armed violence. The stalling tactics that Israel is resorting to could only be aimed at manoeuvring moderate Palestinians groups as well as individuals - into frustration over oo gains from the truce and hardliners into believing that Arafat is gaining ground on the diplomatic front with his peace campaign based on a two-state solution.

So, what appears to be a crosswire in Israeli signals along the line is not surprising either. The Israeli official in charge of "operations" in Lebanon says that the PLO has not conducted any "infiltration" attempts or attacks on Israeli targets since that fateful day eight weeks ago in Geneva when Arafat renounced "terrorism" and accepted Israel's existence. Ao acknowledgement of a halt in resistance attack by mainstream PLO factions across the Lebanese border would appear to be the last thing one could expect from Israel at this point in time. Something is cooking indeed, and the smell of it is not very nice either.

The writer is the political editor of the Jordan Times.

Palestinian Popular Army on the march in West Bank

By Paul Taylor

NABLUS, West Bank - Armed with knives, swords and hatchets. their faces masked by chequered headdresses, the future soldiers of Palestine are on the march.

Activists spearheading a yearold uprising against Israeli occupation have taken to staging para-military parades in defiance of the army in Nablus's old city and in some remote West Bank

Nationalist leaders say the selfstyled Palestine Popular Army is so far more for show than for

We hope some day it may be the nucleus of a liberation army but this a dream," says Nablus businessman Said Kenaan, a prominent PLO supporter, "For now it's mainly for propaganda. It raises the morale of the

Israeli defence officials claim the force's main purpose is to terrorise fellow Palestinians into obeying the dictates of the Uni-fied Leadership of the Uprising, backed by the Palestine Liberation Organisation.

It began last August when hundreds of youths in keffiyeh headdresses, their clothes covered in black plastic garbage bags, staged a ramshackle march with outlawed Palestinian flags through the Nablus casbah (market). "It was a really emotional experience to see young people carrying our national colours. People wept in the street," said Umm Jawad, 60, a mother of

Gradually the force assumed real power in the alley-ways of the casbah, where Israeli soldiers are vulnerable to ambushes from Palestinian militants on rooftops, in doorways and around every The "army" grew out of the so-called shock committees or striking forces which enforce strikes, clash with troops, attack Arabs accused of collaborating with Israeli secret police and implement orders of clandestine locpopular committees. The army is made up of elite guys from the strike forces, whose main job is internal discipline. The army also has a duty of resistance." said Ibrahim, one of its organisers in Nahlus.

Residents say it levies its own "revolutionary" tax of $25 a month from merchants in exchange for protection from Israeli tax collectors, who are often accompanied by troops.

Twice recently when the Israelis staged tax raids, groups of young militants rushed into the streets and began stoning the military escort, forcing the officials to retreat.

The Nablus "army" has banned the sale of alcohol and drugs in the casbah and helps run a popular justice system that deals with colluborators, thieves, moral delinquents and civil disputes. Several accused collaborators have been stabbed or beaten to death in Nablus. The popular courts have filled

a gap left when hundreds of Palestinian policemen resigned from the Israeli police force on orders from the uprising leadership last year, leaving no one to deal with crime and family disputes

The "army" has also cracked down on prostitution and gambling, residents say. Palestinians involved in the system say respected older nationalist figures serve on panels of three Young "soldiers" conduct interrogations, in some cases beat suspects and warn offenders to mend their ways, Ibrahim said. Sanctions range from private warnings, to public warnings in leaflets and graffiti. to "a whole range of physical punishments against individuals or their property, such as burning the cars or stores of serious offenders." he

Nowadays the Nablus "army" sports military-style uniforms, boots and insignia, with units of 15 to 20 shebab (youths) mar-

In the village of Yatta, neur Hebron, a Reuter reporter witnessed one such unit using walkic-talkies to coordinate a clash with troops in October.

Israeli troops this month found bundles of hlack uniforms. swords and flags in a raid on an old bath-house in the casbah, local residents reported. One day last week, a group of three masked Palestinians in red and green track-suit uniforms one carrying a megaphone, one an iron bar and one a Palestinian flag - stopped on corners to read the latest proclamations of the local popular committee. 'Cars must not be parked in the casbah. All stalls must be off the streets by 12 noon to respect the commercial strike," the megaphone-man said.

Most shoppers walked on in seeming indifference, apparently no longer surprised by the sight. Some of the early parades appeared to be staged partly for graphers and television crews. The Israeli army was so angry at the filming by French television of a march on the day PLO leaders declared a Palestinian state last November that it blew up the home of an Arab accused of organising the event. He has not been tried or convicted of any 京本を行きるがよう

¿cous:

me que con

- Jeche li

🕽 ans la

The Popular Army does not carry firearms and has not sought mass confrontations with Israeli offence

Palestine Liberation Organisation leaders say they have placed the "army" under the command of Force-17, a PLO force.

But while some Palestinians say the West Bank force receives orders from outside, many say it is a much more local, patchy organisation with no central com-

"We're talking about something very fragmentary. We shouldn't exaggerate their role," said Bir Zeit university poliocal scientist Ziad Abu Amer.

Transition brings signs of change in Japan

By David Thurber The Associated Press

TOKYO - With the ascension of a new emperor, many Japanese entered a new era - including a chance for more openness in the imperial system itself.

While mourning the Jan. 7 death of 87-year-old Emperor Hirohito, many people heaved a quiet sigh of relief at the closing of bis turbulent era and the smooth transition to his son, Akihito, whose reign has been named heisei, or "achieving peace."

Hirohito's 62-year reign spanned the depression of the 1930s. the disastrous rise of Japanese militarism and the nation's almost-miraculous reconstruction after World War II.

While some stores removeed their decorations and turned off advertising signs for two days after his death, for most people - prepared by his extended illness - it was business as usual and a historic turning point rather than a traumatic loss.

Until Hirohito renounced his divinity after the war, emperors were regarded as living gods. Polls in recent years showed that a small minority of Japanese still considered him one.

In contrast, Akihito is seen as a very ordinary person - a development that some welcome and others regret.

'Hirohito represented the darker side of Japanese history," said Gregory Clark, professor of Japanese studies at Tokyo's Sophia University. "With the appearance of a new emperor. can see it particularly in the stock a sense of Japanese racial and to other areas."

In its first three days after Hirohito's death, the Tokyo stock exchange's main index leaped 933.91 points, or 3.1 per cent.

More 'human'

Despite fears expressed by some that rightists would use Hirohito's death to boost the power of the imperial system, Akthito quickly signalled be would be a more "human" more public view of Japan's imperial family.

In his first public statement, Akihito wore a plain Western morning suit and spoke in straightforward language instead of the classic Chinese-style chokugo used by his father on the same occasion in 1926. The speech and some other transitioo rites, held privately in the past, now face a new emperor who were broadcast on television. Akihito, 55, pledged he would try to "constantly be at one with the people" and join with them 'to preserve the constitution of

Some observers interpreted that as a message to the ruling Liberal Democratic Party and others who have called for change in the country's basic law, telling them not to tamper with Japan's postwar constitution, which renounces war and gives the emperor no real political power.

"Normally a Japanese monarch would not take such a political position," Clark said.

Although the emperor has little direct poliocal power, he will have a deep ability, as Japan's first fully post-divine emperor, to forge the future of the imperial insotution and its place in society.

Cabinet decisions about the transition raised more questions than they answered about relations between the government and the imperial system, which there's a fresh start going oo. You officials used in the past to foster market, and I think it will spread cultural uniqueness and rally support for invading much of Asia duriog World War II.

Opposition parties criticised the government's decision to sponsor portions of Hirohito's Feb. 24 funeral and two other transioon rites linked to the Shinto religion, which they said might violate the constituooo's separation of religion and state.

The Shinto origin of the rites emphasises the close ties between the oature-based former state religion and the emperor, who emperor and perhaps allow a according to myth is a direct decendent of the sun goddess. Polls show most Japanese continue to support the current imperial system, which defines the emperor as the "symbol of the state and the unity of the people," but not as head of state. Rightists who wish to restore the emperor's divinity and increase his role as spiritual leader

"will never become a living god because he is too human," said Kenichiro Sembon, senior editor of Asahi journal, a leading liberal newsweekly.

Ordinary person

"Why should such a ordinary person become an emperor? Now is a good time for us to start thinking about that, and about all aspects of the imperial system, including whether we need the system at all," Sembon said.

Clark added: "I wonder whether the ultra-nationalists will be able to maintain their interest in a pacifist emperor. In the past, they could say be represented their interests, but now that seems less likely."

Both leftist and rightist groups identify the imperial system with Japanese militarism and nationalism.

"What I fear is that an emperor without Hirohito's popularity might cause the imperial system to become more remote from the people, and rightists might use force to try 10 bring the system back into prominence," said a senior ruling party politician, who spoke on condition of anonymity.

Several families who protested government-mandated school memorials to Hirohito by keeping their children at bome reported receiving death threats.

Akibito already has sent a breath of fresh air into the conservative and secretive imperial household agency, which over-sees the imperial family's affairs. Unlike Hirohito, who was tutored by war heros selected by chamberlains, Akihito studied with ordinary students, and was tutored by an American pacifist, Elizabeth Gray Vining, who reportedly instilled in him a sense of the equality of all people.

Akihito also is Japan's first monarch to select his own wife, Empress Michiko, a commoner. The couple raised their three children themselves, ending the imperial practice of separating children from their parents at a

Although Japao's news media raised some questions about Hirohito's war responsibility after bis death, editors said full freedom of the press regarding the imperial family will depend on lifting the veil of secrecy has surrounded it.

'Reforming the imperial household agency is the most serious problem facing the oew emperor," said Takeshi Maezawa, ombudsman of the conservative Yomiuri Shimbun, Japan's largest newspaper.

No early plans for moves on Mideast peace

the benefit of foreign photo-

Bush likely to make subtle foreign policy shifts

By Michael Gelb

WASHINGTON - George Bush is likely to take a businesslike approach to foreign issues and steer clear of grand designs when he takes over from Ronald Reagan as U.S. President on Friday. His likely foreign policy attitude is suggested by his choice of advisers, his restrained reaction to peace overtures by Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev and PLO Chairman Yasser Arafat. and his own words. "Bush's style will be less flamboyant than Reagan's." predicts former White House national security aide Helmut Sonnenfeldt. "There will be no talk of 'evil empires', nor will there be as much embracine of Gorbachev. Foreign policy will be less of a roller coaster. Reagan entered office by accusing Soviet leaders of lying and cheating in pursuit of national goals, but seemed to regard Gorbachev as a fellow visionary on the road to a nuclear-free

Bush has repeatedly cautioned igainst placing too much faith in Moscow.

"Perhaps what is happening vill change our world forever. Perhaps not. A prudent sceptic-ism is in order." Bush said of Gorbaehev's reform efforis. when he accepted the Republican Party's presidential nomination last August.

in a foreign policy address the week before the November 8 election. Bush said: The oval office requires an unflashy good judgment... I'm no mystic and my leadership will not be the most charismatic. But I'm

And in discussing his own style not sure we need a lot of razzle dazzle. There's prohably enough drama in the world already." When Gorhachev captured headlines by announcing a unilateral cut of 500,000 in Soviet making an arms reduction proptroop levels. Bush reacted mildly. He stressed that Moscow would the reduction.

for an early summit meeting with the basic choices we have to make his Soviet counterpart and res- on arms systems before moving tated his position that such a ahead on START. meeting be preceded by talks with the NATO allies and con-Reagan's performance at the sultations between Suviet Foreign 1986 Reykjavik summit at which Minister Eduard Shevardnadze the president and Gorbachev

James Baker. The choice of Baker suggests a non-flashy approach to foreign policy issues. Baker, a former treasury secretary, has a longstanding preference for backroom negotiating rather than working in the spotlight. The selection of Brent Scowcroft as Bush's national security adviser may mean less enthusiasm for a pact to cut long-range nuclear missiles.

On a number of occasions in recent years Scowcroft, who was also President Gerald Ford's national security adviser, has criticised the Reagan administration for an emotional commitment to arms reduction without regard to its impact on the relative nuclear arsenals of the super-

"The administration seems committed to measures in the fast-moving strategic arms negotialions (START or strategic arms reduction talks) that could decrease stability and damage our allies' confidence in our deterhe wrote in December 1987 in a joint article with former Carter administration defence aide James Woolsey.

In another joint paper published just prior to Scowcroft's appointment as national security adviser, the two men said the new administration would have to set its own weapons priorities before osal to Moscow.

Bush has promised a full reretain an advantage in conven-view of U.S. strategic policy and tional military forces even after one senior foreign policy and told Reuters that "he wants his He said he felt no new pressure team to make an assessment of Scoweroft was also critical of and Secretary of State-designate nearly agreed to wipe out their countries' long-range weapons. "If we actually do have a strategic concept that brings order to all the disparate actions and proposals of the administration, of which Reykjavik is a prime example, it would be reassuring to know what it is," he said in 1987.

Bush advisers say the new president will work far more closely with the NATO allies, who often bristled at what they regarded as inadequate consultation about policies that affected their security.

Many foreign experts say Bush may push for faster action against. chemical warfare, a favonrite campaign theme, to offset any public concern about a slowdown in nuclear arms talks. The president-elect has also stressed the importance of the Pacific countries and his first foreign trip, a visit to Japan for the funeral of Emperor Hirohito in late February, is almost certain to include talks with America's Asian allies. In a bid for a less confronta-tional relationship with Congress. Baker has passed the word that the new administration does not plan any immediate request for further U.S. military aid to the contra rebels in Nicaragua. There are no apparent plans for any early moves toward advancing the Middle East peace Asked recently if he would consider a peace mission to that region. Bush told reporters he would "get back on that plane right now and go" if he thought it would help. But he quickly added that considerable policy review would be needed before such a mission could be considered. Lawrence Eagleburger, Bush's choice as undersecretary of state, wrote in a recent article that "the (Middle East) situation is not now, and will not for some time, be ripe for new major peace initiatives on the part of the United States." Another senior foreign policy adviser, who asked not to be identified, said Reagan's decision to talk to the Palestine Liberation Organisation did not mean a breakthrough was near. "By itself it doesn't mean you are close to negotiations, you're not." he said, citing the refusal of the Israeli government to talk to the PLO, and the condnued uprising in the occupied West Bank and Gaza.

--in de y. 200

1.00

a ctiqu

Wire. S PORT 4 id One ary enlan ₹a son (ı indicate. 1 57.3 F alle hor-school hor-and hor-and hor-and hor-

an dis

A COUNTY OF THE PROPERTY OF TH

EN BREF

orchensa.

able to the nce as th

le and he

Souther of the control of the contro estins from 1 based on along the charge of moducied

vince that nowledge-chonned

) factions

thing one teching is either.

ing areas

each jeien

in do. Pla

i ale man

That it block and sected

ent He has

of closed or and $\psi = d_{\rm CNM, Big}$ with Israeli

i. Programa

Bette Stant

Command

Parallel F

for Change

Class Say

· · · Petita

11.00

:: !. N:

1927 6 42

30.00000

eace

N. 47.3

7 1,34 4

1...2 2507.00

a to make

"Jameste

11.5

January 194

 $p_{\rm s} = 2 \sqrt{80}$

 $g(\mathcal{H}_{\mathbf{a}}(W, \mathcal{H})) \cap$

V ...

 $\alpha_{\rm CC} \approx 2.0$

1. 1. SOUND 20

ay a grand

193 112

3.00

 $(p_{ij}) = (\frac{1}{2} e^{i \frac{\pi n \frac{2}{3}}{2}}$ onk 🏓

11 and 200

4 100

حلم بين

..... 1 1/2 1814

 $3 \ arc^{-1/2}$

 $_{ij}(\{1j,49\})$

100

 $\chi = 200$

175 1174

 $t \to t^{-1/2}$

 $\chi \approx 2.53$

4, K

1000

1.24 1. 520 1. madd

 $(-\infty)^{3/2N}$

1000000

 $_{\gamma_{n},\gamma_{n},\gamma_{n}^{\prime},\gamma_{n}^{\prime}}(q)$

(2).

 $(3e^{i\omega t^{2}})^{2}$

 $\exp(2\pi i t^2)$

41,445

er. Beet

 $(\mathbf{y}, \mathcal{X}^{\mathbf{y}, \mathcal{Y}})$

11.1

 $(a_{i,j})^{-1} = a_{i,j} \cdot b_{i,j}$

1. 1

ign við

 $\frac{\partial S_{ij}}{\partial S_{ij}} = \frac{\pi}{2}$

. . .

Liber.

NIN-A

 $m^{-1/2} \gamma^{-1}$

131 - 131 -

Hu de

77 AL

1000

Union électrique

La Jordanie, l'Egypte, la Syrie. l'Irak et la Turquie ont décidé mardi à Ankara de relier leurs réseaux électriques. Selon l'agence Petra, les cinq pays envisagent également de connecter leurs reseaux avec ceux d'Europe, via la Turquie. La Turquie est d'ores et dejà reliée à l'Irak, qui lui fournit une partie de son électricité, à la Bulgarie et à l'Union soviétique. Istanbul négocie également avec l'Italie une liaison via la Yougoslavie. Selon le ministre égyptien de l'energie. l'interconnection proche-orientale devrait par la suite se voir s'adjoindre l'Arabie saoudite, le Koweit et les Emirats, à l'instar du réseau européen mis en place dans les années 50.

Israël: Pérès désavoué

Le secrétaire général du parti travailliste, Ouzi Bar Am, a démissionné dimanche de son poste en raison de divergence avec la politique de Shimon Perès. "Le parti travailliste aurait dù réagir de manière positive et claire aux signes d'ouverture de l'OLP; l'entrée des travaillistes au cabinet de M. Shamir est un crachat au visage de nos électeurs". a-t-il déclaré. En marge de cette querelle, des mauvais indices pour l'économie israélienne: 16,4% d'inflation en 1988 (16,1 l'an dernier) et une baisse de la fréquentation touristique de 15% dans la même période.

Le saviez-vous?

Les sismologues israéliens esti-

Secousses dans la vallée

ment qu'un tremblement de terre d'une magnitude de 5 à 6 degrés sur l'echelle de Richter (qui va jusqu'a neuf) pourrait avoir lieu dans les procbains mots dans la valée du Jourdain, a rapporté dimanche le quotidien Haaretz, Un rapport en ce sens a ete transmis au ministère israélien de l'énergie et la question a été abordée dimanche au cours de la réunion hebdomadaire du gouvernement. Le ministre de l'énergie, a tenu à rassurer la population. "Il n'y a aucun danger immédait", a-t-il affirmé. Le Jourdain coule au fond de la faille syro-africaine, la plus profonde dépression du globe terrestre (jusqu'à 400 mètres au dessous du la Mer Morte), une région propice aux secousses telluriques. Il y a quelques semaines, deux secousses telluriques de faible magnitude (4,5) ont été energistrees dans la vallée du Jourdain, au Sud du lac de Tibériade.

Vous écrivez?

Le Jourdain recherche des collaborateurs en free-lance, avec idées originales d'enquêtes et repollages. Ducroux. Jordan Times, 667171.

Amal-Hezboliah: un duel sans merci pour le contrôle du Sud

150 morts en trois semaines

Liban: "bain de sang"

Une voiture piégée a explosé vendredi dernier dans la banlieve Sud de Beyroutth, tuant sept personnes et en blessant une quinzaine. L'explosion a eu lieu alors que des sympathisants chiites du Hezbollah pro-iranien manifestaient dans les rues pour protester contre l'offensive engagée par la milice chiite rivale, Amal, contre les derniers bastions du Hezbollah au Liban Sud.

Le village de Jubah, place forte du Hezbollah, au Sud de Saīda, est toujours encerclée par environ 1,500 miliciens d'Amal. Les combats ont fait au moins 140 morts depuis le ler janvier.

L'amorce d'un dialogue entre les plus hauts dignitaires ehiites du Liban pour arrêter ce "bain de sang" s'est heurté à l'intransigeance des deux protagonistes. Le Hezbollah lie un cessez-le-feu définitif à sa liberté d'action au Liban Sud, qui Amal a toujours jugée inaccepatble. Le mouvement avait extirpé ses rivaux en avril dernier de la majeure partie de ce secteur, et le Hezbollah souhaite y retourner en force pour mener la "guerre sainte" contre Israel.

Cheikh Fadlalah, chef spirituel du Hezbollab, a demande mercredi aux combattants des deux côtés "d'arrêter les combats et de s'asseoir à la même table pour trouver une issue au conflit".

De son côté. l'armée syrienne a affiche sa determination à ce que le conflit ne gagne pas la communauté chitte de la plaine centrale de la Bekaa: une unité d'élite syrienne s'est déployée dimanche à huit kilomètres de la "zone de securité" établie par Israel au Liban Sud, pour y démanteler les positions armées d'Amal et du hezbollah.

Un comité de la Ligue arabe

Un conseil ministériel extraordinaire de la Ligue arabe réuni le 12 janvier à Tunis a décidé de constituer une commission ministérielle de six membres et du Secrétaire général de la Ligue arabe, chargée de contribuer au règlement de la crise libanaise présidée par le Koweit, la commission comprend outre M. Chedli Klibi, le Soudan, a la Tunisie, l'Algerie, la Jordanie et les Emirats Arabes Unis.

Elle est chargée de prendre contact avec "toutes les parties libanaises" pour trouver un reglement à la crise et de proposer ses "bons offices" pour aider les libanais à réaliser "l'entente nationale".

Journée de l'Arbre

Pour une Jordanie verte

La Jordanie lance cette année une politique de conquête sur le désert dans l'est du pays, a-t-on appris dimanche lors de la célébration par le Rol Hussein de la Journée de l'arbre à Karaneh (70 km à l'Est d'Amman.)

Le Roi- après avoir lui-même planté un arbustre, a invité tous les Jordaniens à en faire autant, pour un Royaume vert. Sa Majesté a souligné que l'on avait commencé à planter des arbres il y a cinquante ans en Jordanie. Les plantations dans les régions semidésertique, comme le secteur de Karaneh, ont été lancées l'an dernier, lors d'une conférence sur le développement des régions désertiques, qui a appelé à faire de la Jordanie un pays vert en l'an

Un porte-parole du ministère de l'agriculture a indiqué que la Karaneh avait été choisi cette année pour illustrer la politique de plantations mise en vigueur dans l'Est du pays, région semi- culiers. (d'après J.T.)

désertique qui couvre 90% de la surface du Royaume. Selon le Secrétaire général du ministère de l'agriculture, Salem

Al Lawzi, 500 dunums de terre devaient être plantés dimanche

dans la région de Karaneb á l'occasion du Jour de l'Arbre. -En raison des très faibles précipitations dont souffre ce secteur, une technique spéciale de plantation a été adoptée: on couvre les couche de cailloux, afin de les protéger de la chaleur et de cooserver leur humidité.

Un total de cinq millions d'arbustres devaient être plantés cette année dans le Royaume durant les célébrations. Dans les régions orientales, on prévoit de planter pas loin moins de 250.000 dunums dans les cinq années à venir. Le ministère envisage de distribuer des jeunes pousses à l'armée, aux établissements publics, aux agriculteurs et aux partiUne semaine de contacts au Proche-Orient

L'Europe entre en lice

Tournée de Lord Plumb et d'une dèlégation du Counseil de l'Europe, visite du ministre espagnol des Affaires étrangéres à Tel Aviv, retrouvailles entre l'OLP et la Grande Bretagne visite du Secrétaire général de la Ligue arabe a Madrid: l'Europe est entrée cette semaine de plainnied dans le processus de paix au Proche-Orient. Reste qu' Israel continue à se dérober devant des négotiations avec l'OLP.

 Lord Plumb, président du Parlement curopéen, s'est entretenu a Amman avec le Roi Hussein et le premier ministre Zeid Rifaï les 12 et 13 janvier, après une rencontre à Jérusalem avec les responsables israéliens. Selon Lord Plumb, Israel "lance des ballons d'essai pour tester les réactions des autres partics". "Le premier ministre israelien n'a pas de plan de paix à proposer; il m'a dit clairement qu'il est juste en train de rassembler des idées, sans aucun engagement", a déclare Lord Plumb. Il a précise que Shamir "a clairement fait savoir qu'il ne s'assiérait pas avec Yasser Arafat", mais qu'il acceptait un dialogue avec des Palestiniens. a deux conditions: qu'ils soient résidents des territoires occupés et démocratiquement élus par les Palestiniens vivant en Cisjordanie et à Gaza. Mais par ailleurs, Shamir a affirmé qu' 'il n'y a pas de plan de paix sur la table". Tout en ccartant toute possibilité de pression de la part des pays

européens sur Israel pour l'amencr a souscrire aux conditions de la paix, Lord Plumb a indique que l'Europe (...) poursuivra son action afin de convaincre Israel" d'accepter la tenue d'une conférence internationale. Il a insisté sur l'urgence de négociations, estimant que la situation actuelle ne pouvait engendrer qu'une escalade de la violence dans les territoires occupés. De son côté, le Roi Hussein a souligne que le "conflict israélo-arabe n'a pas besoin d'une nouvelle initiative de paix" La paix "ne peut rester l'otage d'une partie qui continue dénoncer la légitimité internarionalle", a-t-ll estimé en re-cevant Lord Plumb. Ce dernier a indiqué que ses entretiens avec les responsables jordaniens ont etc "au-dela de toute attente", louant les "efforts continus" du Roi Hussein en vue d'un règlement négocié du problème palestinien. "La décision concer-nant la Cisjordanie a été un catalyseur", a-t-il dit, se référan a la rupture le 31 juillet des liens administratifs et légaux entre les deux rives du Jourdain. Par ailleurs, il a fait l'éloge de la reconnaissance par le CNP des resolutions 242 et 338 du Conseil de sécurité de l'ONU.

 Le ministre espagnol des Affaires étrangères et président du Conseil des ministres de l'Europe, Francisco Fernando Ordonez, a effecuté du 14 au 14 au 16 janvier une visite en Israël. M. Ordonez a indiqué qu'il ne venait pas proposer un nouveau

d Plumb à Amman: "Shamir n'a pas de plan'

plan de paix, mais pour "aider à présentant du CNP, Abdul resoudre le problème procheoriental. Aucune information n'a filtré de ses entretiens avec son homologue israélien. Moshe Arens. Il a également rencontré le ministre des finances Shimon Péres, qui a déclaré que des négociations de paix ne pouvaient avoir lieu tant que dure le soulèvement dans les territoires occupés. L'Espagne a établi ses relations diplomatiques avec Israel le 17 janvier 1986, après son entrée dans la CEE

• Le Secrétaire général de la Ligue arabe, Chedli Klibi, avait de son côté rencontré M. Ordonez, le roi Juan Carlos et le premier ministre Felipe Gonzalez le 13 janvier à Madrid. Soulignant que "l'Espagne est liée au monde arabe par des liens bistoriques et très étroits", il a estimé que le dialogue euro-arabe était indispensable ponr garantir la paix au Moyen-Orient et en Méditerrannée. "Le fait que les intérêts arabes et européens soient unis pour garantir la sécurité dans le bassin méditerranéen nous impose d'agir pour éliminer les causes de tension", a-t-il dit. Une délégation du Conseil de l'Europe, conduite par l'Espagnol Miguel Angel Martinez a effectué cette semaine une mission exploratoire au Caire, à Damas, en Israel et à Amman ou elle a notamment rencontré le re-

Hamid Al Sayeh. La Jordanie, l'Egypte, la Syrie, le CNP et Israel sont invités à une conférence parlementaire internationale à Strasbourg en juin. Un parlementaire européen s'est toutefois demandé "si les responsables israéliens vont accepter de participer à cette conférence, symbole de la conférence internationale qu'ils rejettent." • Le premier contact officiel entre la Grande Bretagne et l'OLP a eu lieu le 14 janvier à Tunis, aboutissant à une communauté de vues concernant la nature d'une conférence de paix au Proche-Orient, Le secrétaire d'Etat au Foreign Office, William Waldegrave, qui a rencontré Yasser Arafat, a qualifié l'entretien d'"occasion historique" et de "développement majeur dans la politique dela Grande Bretagne". "J'éspère que notre rencontre sera comprise par ceux qui en Israel veulent comprendre quelque chose, comme l'un des signes que le monde est en train de changer et que s'ils ne changent pas, ils seront laissés à la traine", a-t-il dit. Se référant á la genèse del'Etat d'Israel, il a fait valoir qu'Itzhak Shamir avait lui-même été un terroriste avant l'établisse-

La fin de l'ère Kissinger

En un mois, l'héritage figé légué par Henry Kissinger au Proche-Orient s'est disloqué, Ouvrant une voie à la négociation sans précédent depuis quarante ans.

L'ancien Secrétaire d'Etat, déterminé à parvenir à la paix aux seules conditions des Etats-Unis, avait élaboré dans les années 70 une stratégie de verrouillage: exclusion de l'OLP du processus de paix, division du camp arabe, mise à l'écart de l'Union sovétique et de l'Europe.

Signé avec Israel en 1975. l'engagement américain de ne reconnaître ni négocier" avec l'OLP tant qu'elle ne reconnaissait pas le droit d'Israël à exister (résolutions 242 et 338) et qu'elle ne renonçait pas au terrorisme, s'est évanoui le 15 décembre, avec l'ouverture d'un "dialogue substantiel" avec l'OLP.

La politique des "petits pas" de Kissinger avait divisé en 1979 l'Egypte et la Syrie, lors du traité de paix séparé israéloégyptien. Or, depuis quelque temps. Damas et Le Caire tendent à se réconcilier, en prévision d'une réintégration officielle de l'Egypte dans la communauté arabe.

ment d'institutions pacifiques, et que côté palestinien, on était pret

à franchir le même pas, (d'après

L'ONU est redevenue un pivot du déblocage au Proche-Orient: tous les Etats arabes appellent de leurs voeux à une conférence internationle sous son égide et même Shamir a prononcé cette semaine le mot tabou "ONU", même s'il n'envisage aucun rôle actif des Nations-Unies dans les négociations. Camp David est mort, Enfin, l'Europe et l'URSS sont entrés dans la danse. La CEE multiplie les contacts (cf. ci-dessus) et Moscou a déià oué un rôle essentiel dans l'évolution de l'OLP. La face du monde a changé.

"Salam-shalom"

Un premier débat indirect et public a eu tieu jeudi et vendredi à Paris, entre des députés israéliens et des représentants de l'OLP, à l'occasion d'un colloque organisé au Sénat sur le rôle de l'Europe dans la recherche de la paix au Proche-

Sans s'adresser officiellement la parole, en raison de la législation d'Israel qui interdit tout contact à ses ressortissants avec la centrale palestinienne, Israéliens et Palestiniens, assis sur la même rangée mais séparés par quelques invités, se sont succédés à la tribune.

Love Eliav, député, ancien secrétaire général du parti travailliste israélien, a plaidé pour un compromis qui ne peut etre atteint qu'avec la partie oppo-sée". "La partie adverse, c'est l'OLP", a-t-il ajouté. Il a préconisé la mise sur pied d'une confédération israélo-jordano-palestinienne, qui prendrait pour nom "Isfa-lour", premières syllabes en arabe d'Israel, de la Jordanie et de la palestine. Nabil Sbaath, président de la commission politique du CNP et auteur du rapport politique qui a abouti, à la proclamation de l'indépendance d'un Etat palestinien, a commencé son intervention par un salut de paix en hébreu et en arabe, Salam-shalom". "La survie des deux peuples est importante, et partant la survie du monde", a-t-il dit, assurant que le peuple palestinien n'envisageait pas de survie dans un ghetto". İl s'est prononcé pour "L'indépendance dans l'interdépendance", n'excluant pas "une confédération avec d'autres Etats arabes de la région". Il a assuré que les Palestiniens, en raison de leur histoire récente, sont "les plus aptes a fonder un etat démocralique", estimant que l'Europe et l'Union Sovietique auront un "rôle à jouer au stade de l'octroi des garanties au règlement de paix".

Paul Kassler, professeur au Collège de France, parlant "au nom des juifs de la diaspora de France, profondement attachés à Isroël", a déclaré que "la solidarité avec les forces de paix israéliennes et les Palestiniens qui souffrent est un imperatif moral categorique". "Îsraēl doit se libérer d'une occupation détestable, qui menace sa fibre morale et son avenir et qui pour les Palestiniens sera la fin d'un long cauchemar", a-t-il dit.

Yael Tamir, porte-parole de "Paix maintenant", a préconise qu'Israéliens et Palestiniens lancent en commun un appel pour "une journée non violente our la paix au Moyen-Orient" Shoulamit Aloni, députée et chef du Ratz (gauche israélienne), a estimé qu'il "fallait parler à l'OLP".

Dakar: victoire de Peugeot

Le Finlandais Ari Vatanen (Peugeot 405 turbo 16), en autos, et le Français Gilles Lalay (Rothmans Honda), dans la catégorie des motos, ont remporté, vendredi à Dakar, la 11-ème édition du rallye Paris-Dakar.

Ari Vatanen (36 ans), déjà vainqueur sur une Peugeot 205 turbo 16 en 1987, surnomme "Ari l'africain" pour ses nombreuses victoires dans les courses se disputant sur ce continent et ancien champion du monde des rallyes (1981), s'est imposé devant son coéquipier le Belge Jacky Ickx et le Français Patrick Tambay (Mitsubishi Pajero). Sur les 396 concurrents — 155 motos et 241 autos — Partis le 25

décembre de Paris, 164 seulement - 104 autos et 60 motos - ont pu atteindre Dakar à l'issue d'une course sélective et qui cette année n'aura souffert d'aucun accident grave. (agences)

FIGURE Mariages de raison

'Créer des mariages heureux'' entre la Jordanie et les détenteurs de technologie, tel est le but que s'est fixé Amine Badreddine, 28 aus, président du Jordan Tech-nology Group (JTG), Créé en septembre. Les pays industrialisés apportent leur savoir-faire technologique, la Jordanie ses hommes (cadres qualifiés, maind'oeuvre bon marché) et son rayonnement (connaissance des marchés régionaux, surtout du Golfe). Pour les firmes étrangères, l'avantage consiste à rapprocher leurs sites de production des marchès du Moyen-Orient. Pour la Jordanie, des emplois et une activité commerciale accrue.

Mais il ne s'agit pas de transformer le pays en un vulgaire "site d'assemblage". M. Badreddine insiste sur la notion de transfert de technologie: "C'est avant tout l'oceasion pour les eapitaux locaux de s'investir et de fructifier, dans des activités adaptées au pays", souligne-t-il. De fait, les projets de "co-production" associent des capitaux étrangers et jordaniens. Parmi les six projets déja mis en branle, une usine d'assemblage d'hélicoptères, en association avec la Schweizer Aircraft (New York). Destinés au marché proche-oriental, les premiers appareils devraient être prets à décoller des février 1990. Dans le domaine aéronotique toujours, un projet d'usine de maintenance, en marge de la commande de Mirage 2000 récemment contractée avec la d'ordinateurs Goh Electronics de Singapour: il s'agit d'assembler en Jordanie des ordinateurs individuels et autres imprimantes. La JTC et la Royal Scientifie Society détiennent 60% du capital de la société ainsi créée. Citons encore, en association avec la société californienne ESCA Genetics, la production de dattes "de laboratoire": a partir du tissu extrait du palmier, on obtient des dattes sans palmier, a très haut rendement et à cout réduit. Ce projet vois le jour à point nommé, après la destruction de la plus grande palmeraie du monde a Bassorah, qui a cree un vide sur le marché.

Le JTG a également monté une joint venture avec le constructeur

Amine Badreddine

La JTG est dotée d'un capital de 1,3 millions de dinars, et compte plusieurs organismes paragouvernementaux au nombre de ses actionnaires. Elle prend des participations dans toutes les ioint-ventures ainsi formées. Mais surtout, la JTG s'efforce d'v drainer d'autres capitaux privés, de créer une dynamique d'investissement.

Marina Lyon

A L'AFFICHE

THEATRE

Shades of Eve

Quatre femmes (une Américaine. quatre Jordaniennes) brossent par ableaux successifs le pomrait psychologique de leurs consoeurs. De la femme de ménage a la grande bourgeoise, en passant par la paysan-ne. Profond, drôle et crucl. (D'après Virginia Woolf, Jean Genet, etc.)

Centre culturel royal, jeudi 19 à 20b00. 2

CINEMA

Nuit blanche

Trois films d'affilée, assaisonnés de spécialités culinaires magurébines, jeudi 26 an CCF; "7 morts sur ordonnance", "Le cheval d'orgueil", "Mort un dimanche de pinie", à partir de 18h00. Nombre de places limité, à retirer d'urgence an CCF (4 JD pour la soirée)

Ciné-club

Séances respectivement à 13h00, 15h00, 17h00, 19h00, 20h30. Le 190 The sting. The Robe, Gone with the wind 2. From here to absence va laisser un

Elemity. The greatest show on earth. Le 20: The verdict, 2001 space odyssey. The jazz singer. Secret of Santa Victoria, Blood and sand. Le 21: There was a crooked man, 55 days in Peking, Julia, Mona Lisa,
Carmen. Le 22: Thomas Crown affair, 48 hours, Kagemusha, The sun also rises. The great Gatsby. Le23: The own and the great Gatsby. Le23: The own and the pussyeat. Death on the Nile. King and I. Anastasia, It happened one night. Le 24: Panic in Needle Park. One million years B.C.. Mogambo, Prisoner of Zenda. All about Eve. Le 25: Psycho, Kramer vs. Kramer Ragime, King Solomon's Mine. Kramer, Ragtime, King Solomon's Mines. Viva Zapara.

Films en anglais. Tel: 603901. Route de l'université, à droite après le bâtiment "Caterpillar", puis tère à gauche, 300 m.

EXPOSITION Wols, photos

Otto Wolfgang Schulz, dit Wols, est né en 1913 à Berlin et mort en 1951 à

Paris. Photographe ct peintre, influencé par les surréalistes, il est un precurseur de l'"action painting".

Institut Goethe, du S du 28 janvier TELEVISION

"Jamais avant le mariage", de Daniel Ceccaldi, avec Jean-Pierre Mariele et Mireille Darc: comédie. Un jeune photographe étudiant a la triple chance d'assister à l'accident d'un pilote cétèbre, de lui pomer secours et d'immorraliser l'exploit sur pellicule. Le lendemain, il est à la fois auteur et sujet dans les journaux. Et sa tante exploite la situation auprès de la riche famille du pilote... (JTV, vendredi 20

12 à 15.000 employées sri lankaises en Jordanie

Les bonnes à tout faire venues de Ceylan

Le boom petrolier a draine au Proche-Orient des nilliers de domestiques sri lankaises. attirées par le niveau des salaires. Une seule chose compte pour elles: envoyer chaque mois une liasse de dollars à leurs enfants. Alors, on s'acorche à son travail, quoi qu'il en conte. Leurs employeurs en profitent souvent.

Il y a neuf ans à Colombo. Manel a laisse tomber son emploi de bureau à 1000 roupies (40 dollars) par mois, qui ne suffisait pas a nourrir sa famille. Son mari était parti. Elle a confié ses trois enfants a sa soeur et est partie 'faire fortune" pour eux au Proche-Orient. Manel a aujourd'hui 35 ans et en parait dix de plus. Ses enfants, elle les a revus quatre fois depuis son depart. Dans un appartement sans chauffage qu'elle partage avec deux amies, on grelotte, serrés autour d'un dérisoire poēle à mazout. Mais Manel a gardé dans ses yeux la chaleur silencieuse de l'océan indien, un sourire désarmant. Et désarmé.

Pendant sept ans, j'ai été employée de maison dans une famille jordanienne, qui me logeait dans une pièce minuscule: lever 06h00 et travail jusqu'à 21h00, parfeis même minuit quand il y avait un diner de famille. Soit quinze à vingt heures par jour. Il fallait s'occuper des enfants, faire le menage, le repassage, la cuisine et la vaissele. J'avais un jour de congé, le vendredi. Après avoir levé les enfants, préparé le petit dejeuner, je partais a la messe à 10h00 et j'avais mon apres-midi, jusqu'à 18h00. Et je Tetravaillais le soir". Le tout pour 50 dinars par mois, un bon salatre envoyait les trois quarts à ses de la famille, par une agence peu enfants. La famille était cor- scrupuleuse ou par la famille ellerecte, me payait tous les deux ans même, elle n'ont plus le choix. un billet pour Colombo (environ 170 dinars aller et retour, un usage non obligatoire). J'étais bien traitée", dit elle.

Discrètes, elle sont souvent négligées, voire exploitées. Mais devant la police, elles ne pèsent pas lourd face à leurs employeurs

représentatif de la moyenne des Sri Lankaises, qui s'estiment satisfaites avec un lel traitement. D'où elles viennent, on se battrait pour être à leur place. "Avant l'augmentation des permis de travail en octobre, il en arrivait en movenne 300 par semaine", se souvient le consul honoraire jordanien - du Sri Lanka. Tawfik Abu Khagil. Elles sont actuellement entre 12.000 et 15.000, le gros des troupes des employées de maison (les Philippines ne sont que 4.000, dont beaucoup d'infirmieres). 'Ces derniers temps, on en voyait même venir pour des salaires de 30 dinars, crise oblige", ajoute M. Abu Khagil. Là-bas, on leur parlait de I(0) dinars. Mais une fois arrivées...

pour une sri lankaise. Mancl en touchant une commission auprès

Sans défense

Les Sri lankaises sont sans Le cas de Manel est courant et défense. Souvent, elles parlent un anglais très rudimentaite et quelques mots d'arabe. Ce dont, manifestement, certains employeurs profitent: salaires dérisoires. horaires élastiques, passeports confisques, interdictions de sortir sont monnaie courante. Mais il y

Appelons-la Monica. Un jour de repassage. Monica a eu le malheur de laisser un faux pli sur un pantalon. Elle ne le fera plus: sa patronne, excedée par son manque d'experience, lui a 'repassé" le bras avec le fer brûlant. Elle est venue se plaindre au consultat et nous l'avons envoyée montrer ses brûlures à la police. Mais la thèse de l'accident, defendue par la famille, a emporté la conviction de l'officier. Il a ren-Abusées par une compatriote voye la bonne chez ses em-celle de Monica: humiliations, cheveux coupés ("à cause des poux"), coups, sequestrations, abus en tous genres. Curieusement, il est même beaucoup plus sévère envers ses compatriotes que les Sri lankaises elles-memes. "En général, nous avons affaire à des gens corrects", estime Myriam, qui travaille ici depuis dix ans. Mais tout de même... Myriam ne peut s'empêcher de raconter l'histoire d'une jeune compatriote arrivée il y a quel-ques mois à Sweileh. "Sa patronne la frappe pour un oui ou pour un non. Elle dort dans la cuisine, où ses patrons, qui lui ont confisque son passeport, l'enferment à dé quand ils sortent, verouillant aussi le frigidaire: elle ne mange que du pain. Pour se laver, de l'eau froide seulement. Un jour, elle a saule par la fenetre du 2ème étage. Un taxi l'a emmenée au consultat, qui a saisi la police. Malgré ses traces de coups — la famille a parlé d'une chute dans les escaliers — on l'a renvoyée à ses employeurs. Pour la punir, ils l'ont battue, lui ont coupé les cheveux, l'ont enfermée nue dans la salle de bain. Un mois plus tard, elle resautait. La police n'a encore rien voulu entendre. Et cette fois-ci, la punition des patrons a été plus dure, assortie de menaces de mort". Vrai ou faux?

Qui s'en soucie?

Au consulat, on affirme ne rien connaître de ce cas, mais on en raconte de pires, notamment à propos de sévices sexuels. "En cas de litige sérieux, nous ne ployeurs"...

M. Abu-Khagil en raconte est vite fait", deplore le Consul. beaucoup, des histoires comme Lui qui dirige également une entreprise de nettoyage industriel est bien place pour le savoir: "Il n'y a pas de loi du travail, aucune protection pour la bonne à part nous-mémes. Et nous sommes Beaucoup d'employeurs s'in-dignent même de voir le consulat prendre la défense des domestiques, se plaignant qu' "elles se croient tout permis", selon l'expression d'une Jordanienne... Le père Moussa Adeli, directeur de Caritas à Amman, s'est souvent élevé contre ces injustices. Dans un artiele publié l'an dernier dans ces colonnes, intitulé "Retour de l'escalvage?", il cite des cas de "fuites", voire de suicides de bonnes, dans l'indifférence Le gouvernement sri lankais, empêtré dans la guerre civile, a d'aurres chats à fouetter. L'Organisation internationale du travail (OIT) des Nations Unies ne pourrait agir que si elle était saisic par les autorités de Colombo ou d'Amman. Au ministère du travail, on joue les Ponce Pilate: Les relations de travail sont régies par les contrats, dont le contenu est libre. Il n'y a pas de salaire minimum garanti, ni de droit du travail concernant ces domestiques. En cas de violation de contrat ou d'abus punis par la loi penale, nos services et la police sont compétents", déclare sans sourciller Mansoul Al Atoum, directeur du département de l'emploi. Mais bien souvent, les bonnes n'oseni pas affronter l'administration.

Résultat: les domestiques venues de Colombo préférent pouvons que saisir la police. Et nettement, comme Manel, tralà, entre la parole de l'employée vailler à leur compte en faisant des heures de ménage à un dinar ici et la, qu'être au service exclusif d'une famille: "Dans les bons mois, je gagne jusqu'a 180 dinars et je suis independante". Quitte à risquer l'expulsion, puisque la loi leur interdit le "free-lance". But de cette mesure: avoir une garantie de l'employeur - que paie leur permis de travail - en cas de délits commis par ces étrangères, lutter contre le travail "au noir" de porteurs de visas touristiques, éviter la prostitution.

"En fait, nous sommes nombreuses à faire des ménages, grace à des "sponsors" compréhensifs qui ne nous emploient qu'à temps partiel. Dans ce cas, c'est nous qui payons le permis". Mais, afin de compenser les envois de dollars aux familles, qui démunissent la Jordanie de devises fortes, le gouvernement a double le prix du permis de travail: de 150 dinars, il est passe à 300 dinars en octobre. Beaucoup de famille et de filles n'ont plus les moyens de payer: depuis deux mois, la tendance est au retour au pays, plusieurs milliers de départs selon le consulat.

Qui reste-t-il? Les Philippines, plus éduquées et bien protegees par leur gouvernement (ex: contrats-types de travail fournis par le consulat), préfèrent des emplois plus qualifiés et travaillent rarement pour moins de 150 dinars par mois. Les Egyptiennes, arabes, sont également mieux défendues. Quant aux Jordaniennes, elles se refusent à exercer des emplois de domestiques, juges degradants. Les Sri lankaises, discretes et dévouées, savaient faire oublier leur presence. Leur absence va laisser un

Mothers of the earth

Third World women live close to Nature — they are usually the gatherers of fuel and the providers of food. So they are in the best position to saleguard the earth's resources. Yeet they find themselves forced to degrade the environment they depend on. Maggie Black explains why.

Look out of the window. Apart from people what do you see? Trees, grass, buildings, roads, vehicles, a power cable, an animal nr two may be. Who manages this landscape?

In most parts of the world, all the items that need a permit, an owership deed, or a machine for their presence are controlled and run by men: buildings made of brick and concrete, vehicles with or without engines, roads, power and utility installations, land that is fenced or somehow demarcated. So are all livestock that can he harnessed, slaughtered, hunted, or sold for a reasonable sum in the market.

The rest — soil, stones, sky, rivers, mountain streams, grass, plants, fodder, water, trees - is in the care of women. In most of the world the distribution of duties for environmental management is sex-linked. This is because women are the backbone of the economy operating in the natural environment.

In most countries of the developing world, 75 per cent of the people live in the rural areas. Their typical annual income is between $50 and $300 a year per head. The closer a family is living to the lower end of the scale, as in countries like Bangladesh or Ethiopia, the more dependent they are on the natural fruits of the soil. Unlike farming counterparts in industrialised countries who live in houses with piped water and electric lights, drive around in cars, and buy most of their food in shops, the lifestyle of most rural people in the de- hands, it fails to register in any veloping world is inextricable from the natural environment and depends heavily on its produce.

In most of rural Africa, and to a considerable extent in Asia and Latin America, people still depend on natural materials for house construction: poles for support, mud for bricks and plaster, grass for thatch. They grow, tend, herd, and milk almost all their food. Nearly 60 per cent rely on open streams for their water supply. Over 90 per cent depend on trees, scrub, or animal wastes for fuel. They rely on their own feet for transport, and their own necks or backs for porterage.

The "tbey" who perform almost all these tasks are women. together with their workforce tbeir out-of-school children. This is one reason why women in traditional rural societies place a high premium on frequent childbearing and large families: the desired family size in many sub-Saharan countries is seven or more. Although high fertility is plainly desirable to women still locked into the old rural patterns of life, it also fuels population growth rates of more than three per cent a year which over time exert extra pressure on the environment upon which they de-

Their cashless engagement with field and furrow enables women in rural areas to meet their families' essential survival needs for food, fuel and water. But because most of their work is unpaid and money rarely changes book-keeping ledger and is there-fore rated as non-productive, mental impact of women's activihigh proportion of the national them is economically invisible.

role as managers of the natural environment. The invisible can only be measured in the crudest women whose families' wellwith their management of the environment: the 73 per cent of women in Africa and 47 per cent in Asia who never received any education; the 68 per cent and the 66 per cent respectively who are outside the official labour force. These women do not spend their time at home while a breadwinning male covers essential household costs: mostly, they are in precisely the opposite predica-

Women's beavy involvement in useful pointer. In Africa, women grow 70 per cent of the food, in Asia, 50-60 per cent, and in Latin America, 30 per cent. Since most census figures record that less than 20 per cent of women are in the agricultural workforce, there is a clear discrepancy between their vital interaction with the environment and its lack of registration by statisticians and economic planners. In some instances, what women do to support their housebolds is disqualified from the system of national economic analysis simply because women do it: gender linkage de-fices its total lack of value.

Unfortunately, the environ-Things that grow wild or run free ties as foragers and suppliers of in the environment — trees, household services is less easy to grass, fodder, and water - have disqualify. Human pressure on no fixed monetary value, woods, pastures, streams, and Although the natural resources arable land is leading to deforeconsumed in this way represent a station, soil erosion, and the high proportion of the national lowering of the water table. Be-household utilities bill in every cause of forces they can scarcely developing country, foraging for understand, still less control, women are often the agents of It is therefore impossible to their own resource depletion. Not quantify scientifically women's only as producers but as consumers they bear the brunt of shortage. Women and their children suffer most from the environmenway, by default. It is the have-not tal degradation which in recent years bas precipitated famine in being is most elosely intertwined Ethiopia and the forward march of the desert across the Sahel. They make up 90 per cent of the "environmental refugees" claiming a patch of drought relief camp floor, erecting a hide and sapling but oo the edge of Niamey, Haregisa or Timbuktu.

Where the dwindling resource base of life on the land has not reached such a critical pitch, women are often left behind while their men go off to find work in town. In Kenya and Botswana over 40 per cent of food production offers another households are beaded by women, and in Latin American countries the figures runs up to one-tbird. As popularioo pressure grows and the environmental pincers tighten, rural women are forced into a marginal cash economy. In the plains of southern Kenya, where the grazing grounds are sbrinking and the trees disappearing, the women lament their need for money to buy food and fuel and the canful of water they used to have for free. Other women, equally hard up, cut down the stumpy acacia trees and sell them as logs or as charcoal for the towns' informal power grid.

Women as wives and mothers are responsible for our health and well-being. Less widely acknowledged however, as the 1988 'State of World Population' Report points nut, is their Water holes which used to be dependable are running dry. In parts of Nigeria, Burkina Faso, Ethiopia, and India, women may need to sleep overnight at the hole, placing their water pots in line to indicate their turn at the spring. To obtain the 30 litres per bead regarded as the minimum for drinking, washing, cooking. and healthy living is out of the question. The state of health of tbeir children speak volumes about the effect of shortage. A clean water supply and proper sanitation can reduce childhood diarrhoeal disease by 40 per cent.

Many women in the shantytowns of Third World cities still depend greatly on Nature's bounty. In the slums of Port au Prince in Hair, they brew, they stew up concoctions of food for sale by the bowlful, and every alleyway modernised their position can get - UNFPA feature.

economy in developing countries. (Illustration: By Hector and hovel is black with the ash of even worse. It is women, for innumerable charcoal fires. High above the city, red patches oo the bare hillsides show where the soil has been scratched away until it arrives, it is rarely a woman who bleeds. Haiti is a portrait in ero-

Women's traditional role as farmers is regularly ignored. But wheo agriculture is in any way by 2.5 per cent a year.

example, who grind and pound grain to prepare flour for cooking. Yet when a powered mill manages it or derives an income sion; food production is declining from it. When a bicycle is ridden, or a car or cart takes goods to market, there is always a man behind the bandlebars, the reins or the wheel.

Women in China — a long way to equality

By Kathy Wilbelm The Associated Press

BEIJING - Market-style economic reforms that bave brought new prosperity to China bave cost some women their jobs, others their education, and have revived traditional views that women should stay at home.

In the new atmosphere of competition and making mooey, the 40-year-old official line that women should share equally in building socialism has been

Instead, employers, some local officials and even the influential People's Daily bave said openly over the past year wbat many Chinese persisted in believing prinat women are suited for housework and should be "liberated" from outside jobs.

Some results: Many companies forced for the first time to make a profit are refusing to hire women, both uneducated and college graduates, saying they can't afford maternity benefits. Now that factories can fire workers, they are cutting nearly two women for every man. officials say. - In rural areas, many peasant families are pulling single teenage girls from school to put them to work, believing that only sons should be educated. More than four-fifths of children not io school are girls, officials say. - On the political side, the introduction of some choice in selecting public officials often has resulted in defeat for the relative-

These trends, emerging mainly oveer the past year, are a startling about-face in a society where nearly 70 per ceot of womeo work outside the bome. They bave generated heated debate in Chinese newspapers and protests from women's groups.

hold outside jobs," said Cai Sbeng, a spokeswoman for the all-China woman's federation, an official organisation concerned with women's issues. "This is the first step in liberatioo. Only then can women achieve political status and economic independ-

Confucian code

For thousands of years Chioese womeo's roles were strictly defined by a Confucian code that required obedience first to one's father, then to one's husbaod. Rural women often worked in the fields alongside men, but few were taught 10 read and write or played any role in the larger society. Many young urban women joined in the political fermeot that culminated in the Communist victory in 1949. The Communists outlawed the practice of binding women's feet to make them tiny, mandated education of both boys and girls and encouraged womeo to work in "building the new China."

Officials ensured that a few women sat on most decision-making bodies, even though none ever reached the pinnacle of powly few women who hold office. er, the party politburo standiog

"We advocate that women

But Ms. Cai said in a recent women's roles remained strong, especially in the countryside. And statements by officials of some rural areas appear to buttress that contention. "If women doo't stay home, we men can't go to work... with a light heart," Li Fengzhuang, a spokesman for the government of Daqiuzhuang village, commented

Daqiuzhuang, a community of 3,550 people in the Tianjin municipal region in East China, has gotten favourable publicity from the People's Daily because nearly workshop foreman — more than twice the average worker's salary.

Although the People's Daily said approvingly that Daquizhuang may "set the trend for Chinese women in the future." have become full-time house- tion so far. begao its newest economic re-

Li said those reforms have increased village prosperity and made two incomes unnecessary.

"By staying home, women can liberate Daqiuzhuang's productivity," he said in an interview. "What's wrong with people doing what they do best? It's appropriate for womeo to do (housework). They're more thorough, it's their speciality. Meo have strong bodies and can do bard

Literacy

Li said most of the housewives were illiterate and therefore made poor outside workers. Daqiuzhuang offers educatioo programmes on closed-circuit television, but the subjects are cooking interview that traditional views of quurhuang's bousewives, said she should be responsible," Ms. Cai used to work in a factory cafeteria. She now concentrates on caring for her two children, 10 and 14, and making hot meals for her busband.

"Me go to work?" She asked surprised. "A woman can't earn enough." At the cafeteria she bad made $324 a year. Her husband now earns more than $1,620 as a workshop foreman - more than half of the working-age womeo Ms. Cai said it remains an excep-

the problem of employers refusing to hire women or laying off those who are pregnant or have small childreo. The employers argue that they can't afford maternity beoefits, usually about 70 per cent of wages, and that women with children tend to miss work more ofteo and are more recent official report said 13,000 womeo in the northeastern province of Liaoning lost their jobs in 1987 because they were pregnant or bad just giveo

Another report said more and more coterprises were rejecting womao college graduates assigned to them. Perhaps in a sign that not all in power think women should stay at home, the official Xinhua news agency called the situation a crisis.

and cleaning, not job skills. "Having children is occessary Wu Yurong, 35, one of Dafor society, and we think society "Having children is occessary

> She supported experiments in several cities that seek to ease the burden on individual enterprises by having government and companies set up a collective fund to pay maternity benefits. Most women would oeed maternity leave only ooce because China, trying to control its population, tries to limit each couple to one child.

Resistance to the traditionalist revival is strongest among young. educated women.

"After I marry I will still struggle to achieve my goals," said Liu Guanghong, 23, ooe of Daiuzhuang's working womeo. Sbe is in charge of the administrative office of ooe of Daqiuzhuaog's corporations, and said ber goal was to become company bead. "I am a woman of the '80s," said Ms. Liu. "My mother... is satisfied being a good wife and mother. But I want to pursue a career and improve myself." However, even expressing such ambidions is difficult for many Chinese women because they will be mocked as immodest, Ms. Cai said. Many women also believe they cannot do as well as men.

"Apart from the sex discrimination by society," she said, "sex discrimination also exists in the tbinking of women, in their sense of inferiority." The key to change, she said, is education, "but it will take a long time, maybe decades."

By Moses Manoharan

BONDA HILLS, India — In forests on a range of hills in eastern India, one of the world's most primitive tribes is fighting a losiog battle to retain its identity. "It is really a fight for survival for the Bonda tribe," said Durga Patnaik, a social worker among the 5,000 members of a tribe living on the Bonda range of Orissa state.

Tribal traditions include boys below 10 years of age marrying women in their late teens and then being initiated into sexual life in dormitories.

Patnaik said a Bonda colony bad already settled at a lower altitude and adopted the clother and babits of lodia's majority Hindu population living in the plains.

"But for 3,000 or so Bondas living at higher altitude, there is no compromise. They fight fiercely against change," he said.
A 500-kilometre journey from Bbubaneshwar, the Orissa capital

— a tough jeep ride into the bills and a trek through tropical forest — took a recent visitor to a cluster of 32 Bonda villages. Along the last stretch, Bonda tribesmen armed with bows and arrows watched warily. Women hid their faces in fear as they climbed the hills with wood for cooking.

"They will oot harm us because I am with you. Outsiders once faced trouble," said the governmeot development officer responsible for the Bondas and controlling entry of outsiders.

Most of the men, also clad only in loincloths, were still out hunting or cultivating land as dusk fell over the hills.

Habits

Gangdhar Parida, an official of the Bonda tribal agency set up 10 years ago, said bis aim was to help the tribe meet the challenge of modern society. "But they have some bad habits which we must help them change," he said. Items on his list of change include Bonda marriage customs ing the tr His efforts met a cool response.

Each tradition has a reasoo and we must oot force change oo them just to bring the tribe into our society," Patnaik said. Boys marry young and are initiated into social customs by an older woman. He, io turn, looks after her in her old age. The Bondas also considered their women decently dressed and that was what mattered, the social worker said.

Patnaik said the government tried to change their lifestyle by moving them from mud huts to modern apartments and giving them iron stoves to replace earthen hearths. They failed.

Bondas preferred huts to modern dwellings, which often collapsed in bad weather because of the poor quality of building material, a tribal agency official said. In Mudilapada village, women They spurned modern stoves bewearing only loincloths and beads cause iron wasted heat, unlike prepared food over earthen earthen hearths which conserved heat for long periods.

"We also tried to tamper with their dormitory system in which young males and females spend nights in singing, dancing and love-making during the period between the harvest and sowing of crops," be said. That also

5.40

и Т

Cores.

a le a le c

The state of the s

Only 5 thousand

Usba Deka, anthropology pro-fessor in Orissa's Utkal University, said it was up to the tribal folk themselves to preserve their culture from modern civilisation.

"Five thousand people do not of India's 800 millioo," he said. He said India could oot afford to have separate economic planoing for small groups or stop power and railway projects to safeguard tribal bomelands. But the Bondas have friends such as Pbulomani Saota, the area's former representative in the state parliament and one of ooly four tribal womeo to reach that positioo in Orissa. Santa said the greatest threat was the forcible occupation of land for government development projects. Tribal families evicted for failure to produce title deeds ended up destitute. "There is a growing feeling among tribals like the Bondas that in the end they will lose all their land. For a tribal, that will be the eod of existence," Santa

For all your:

Packing, Air Freight Forwarding. Customs Clearance. Door-to-door Service. Ticketing and Reservation needs.

please call: AMIN KAWAR & SONS Abdel Hamid Sharal Street

The First Class Hotel in Amman that has a Kitchenette in every room ...!

داراوتیل DAROTEL **-

Amman Tel. 568193 P.O. Box 9403 Fax 602434 Telex 23888 DAROTE JO P.O. Box 7806 Ideal Residence For Amman, Jordan Tel. 604676, 604696 Expatriates and Businessmen

Chinese Restaurant in Jordan 1st Circle Jabal Amman, near

Ahlıyyah Gırls School Take away is available Open daily 12:00-3:30

> 6:30-Midnight Tel. 638968

堂餐廳 MANDARIN Chinese Restaurant

The only lypical Chinese cuisine in Amman. Chinese Flaming pot is available Take away available Open daily 12:00 - 15-30 18:00 - 23:30

Wadi Sagra Road - near Traffic Bridge Amman, Jordan Tel: 661922

CHEN'S CHINESE RESTAURANT Mecca Street, Yarmouk

Engineers' Housing Estate, near Kilo Supermarket Mongolian Barbeque for Lunch Friday only Tei: 818214 Come and laste our specialities

Open daily 12:00 - 3:30 6:30 - Midnight

CHINESE RESTAURANT TAIWAN TOURISMO

Authentic Chinese Food

Korean Bar-B-Q Charcoal Flaming Pot Take-away service Open daily Noon - 3:30 p.m. & 6:30 p.m. - midnight

Location: Near 3rd Circle opposite Akilah Hospital Tel: 641093

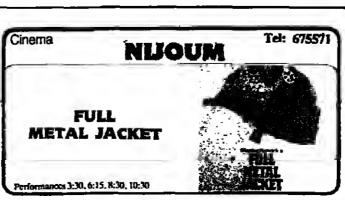

After the Holiday inn hotel

Towards 3rd circle

Tel:659519 659520

Deliver us from evil

By Martin Woollacott

tomen, ip

and pour ir for one weled at would at

THE PROPERTY OF

to is notice

28 100EF

 $\partial \Omega \Delta t_{\rm B} \lesssim$

States v.

with the h charge

Language at

200 12 WE

Black go

ianas, s

the per

474 95

153111d

10.00

2012/06

2000 $ 227

the mes

. .

de an in

VI. 75

have their

Same

1000

909. N 22

that will be

C. L. 2.46

ert deve

المنتشأ المطاير

(11.4822)

CONTRACT.

 $(x,y)\in \mathcal{D}^{(k)}$ rin - ⊱

"narest

: Luncheons service

ж particular. on the Both ner all

2000

 $T_{\rm W} >$

IN THE DEEPLY confused debate which the Vietnam war produced in the West, one voice rang out with special clarity and authority. Noam Chomsky gave the argument an intellectual and moral framework which it might otherwise have lacked.

His rigorous marshalling of the evidence in bis essays and books on the war, and his unwavering concentration on the fundamental question of whether the United States had any right at all to be in Vietnam, put the struggle in a new perspective. And his careful analysis of the way in which the facts about the origins and development of the conflict had been twisted contributed to a new scepticism about bow the war was being presented to the American and the Western public in the press, on television, and in academic work.

Chomsky did not retreat to his ivory tower -- he is Professor of Linguistics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology — when the Vietnam War ended. Indeed, through a series of further books. to become a critique of American power in general and of the American intellectual class.

At 60, Chomsky bas lost none of his passion or purpose. In Britain last week for a round of talks and meetings, he was warning again of the immoral nature of American policy and of the servility of the American intellectual establishment and the American press. The central problem, in his view, is what he calls "military Keynesianism" -corporate America's need for a high level of military spending and therefore for an enemy, or enemies, to justify such spending. It is true, he concedes, that there is now a desire to cut military costs. This, be says, represents "a fortunate conjunction with Gorbacbev's need to reduce international tension and hostility so as to pursue internal reforms."

Thus Chomsky only palely reflects the new optimism about the superpowers. Like others he warns of the danger that Gor-bachev's reforms may fail; unlike others, he believes that there are many in high places in the U.S. who want Gorbachev to fail — so that they can revert to policies of confrontation and war preparanon. Those might even be, he hims, policies of confrontation with both Europe and the Soviet

"The teading question in world affairs," he says, "is whether there will be a conflict between the U.S. and Europe." This bas been developing, he argues, since the late 1950s when the trade balance began to shift in favour of simplistic key to American policy, is. bowever, for Chomsky only a particular form of elite control. The essence of the even care.

"Let's assume Gorhachev's efforts are successful. Then we may see a gradual restoration of the traditional semi-colonial relationship of Western Europe with the East. That, be suggests, might be seen by the American elite as going several steps down the road toward their nightmare of "the domination of the Eurasian landmass by a unified power." But - and bere a touch of qualified optimism again maybe this can be worked out amicably" because of the interdependence of countries concerned, and the compelling need.

evil. The control of the masses hy the elite tales different forms in different societies. The Soviet Union is a "Leninist" state which, under Gorbachev, remains highly centralised and, in Chomsky's view, still uninterested in real popular participation. Japan is ruled in what Chomsky would call a "fascist" manner. Indeed no existing state lacks a power structure, although

in a bandful there is a degree of genuine popular control, If high military spending were to be replaced in America by a different kind of investment, about the size and nature of which the whole population dehated, then that population would begin to demand a say in decisions across the board - and it is this derogation of power that the American elite cannot bring itself to permit, Chomsky argues.

He posits now a sort of race between the growth of a more civilised consciousness among ordinary people, something be sees manifested in such developcalls a "process of marginalising the population" in the capitalist democracies. This takes the form not of changes to constitutions, which are historic and not easily removed, but "draining them of content". In America, the election of a figurehead president (Reagan) is an example of the process. The devaluation of the presidency devalues the vote for the president and thus drains American democracy of its real content.

The masses are controlled in all states by propaganda, says Chomsky, but this is particularly important in democratic societies. Propaganda is provided hy a "secular priesthood" of intellectuals, including journalists, who dress the cynical policies of the elite in morally acceptable clothes. Elements of the truth remain, because they are needed for practical reasons and hecause intellectuals with some moral stature "smuggle" them in, but they bave to he sought out and, in effect, decoded.

It is upon this concept that Chomsky's actual technique as an analyst is based. 'For a privileged minority," he has written, "Western democracy provides the leisure; the facilities, and the training to seek the truth tying hidden behind the veil of distortion and misrepresentation, ideology and

By Suprakash Ghosha!

Rewer

CALCUTTA - The dead are being dumped into the river, and the living flee to hide their nakedness when relief workers

It is, says one survivor in India's West Bengal State, the kind of disaster which "not even relief

A cyclone struck Bangladesh

and the soutbern part of West

Bengal on the night of Nov. 29. It killed 100 in West Bengal and

In West Bengal, hundreds of thousands uf people were condemned to even more impoverished lives in an over-crowded region.

against a broken wall of what was

Nanibala Devi. 50, leans

5.000 people in Bangladesh.

approach.

supplies can help."

Chomsky message is that power is. class interest through which the events of current history are pre-

There is undoubtedly something schematic and arid about the world that Chomsky paints for us. He seems both wholly cynical about the purposes of those in power, and wholly unforgiving. Those who direct American policy - and, by implication, those who direct the policy of any state - are allowed no regrets, no morals, no feelings, and when they change their policies they appear to do so for entirely Macbiavellian reasons. Chomsky has little interest in the question of "good in bad" - of how there can be good behaviour in the context of had policies and seems to deny the complexity of buman affairs by setting up too rigid an antithesis between an inherently amoral elite and an inherently moral mass. His recent work bas underlined this because in many ways it represents less a development of bis original ideas than a recapitulation of them. Nor do his hrief references to ments as feminism, and what he alternative ways of organising buman society carry much conviction.

But, when you meet him, Chomsky has a gentle presence, and the aura of a gifted and kindly teacher. His wispy and still boyish looks, in spite of the grey hair and the years, appeal. He is occasionally humorous - something he is not noted for in print and his love of facts is endearing. He is in the prophetic traditioo and you can no more truly argue with him than you could have with Isaiah or Ezekiel. If you oppose you will be gently corrected - if your intentions are deemed to be good - or blasted if they are seen as had. His inner certainty seems complete. That indeed remains his great strength, and the reason for his value to the rest of us. In an age of equivocation and moral muddle, Chomsky knows what is good and strives to serve it. Whether it is the war in Vietnam, the massacres in Timor, or the Israeli invasion of south Lebanon. he has ripped away the curtains to reveal the murderous machinery behind. One does not have to accept his precise formulation of the problem of power or his particular version of Marxist and anarchist ideas to benefit from his rare combination of moral vision and intellectual rigour — The Guardian.

Man crying through space: Anyone there?

By Otto Wöhrbach

The writer is an astronomer and head of Freiburg's Planetarium. MANY films have played out the scene of extra-terrestrial bodies landing on our planet. Soon after the first Unidentified Flying Objects have glided in, the first cities go up in flames. The conquest of Earth has begun.

Who doubts that the extraterrestrial bodies could conquer the Earth if they wanted to do so? It is taken for granted that interstellar voyages demand advanced space technology. It is assumed that we would have nothing equal to set against their highly developed weapons technology.

But that is all wrong! If one day extra-terrestrial bodies should dare to land on Earth they would probably he defenceless against our aggression. They would not have a chance.

But how prohable is such a landing? Are we alone in the universe?

There are many who support the idea that there is life in space. There is bardly a natural scientist wbo would not say yes if asked if there was extra-terrestriat life. Many of them believe that way out there in space it is teeming with life.

If space is abounding with life why is it that we know nothing about it? Why is it that extraterrestrial bodies have not made contact with us?

The most obvious answer is that there are no extra-terrestrial bodies; we are alone in the Supporters of the theory that man is alone and abandoned in lifeless space, list the conditions that must prevail for man to be able to exist on a third planet in the solar system, created 4.6 billion years ago.

In fact several factors must combine for this, beginning with the real distance of the Earth to the Sun and including the availa-bility of water and all the many other requirements which are fortunately to be found (solely?) on Earth.

The conclusion many natural scientists come to is that the whole process that leads to life depends on so many factors and su many strokes of luck that it could only happen successfully on Earth and nowhere else.

The supporters of the view that space is teeming with life retaliate to this with the view anyone who assumes that the Earth is the only inhabited planet in the whole of space, succumbs to the old view of mankind as the central point of the universe, which wrongly believes that man is alone in space, the high point, the aim, the crown of creation. And this over-estimate of man by man himself still prevails.

Naturally the advocates of the space-teeming-with-life theory are not content with philbsophical arguments. Their optimism is based substantially on natural science principles.

Everywhere in space we find the same matter which has formed life on Earth. Furthermore this matter, even in the most distant corners of space, obeys the same natural laws as matter on Earth.

all places be the sole planet with life, when the prerequisites for life exist in many other places in

Why then should the Earth of

A simple theory of probabilities lends this argument greater

In the Milky Way alone, our cosmic neighbour, there are 200 million stars. In this galaxy alone there would be 4,000 inhabited worlds, if only every hundredth star had planeis, and if among them only in every hundredth instance a planet revolved round its star at the correct distance, and if every hundredth showed signs of having the proper conditions for life, and if in turn every tenth of them began to develop life, and if then in every fifth case this development led to intelligent life which did not come to an

And that despite the harsh selection process in which in our numerical example only every 50 millionth star would remain, circled by a planet with intelligent

But it must be noted that there is a small snag to this numerical example. Apart from the basic figure of 200 million stars all the other numbers are based on pure speculation. We do not know, for instance, whether every bun-dredth or every thousandth star has a planet.

To be honest we do not know if there is a single, other star except the Sun which is circled by planets.

These calculations show just how total our ignorance is. Depending on the author the data about the number of inhabited planets in the Milky Way hovers between one and several million. But the calculation always comes up with the idea just how fertile the cosmos could be.

Asked the question: "But where are these extra-terrestrial bodies then? Why do we not hear a thing from them?" the supporters of life in space answer in unison: "Until now we have not paid enough consideration to the possibilities of extra-terrestrial life. We have been very sparing in the past with our own messages inviting other civilisations to reply tn us.

This is in fact true. For three months in 1960 the American astronomer Frank Drake was allowed to search for signals from extra-terrestrial bodies using the radio-telescope at Green Bank. His project, named "Ozma" after the queen in the fantastic fairyempire of Oz, reported nothing. In 1968 the Soviets hegan a project eavesdropping on extra-terrestrial bodies hut after a few months this was discontinued for lack of results.

Now astronomers, particularly Americans, are making efforts to find something out.

Since 1985 Harvard University has been listening to the skies round the clock with its 26-metre radio-telescope to find out if there is not concealed in cosmic sounds a signal from extra-terrestrial bodies.

Long agu, before earthly astronomers sought for signs of extraterrestrial life, they were tempted to send out messages into the cosmos.

Today we at last have the technical possibilities to give us some idea of the cosmos. Five messages are now under way, which, theoretically, could be picked up by extra-terrestrial bodies.

The two earliest are identical plaques, carried on board the American space probes Pioneer 10 and Pioneer 11, giving notice of our existence to space.

What feelings would be stirred in the alien living creature at the sight of the two human beings anxiety, amazement, happiness?
It is only to be hoped that the extra-terrestrial bodies would recognise the lower part of the drawing for what it is - a representation of our solar system and its nine planets. The senders of this cosmic

"message in a bottle" live on the correct wave length. third planet. The cosmis message is obviously propelled in a curve round the fifth planet and then out into space.

The information from the space probes Voyager 1 and 2, after 50,000 years. sent out into space in 1978, was much more far-reaching. Each from Earth, which suggest a bizarre potpourri of human civilisation.

All four space probes are glid-ing through the Milky Way at a leisurely 10,000 kilometres per hour. Hundreds of thousands of years will have to pass by before strength was the televising of the they are only half-way to approaching another star.

A radio message has been hurtling through space for the past 18 stars, 52 light years distant from years at the speed of tight, that is four times faster than the four spaces probes.

It was iransmitted from the largest radio-telescope in the world on Puerto Rico on 16 November 1974.

There were 201 invited guests present, who did not want to miss the impressive moment when the message from mankind was sent out into space with the power of 500,000 watis.

The message is based on the sequence of 1,679 zeros and ones. The inventors of this gave assurances that every kind of intelligence could easily decode the contents of the message.

The alien beings would, hopefully, first ask themselves: "Why only 1,679 numbers?" The answer is simple: 1,679 is the sum of multiplying 73 by 23. After puzzling over this for some time the extra-terrestrial bodies would discover that they must arrange tbe zeros and ones in 73 lines each containing 23 numbers.

Now they only have to be clever enough to replace the zeros with a black square and the ones with a coloured square and then, see, the confusion of numbers re-arranges itself into a picture, the world's visiting card.

Will our message ever be re-ceived? It has been transmitted in the direction of the spherical star formation M 13, in which there are 500,000 individual stars.

During the three minutes of the transmission perhaps someone out there had tuned into the

But even if the hoped-for listener replied instantly mankind would have to exercise a little patience: the reply could only be received on Earth at the earliest

The news about our existence was put out into space on ordinspace probe carried a picture- ary radio wave lengths. The sound record. By using the right strongest transmitters in the play-back equipment it is possible world are television transmitters. to extract from the record pic- For the past 50 years television tures, sounds, speech and music transmissions have not only been disseminated on Earth hut into space. There is nothing and noone who can prevent speed-oflight television waves from penetrating space.

> The first television transmission made with any kind of opening of the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin. The transmission would already have reached

> If we are unlucky enough then extra-terrestrial hodies have seen and heard their first human being, "Adolf Hitler." 'Music from Studio B" or the television parluur game "Who am 1?" have not yet got that far, or the reports over the various wars the past ten years. If the extra-terrestrial bodies do not live too far away from us, then they would have received their first information about us from relevision transmissions. How many planets reverberate from the laughter of their inhahitants (or what goes for laughter among them) after they became aware of the hustle and bustle on Earth for the first time?

It is more than likely that the extra-terrestrial bodies will not react with laughter or annoyance but rather with incomprehension. Should there be other living beings, apart from us, existing at the present time somewhere in the Milky Way, it can be guaranteed that they are peaceable and sensible. How do we know that? If we dare to speculate the extra-terrestrial civilisations would be considerably older than ours. Their own technical age would have begun many thousands of years ago and they have still survived. If the extra-terrestrial bodies were as aggressive and unreasonable as we are, then they would have survived scarcely 500 years of their own technical era -(Nürnberger Nachrichten.

Perfecting the Arabic calligraphic art

By Peter McCree

rapid development of the Middle East as a business and commercial centre has led to a growth in the demand for printed and display material of every kind. The associated areas of graphic design, typography and display lettering bave all developed rapidly and designers have sought new ways to supplement rather than replace the work of the traditional calligrapher.

Perhaps the most important influence on modern Arabic calligraphy and typography has been the work of the Lebanese callig-rapher and designer Mourad Boutros- Internationally acknowledged as one of the most outstanding modern Arabic graphic designers and calligraphers, Boutros is regarded by many as a twentieth century Ibn Muqlah, the t0th century calligrapher, who was responsible for consolidating and systematising the ma-or cursive styles. It should be remembered that although Arabic is an ancient language, used in .22 countries and spoken by more than 175 million people, it was the coming of Islam that developed the need to record every word of the Kuran in exact detail. The first copies of the Kuran were written in the scripts of Mecca and Medina, local variants bic typefaces. Of the 50 or so tems. superceded by Kufic, which took its name from the town of Kufah. an early centre of Islamic

Kufic dominant for 300 years

Kufic became the dominant script for more than three hundred years. Early in the ninth century decorative elements and illumination were added to Kufic texts and the letters themselves developed into purely ornamental forms.

With the spread of Islam, the need for increased clarity became ever more important and various cursive styles gradually came to prominence.

Then Abu Ali Mobammad Ibn Muqlah - to use his full name -used his knowledge of geometry to produce a comprehensive system of scientific calligraphic rules. He redesigned the form of the letter using three standard, mathematically balanced units; the rhombic dot, the Alif and the Ibn Muqlah applied his geometric system to the major cursive styles and later calligraphers, including Yaqut, perfected and heautified them. These scripts went on to evolve special ornamental forms which began to compete successfully with Kufic.

Later calligraphic development saw the introduction of further new styles and from the tate mediaeval period to the present day, various derivative scripts bave been created to meet particular needs.

Boutros, now based in London, was apprenticed to a master calligrapher from the age of 15. He learned to use the traditional bamboo pens and vegetable inks in the time-honoured way. But he was soon to leave his teachers behind, both in terms of technical skill and creative expertise.

Boutros was quick to appreciate and to anticipate the demands of the technological revolution. Designers wanted flexibility and speed and there was a need for contemporary Arabic scripts that combined maximum legibility with suitability for dry transfer and typesetting applications.

Discussions with Letraset followed and in 1976, the very first Arabic dry transfer typefaces were launched, designed by Boutros. Today, as Arabic typograpbic consultant to Letraset. Boutros continues to create original typefaces and supervises the production stages of all their Araharmony of proportion and versa- technology now means that desigtility. Based on the traditional -Naskh calligraphy style, but adapted for maximum flexibility of usage with the most advanced type technology, Advertisers laskh is used as an equivalent to Helvetica for converting western advertising and promotional materials. It has also been widely used for combined signage throughout the Middle East for airports, hospitals, roads and

As well as concentrating on typeface design, Boutros has utilised his traditional calligraphy skills in the execution of a variety of creative projects. A succession of major international companies, concerned to promote their products into Arab consumer markets have commissioned him to produce Arabic conversions of their established logotypes, perfectly halanced for style, weight and legihility. Arah companies: too, have sought his talents to produce their own distinctive logotypes and trademarks, many of which are splendid examples of the calligrapher's art.

Always look to the future

But perhaps Bouros's greatest tatent is his ability to continually look towards the future. His latest project is the development, production and marketing of a range of Arabic alphabets suitable for today's (and tomorrow's) state-of-the-art typesetting and lettering systems. His designs have been carefully prepared to reflect the needs of contemporary Arabic typography, retaining the best of traditional influences and applying the highest standards of form, construction and legibility.

Advanced computer-design techniques have been used in this work. Sophisticated programmes that convert alphabets into the digital resolutions used by the diverse range of printing devices have enabled Boutros to ensure that these new typefaces will function under all conditions. His latest range of typestyles, marketed in conjunction with ITC are stored in Ikarus format, the industry standard for digital typeface storage. This data can be readily converted via software into formats for the production of artwork, or into the data required by signmaking systems, typesetters, laser printers and other sys-

of a static, angular script known as Jazm, but these were soon market, Boutros' Advertisers are much more complex than precision, resolution, flexibility Naskh remains the most famous their Lann counterparts and this and widely used, renowned for its unique breakthrough in typeface

ners can, for the first time, expectand speed from Arabic as from Latin type families. - Media International.

Bekanntmachung fuer Deutsche zur Wahl zum Europaeischen Parlament

Am 18. Juni 1989 finoet die Wahl der Abgeordneten des Europaeischen Parlaments aus der Bundesrepublik Deutschland statt.

Deutsche, die ausserhalb der Bundesrepublik Deutschland einschliesslich des Landes Berlin leben und dort keine Wohnung mehr innehaben, koennen bei Vorliegen der sonstigen wahlrechtlichen Voraussetzungen an der Wahl leilnehrien, wenn sie

1.1. seit mindestens drei Monaten in den europaeischen Gebieten der uebrigen Mitgliedstaaten der Europaeischen Gemeinschaft eine Wohnung innehaben oder sich mindestens seit dieser Zeit dort gewoehnlich aufhalten (auf die Dreimonatsfrist wird ein unmittelbar vorausgehender Aufenthalt in der Bundesrepublik Deutschland angerechnet) oder

1.2. - in den Gebieten der uebrigen Mitgliedstaaten des Europarates leben oder

- in anderen Gebieten leben, sofern seit ihrem Fortzug aus der Bundesrepublik Deutschland und bis zum Wahltag nicht mehr als zehn Jahre verstrichen sind, und vor ihrem Fortzug nach dem 23. Mai 1949 mindestens drei Monate ununterbrochen in der Bundesrepublik Deutschland einschliesslich des Landes Berlin gewohnt oder sich sonst gewoehnlich aufgehalten haben;

2. in ein waehlerverzeichnis in der Bundesrepublik Deutschland eingetragen sind. Diese Eintragung erfolgt nur auf Antrag. Der Antrag ist auf einem Formblatt zu stellen; er soll bald nach dieser Bekanntmachung abgesandt werden. Einem Antrag, der erst am 29. Mai 1989 oder spaeter bei der zustaendigen Gemeindebehoerde eingeht, kann nicht mehr entsprochen werden (§ 17 Abs. 1 der Europawahlordnung).

Antragsvordrucke (Formblaetter) sowie informierende

Merkblaetter koennen bei den diplomatischen und berufskonsularischen

Vertrelungen der Bundesrepublik Deutschland, beim Bundeswahlleiter, Postfach 55 28, D-6200 Wiesbaden 1, bei den Kreis- und Stadtwahlleitern in der Bundesrepublik Deutschland angefordert werden.

Weitere Auskuenfte erteilen die Botschaften und berufskonsularischen Vertetungen der Bundesrepublik Deutschland.

Amman, den 19.1.1989 Botschaft der Bundesrepublik Deutschland Amman Tel.: 689351 P.O. Box 183

once ber home in the village of Hinglegunj. Her family was killed not invisible even to these obtuse elites, for large scale cooperation in the storm-People are just dumping their on world problems. dead in the river, or leaving them "Military Keynesianism" in the mud," she says. "We are which some certainly see as a all destined to that wretched end, we know, alt of us." Many of the villagers do not "I can't cry any more, you know. For whom should t cry? There is no one left," said Santosh Mondal, who found the bodies of his wife and children in paddy field.

"He doesn't eat," his neighbour, Chaitan Bag, 60, says. "He doesn't talk, doesn't even sleep. He will never recover.

"And quite a number of people in these villages have been so hopelessly depressed. This is a kind of problem not even relief supplies can help."

What relief supplies there are inadequate, relief workers say. State bealth department reports say victims of diarrhoea, dysentery and fever are thronging village health centres, but there are no basic medicines to give

"Many people will die a slow, painful death, and though the deaths will be due to natural causes, I will hold the government responsible for them," said a medical official in Hasnabad who asked that his name not be used. Some women are refusing help because they do not have enough

The plight of cyclone survivors clothes to preserve their modesty in front of relief workers.

'As you approach the villages. you would be shocked to see that scantily clad women, almost half nude, are rushing to hide themselves behind tree trunks," said Swarup Das, a community welfare worker in Hasnabad.

At least 50,000 homes were destroyed, condemning people to live exposed to the elements. This also will take its toll in the course of time," said a relief worker in the village of Midnapore. "People will die of fever. pneumonia and other diseases, especially children, and nobody will even get to know."

again be able to feed the people of the region. "The storm came when the harvesting season had just be-gun," said Jeevan Maity of Midnapore, "just when we were about

Farmers feel they will never labour. "We've been reduced to beggars. But how long can we livelike this? We'll not recover. We're finished."

to reap the harvest of our hard

Banks try to lure Saudi investors to buy bonds

NICOSIA (R) — Saudi Arabia's banks are urging cagey investors to buy more treasury bonds, being issued for a second year to finance a government budget deficit.

Bankers said they were repackaging the bonds to lure conservative, cash-oriented Saudi institutional and private investors whose wariness has so far hindered development of a secondary market.

'The banks are liquid." a trader said. "The only problem is that we have to get customers to commit their maney for a little bit longer — you can't fund your five-year bands with ane manth

Banks have settled their first hand issue since King Fahd annaunced on Jan. 2 that the government would sell 25 billion riyals ($6.67 billinn) worth of bonds in 1989 tn finance a spending gap caused by years of low oil

Last year the government raised 30 billion riyals ($8 billion) fram bonds, more than half af them sold to government agen-

Dealers said the Saudi Arabian Mnnetary Agency (SAMA) seemed to be continuing fortnightly 1.5 billinn riyal ($400 millinn) offerings of two-, three-, fnur- and five-year maturines priced 30 to 50 basis points above like-dated U.S. treasury instru-

"Part of the problem is concern national markets are not friendly ernment instruments.' — yield curves are flat and sometimes inverse.'

The larger of the kingdom's 12 commercial banks plan tn set up mutual funds hased nn the bonds

based on European and U.S. deficit." money markets.

At least one bank is considering issuing its own bonds tied to the government's, but for one million riyal minimum face cy or sent funds abroad.

But the banks' main thrust will be in develop an active market where the kingdom's large private and institutional investors can trade the bonds freely. Bankers said a committee of

But they said enthusiasm for banks had been formed under step by step," said a banker.

procedures, but progress had

They said some secondary market deals had already been made. including repurchase agreements the latest issue was weak, with where banks sell the bonds to hanks taking only between 25 per investors and buy them back later at a fixed price.

cent and 50 per cent of the 'It takes a long time." said a banker. "Penple are very conabout international interest servative. They have to accept rates," said a banker. "The inter- the idea they can invest in gov-

Bankers said Saudi Arabia's financial markets were becoming "If getting primary customers mnre sophisticated, though deto buy the bonds is difficult, then velopment of a stock market has secondary customers will be even been slow since a new share exchange closed in 1987 after only a few weeks of operation.

But now the stack market is far less important," said a bankfor small investors. Several lnnk er. "You're in a system where likely to be introduced in coming private companies don't need nnths. mnney. Saudi Arahia's problem is to tap its incredibly liquid lar schemes to private investors internal markets to finance its

Government agencies and banks are flush with hundreds of billions of rivals and many indiamnunts smaller than SAMA's viduals have stashed away curren-

Bankers said nnce a secondary securities market was developed, the next step would be for nongovernment entities to start suing bonds.

"(The market) is oo its way to sophistication. We bave to go

Arabs to build more aluminum plants

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) - Saudi Arabia will construct an

Iran purchases four power plants

U.S. firm to sell Soviet technology

HOUSTON (AP) - An American firm has entered a joint venture to market space scientific services, data and hardware for the Soviet Union, the company's president said. Space Commerce Cnrp. of Hnuston, Texas will handle public relations activities on behalf of the Soviets, market Soviet satellites and provide engineering and technical services, the Hnustnn Chronicle reported Tuesday. "They make it, we sell it," Arthur Dula, Space Commerce president, said Tuesday, "It doesn't have a dollar value. We're both contributing and we'll split the profits," be said. Dula said the company will be getting a better understanding of what the Soviets have to sell. "I don't know what bits and pieces they make. There's going to be a large flow of information to us so we can sell these services," Dula said the contract includes marketing and sale of the new - and up to now secret satellite-borne nuclear reactor. Dula signed the contract with Glavcosmos, the civilian Soviet space agency, in New York Dec. 19. It became official Jan. 4 when Alexander Dunayev, head of Glavcosmos, signed it in Moscow.

Guinea-Bissau opts for privatisation

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The president of Guinea-Bissau, Joao Bernardn Vieira, announced Tuesday his government would privatise the mostly state-owned industrial sector of the West African nation. According to an official contacted in the capital Bissau, Vieira said the government would open up "almost all" the industrial sector to foreign capital. In addition to plastics, brewing, rubber and auto factories that would be the first to be privatised, the official said a state-owned bank would also be on offer. According to the Portuguese news agency LUSA, Vieira tald members of the 150-strong national people's assembly that 28 billion pesos (some $19 million) had been granted in loans in 1988 to private entrepreneurs. Bissau has remained one of the world's poorest countries since it

Baker opposes shifting Third World debt to U.S. taxpayers

WASHINGTON (AP) — James Baker, numinated to be secretary nf state, told Senators Tuesday that be opposes shifting the burden of Third Wnrld debt to taxpayers in the United States nr other creditor countries.

He added that reform of Third Warld countries' economies will need new capital and somehow that capital must be found. Baker said he thought a way could be found to deal with the problem that did not shift the burden. He criticised a plan of Japan's former finance minister. Kiichi Miyazawa, which he said went in that direction. "In addition, we were concerned that that proposal would put a premium upon repudiation by countries of their debt," he

"That's one of the problems you have with these suggestions unfair that banks should be sellthat come forwad about creating a facility in the International Monetary Fund tn buy Third World debt (at a discount and) make the discount available to a Third World nation. What that tends to do is put a premium on repudiation of a debt, because if a country says it's not going to pay, then the discount is greater," he

Third World debt, now about $1.3 trillioo, is expected to get more attention from the administration of President-elect George Bush, who takes office Friday. He bas said the problem needs a Gerhard Stnltenberg, the West German minister of finance, said in Washington last week that the United States and six of its major allies would join in a meeting on the subject soon.

Senator Paul Sarbanes, chairman of the Joint Economic Committee of Congress, said it was ing debt at a discount without any any plan requiring banks to take a beoefit going to the debtor specific proportion of losses

"Yes, I dnn't argue...," Baker cnnshtution.

began to reply, but Sarbanes cut him off and turned to annther subject. · Baker said he was disappointed that banks had made no more new loans under his proposal of 1985, which called for them to lend an additional $20 billion in the Third Warld during the fallowing three years. "I'm disappointed that commercial banks that made many loans in the 1970s did not see fit, in the face of reforms by many of those couotries down there, to come forward with additional capital in the 1980s," he said. Bankers say they have lent about $6 billion a year in the last three years, and that more loans should come from governments and intergovernment institutions like the Fund. Baker said he would worry that would be contrary in the U.S.

has dramatically boosted tax re-

That means the government venues, they said.

ECONOMIC NEWS BRIEFS

aluminum smelter with an annual production capacity of 220,000 tons yearly as part of a Gulf Cooperation Council plan to make the region a leading aluminum producer, the kingdom's Englishlanguage daily Arab News reported Tuesday. The project to build a smelter in the Red Sea port of Yanbu was approved by Saudi Industry and Electricity Minister Abdul Aziz Al Zamil, the newspaper said. At present, two smelters are in operation in the Gulf, nne in Bahrain and the other in Dubai. Both are state-owned corporations and are in the process of expanding capacity. The Arab News said the Gulf region could eventually support five more smelters, raising overall output to 1.5 million tons of aluminum yearly. The paper said that feasibility studies have been completed for the Yanbu smelter as well as one at Umm Said in Qatar and Khor Al Zubair in Iraq. Talks on constructino of the Qatar smelter are under way in Doha, the paper said, between the government and the Doha Aluminum Company (Dohal) set up to implement the plan, it said.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Iran'has signed a $25 million contract to purchase four power plants from Yuguslavia in an effort to ease acute electricity shortages that cause daily blacknuts in cities around the nation. The Islamic Republic News Agency (IRNA) monitured in Nicosia, said the plants would be installed by Iranian workers "within the next three years," but gave nn further details. Iran has made rebuilding power stations destroyed in the eight-year war with Iraq a tnp priority, partly because of popular discontent with long daily blacknuts. Tehran televisinn, also monitored in Nicosia, said Tuesday that the scheduled six-hnur daily blackouts in larger cities would be reduced to three bours. The televisinn did not say when the blacknuts would be reduced. Power Minister Bijan Namdar Zanganeh warned Friday that blackouts would continue. "The ministry of power is in a fragile state with regard to power supply, and even present supplies are not reliable," IRNA quoted Zanganeh as saying. Zanganeh said last mnnth that the national grid lnst 2,500 megawatts of generating capacity because of damage'tn power plants during the war with Iraq.

gained independence from Portugal in 1974,

Japan sets new budget at $475 billion

TOKYO (R) — Japan, enjnying ters that the government bas set a such a large increase because er simulate nor discourage economic grawth a booming economy, 60.41 trillion-yen ($475 billion) Japan's rapid economic grawth namic activity.

budget for eight years.

Japanese nfficials told repor-

Wednesday said it plans the biggest increase in the government budget for the year beginning April 1, up 6.6 per cent from plans for the current fiscal year.

The government can afford can increase spending and cut its borrowing at the same time. keeping on track for its goal of putting its fiscal house in order.

Defence and overseas aid will be the main beneficiaries of the government's largesse.

Defence spending is slated to rise about six per cent tn arnund 3.9 trillion yen (about $30 billinn), while nverseas aid is expected in increase more than seven per cent, in some 750 billinn yen ($6 billion).

budget as neutral for the econnmy, saying that it would neith-

With the economy already ex-panding at a fast clip, there was no need for Japan to use the budget to stimulate economic growth, Finance Minister Tatsuo Murayama said.

long Japan's economic growth as long as possible," he told repor-

He said that the budget would belp ensure that the government meets its target of ending the issuance of budget deficit financ-ing bonds in 1990/91. The Finance Ministry will now inn yen ($6 billion).

Japanese afficials described the ments on the details of the budget before the government comes up with its final draft on Jan. 24.

"It is more important to proyear, but said that it was not warried about either develop-The forecast, endorsed by the cabinet Wednesday, calls for the trade surplus to drop to $88 bil-line in 1989/90 from $93 billion > to four per cent from 4.9. Japanese nfficials expressed satisfaction with the outlook because they expect dnmestic demand to remain the driving force behind the economy in the fiscal

this fiscal year and growth to slow

The budget must then be approved by parliament. but its passage is assured because of the ruling Liberal Democratic Party's nverwhelming majority there. Earlier, Japan forecast slower economic growth and a small fall

in its trade surplus for the coming year beginning April 1.

"The forecast clearly illustrates Japan's efforts to expand domestic demand in response to requests from abroad," Foreign Minister

Sosuke Unn told reporters. Japan was nni wnrried about the expected slowdown in growth because the ecnnomy needed to cool nff from its recent torrid pace, officials tald reporters.

While the big size of the trade surplus remains a concern, at least it is headed io the right direction - downwards, they

'We are on the right track and will continue to be so," said Mitnji Yabunaka, a director at the Foreign Ministry.

MANY VILLAS AND APARTMENTS FOR RENT

> Furnished or Unfurnished

In Shmeisani, Sweifieh, Abdoun and many other locations.

For more Information please call Wael Real Estate at 685342

Prospects appear gloomy for London insurers in '89

LONDON (R) — A grim year beckons for players in the London-based world insurance market who face huge claims but daren't hike premiums because of competition for business.

Premiums may actually fall in 1989, some brokers say.

"Rates are coming down and prospects are for a continued deterioration in the coming year," agreed Andrew Goodwin, an analyst of insurance at stockbrokers Phillips and Drew. Losses receotly led the Lloyd's of Lonon insurance market. where more than 30,000 members insure anything from Jumbo jets to pianists' hands, to ask whether it should scrap a policy which makes members personally liable on big claims to the full extent of their wealth.

But Chairman Murray Lawrence later said the policy would stay, arguing that it guaranteed Lloyd's policies were the most secure available to clients throughout the warld.

Since it started 300 years ago in London coffee bnuse Lloyd's has never not sertled a valid claim. But it is suffering now as Insses from marine, aviation, property and liability accounts way, Italy and Sweden sought-pour in. The property sector faces losses from a freak hurricane which hit Britain in 1987 doing $3 billion worth of damage. It looks like the world's biggest insured loss. A fire that wrecked Piper Alpha oil rig in Britain's North Sea last year brought a record man-made loss of $1.4 billinns. Uoderwriters reckon Piper

Alpha and claims from Brazil's

Enchova nil platfnrm, destroyed by fire, could bring almost $2 billinn in claims. U.S. liability business has seen a steep rise in claims related to health damage from asbestos and

An insurance aoalyst said: "Aviation is hellish despite recent

the aviation sector is suffering,

John Parton, chairman of the Institute of London Underwriters, said insurers needed in put rates up. But premiums are being squeezed by competitors keen for a share of a wurld market which Linyd's and London firms traditionally dominated.

Underwriters said France, Nor-more business. "Maybe they can afford to cut prices because they have not had losses like Lloyd's. said one insurance broker.

Underwriters estimate Lloyd's carries about 80 per cent of the world's disaster reinsurance. Meanwhile, it takes time for the pain of big losses to work through Lloyd's 1985 results, published three years in arrears because of the long process settling claims, were almost 25 per cent down on the previous year.

Falling profits, uncertainty about the size of new losses and reduced tax advantages led 1,700 Llnyd's members to resign in 1988, the first time membership has dropped since 1970. But brokers say the remaining 31,300 members may be too many, given fierce competition to underwrite insurance risk.

Insurance sources say the stress now on cutting costs while Lloyd's is also boosting reserves by increasing minimum capital requirements for members in 1990 to £250,000 ($440,000) from £100,000 ($175,000).

Lord Justice Watkins said Lon-

There is no love lost between

"Mr. Rowland and his fellow directors obviously feel that the rhn had "coveted" Harrods for years and would still like to own

Lonrho and the Fayed brothers."

Fight for Harrods surfaces violated anti-trust rules.

LONDON (R) - A court Tuesday overturned a minister's ruling that a disputed takeover by three Egyptian brothers of Harrods. the London store where royalty shops, need not go for scrutiny by Britain's mnnopolies watchdng.

A high court order calling for a review by the Monnpolies and Mergers Commission, which could veto the deal, was a victory for entrepreneur Roland "Tiny Rowland, 71, nne of the most tenacinus combatants in British business. His Loorho PLC conglomerate was a rival bidder for the House. of Fraser which owns Harrods. the glittering department store on fashionable Knightsbridge. On a Lonrho plea, three high court judges overturned a decision by the trade and industry secretary, Lord Young, two munths agn nut to refer the 1985 purchase of the firm by the Egyptian Fayed brothers for a mono-

Lonrho went to court alleging that the purchase of the store chain and its Harrods flagship

U.S. trade gap climbs to $12.5b

WASHINGTON (AP) - The U.S. trade deficit widened dramatically to $12.5 billion in November, the largest imbalance in five months, the government reported Wednesday.

The Commerce Department said the gap between what the United States imports and what it sells overseas was 21.9 per cent bigher than the October deficit nf $10.3 billion. The sharply higher deficit was blamed on a big jump in imports, which shut up to $39.7 billion, $1.6 billion above the October level. Exparts, which have been bonming this year, declined by $639 million to $27.2 billinn. The Navember deficit was the largest since a $13.2 billinn imbalance in June. In the past, a sharp warsening nf the natinn's trade performance has sent shock waves through financial markets. However, analysts said that the new report may not have as dramatic an impact hecause it had been widely forecast. Even with the November deterinration, the trade deficit for the first 11 months of 1988 was running at an annual rate of $137.3 billinn, almost 20 per cent below the all-time imbalance of $170.3 billinn set in 1987. The improvement in trade in 1988 has been largely respossible for the overall prosperity the country enjoyed last year. But analysts have statted wnrrying that the trade improvement, which was powered by a surge in export sales, is in danger of stalling out this year.

If that occurs, it raises the threat that President-elect George Bush's administration, which takes office Friday, will have to deal with a possible recession. The new president certainly will face growing calls for new trade barriers tn protect American manufacturers.

"This is curtains for any hope that we are gning to get the trade deficit under control any time soon," said Michael Evans, head of a Washington economic forecasting firm.

Many economists believe the U.S. dollar will have to fall to spur further sales of American exports. With the value of the dollar lower, foreign buyers spend less for U.S. goods.

Fayeds of contravening regulations by financing the takeover with money supplied in part by the sultan of Brunei, one of the Before 1985, Lonrho had built a 29.9 per cent stake in House nf Fraser. But a Lonrhn takeover was blocked by the Monopolies world's richest men. The sultan bas denied playing and Mergers Commission. any role at all he said.

Rowland was furinus and felt betrayed when, after he had sold his stake to the Fayeds, a secretive family with a taste for things British, the government allowed them to gn ahead and take nver the firm. He said it was unfair. The cnurt Tuesday alsn ordered Lord Young tn reconsider a decisinn not to publisb a government report on the takeover pending investigations into it by the Serious Fraud Office. Young bas until Sunday to order the mnnnpoly commission and by the Hnuse of Fraser. "I am delighted, Rowland told reporters. "We will not give up whatever happens.' Rowland has accused the more than $4.5 billion.

Pound Sterling

Faveds are not their cup of tea. that they won their way into House of Fraser by stealth and are not capable of managing its affairs properly," he added. Rowland, once a porter at a review, although legal sources expected an immediate appeal by London railway station, built Lonrho up from a sleepy African his trade and industry department mining company in the 1960s to a major international group. It has 800 subsidiaries in more than 40 countries and turnover worth т.

12 kg

18.2 (G)

* AMMAN EXCHANGE RATES "

Wednesday, Jan. 18, 1989 Central Bank official rates

		Central	AMPLIA	Ullian Ibits	•
		Buy	Set	French franc	76.9	77.3
		487.0	489.0	Japanese yen (for 100) Dutch guilder	380.6 232.3	Z33.5
,			863.5	Swedish crown	77.1	77:5
			263.3	ttalian fira (for 100)	35.8	36.0
	•	307.9	309.4	Belgian franc (for 10)	125.2	125.8

LONDON EXCHANGE RATES

LONDON (R) — Following are the buying and selling rates for leading world currencies and gold against the dollar at midday on the London foreign exchange and bullion markets Wednesday.

1.7630/40	U.S. dollar
1.1958/68	Canadian dollar
1.8588/95	Deutschemarks
2.0973/83	Dutch guilders
1.5795/5802	Swiss francs
38.89/92	Belgian francs
6.3400/50	French francs
	Ittalian lire
127.60 / 70	Japanese yen
6.3175/3225	Swedish crowns
6.7350/7400	Norwegian crowns
7.2000/50	Danish crowns
402.30/402.80	U.S. dollars
	1.1958/68 1.8588/95 2.0973/83 1.5795/5802 38.89/92 6.3400/50 1361/1362 127.60/70 6.3175/3225 6.7350/7400 7.2000/50

WORLD STOCK MARKETS

SYDNEY — Prices were barely steady in nervous trade with investnrs awaiting announcement of U.S. November trade figures. The All Ordinaries index was up 0.3 at 1,502.3. TOKYO - Underlying bullish sentiment pushed prices to a record close as bargain-hunters returned to the market. The Nikkei index climbed 127.03 to 31,354.55.

HONG KONG — The market consolidated a bull run, with the Hang Seng index closing above a key resistance point and setting a post-crash high. Dealers predicted further rises. The index gained 16.40 to 2,913.05.

SINGAPORE — Prices fell nver a broad front nn profit-taking in mnderate trading. The Straits Times industrial index fell 10.41 to

BOMBAY — Share prices drifted lower in poor trading as the market anxiously awaited Saturday's elections in the southern

FRANKFURT - Shares closed firmer in thin trading, helped by a technical reaction to falls early in the week on worries about rising interest rates. The DAX index rose 7.02 to 1,323.68. ZURICH — The market closed little changed after mixed trading, with activity muted before the release of U.S. trade data. The All Share Swiss index fell 0.9 to 963.6.

PARIS - Prices eased in thin midday trading, with dealers predicting little chance of a recovery before the end of the LONDON — Shares drifted from midsession highs in fairly quiet late-afternoon trading following a larger-than-expected U.S. trade deficit for November and a subsequent dip on Wall Street.

At 1535 GMT the FTSE 100 was up 11.5 at 1,879.2.

NEW YORK - Stocks showed narrow losses in mid-morningafter the deficit figure was published. The Dow was down six at

BY APPOINTMENT ONLY Um Uthaina

DELUXE APARTMENT FOR RENT

3 bedrooms, spacious dining and living area, 3 bathrooms and maid room. Quiet location in Um Uthaina.

Telephone: 819647 morning 811886 afternoon.

DELUXE FURNISHED APARTMENT FOR RENT

Consists of 3 bedrooms, dining room, salon, 2 bathrooms, centrally-heated, 2 telephones and parking area. Location: Jabal Amman, Um-Uthaina, between 5th and 6th Circles.

Call: Tel. 817217 or 841838

First-floor modern furnished apartment with two bed-

Location between 4th and 5th Circles, 200 metres north west of Kuwaiti Embassy.

FOR RENT

rooms, spacious living-dining, enclosed veranda, two

Tel. 674042

WANTED

VIOLIN LESSONS

A graduate from the London Royal Schools of Music is willing to People who are interested, please contact Mr. Mohammed Youris on 668321 - Al Shmeisani - behind Middle give private violin lessons and music theory lesson.

Reliable part-time Filipina maid for expat. 6 days per week, max 4 hours per day, mostly afternoon and early

Usual duties, cleaning laundry and some cooking a must.

Send letter with photo and expected salary to: P.O. Box 927111/Amman/Jordan.

GROUND FLOOR FOR RENT

Consisting of 3 bedrooms, 2 salons, dining room, 3 verandas, kitchen, and 2 bathrooms with separate central heating, and water and electricity supplies. Location: Jabal Amman between the third and fourth circles, opposite the United Emirates Embassy.

Please call Tel. 641651 - Amman.

e they can be cause that cause that cause that cause that cause that cause the cause the Lloyd's are for the cause for the ric through published because of ng clause it down or Italiniy at losses and s led 1.7% resign a rembership 1970. But line 3 but li

ung 31.30, lany, gira underwije

osts whit ing rema ic lakeon

in part h

one of the

ned blaint

15 said loc

farrods fa

like to out

i brother .

i his fellor

cei share.

cup of the r way ⊯

Steam ag

ranagny c added

porter at.

dion, be epy Ama:

c 1906 a.

roup lin

ore tous -

3VC1 905

:S

g vales for ಗಾರರ್ವ ಸ ednesán

:!lar

crs

3 ::04.75 405

trade with

r trade fi

:. with the

and setting

The inde

en luiten

ing 25 th e suuthern relped by I ibout facts

ed trading ta. The Ali

nd of the fairly quel ected U.S. vall Street .2.

id-morning

23 mes in i

.

ig resene am caping embers is

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Reai Madrid values stadium above star

MADRID (R) — Spanish soccer league champions Real Madrid prefer to give priority to renovating their stadium than signing outstanding Dutch Libero Ronald Koeman from PSV Eindhoven. Real's president Ramon Mendoza was quoted in Spanish newspapers Tuesday as saying the club had expensive plans for work on the giant Santiago Bernaben stadium, a landmark on Madrid's main avenue. The work, including increasing seating capacity and covering, could cost up to $17 million.

British soccer membership scheme to curb travelling hooligans

LODNON (R) — The British government unveiled a controversial soccer identity card scheme Tuesday which will also give courts powers to stop convicted hooligans going to football matches in other countries. The football spectators bill, which has drawn cries of foul from players and ruling conservative party politicians, is aimed at stamping out violence at or near grounds. Sports Minister Colin Moynihan told reporters the government was determined to see the identity card system implemented within the next 15 months.

Olympic star sentenced for wife's death

MAYAGUEZ, Puerto Rico (AP) — A superior court judge Tuesday sentenced former Olympic basketball star Richie Pietri Villanueva to 10 years probation for beating his sleeping wife to death with a hammer. Pietri, 44, was found guilty of killing, Ivonne Rodriguez Rodriguez, on May 6 as she slept. The two had four children. In his sentence, Mayaguez superior court judge Luis E. Jimenez Reveron ordered Pietri to do four hours of voluntary work each week and follow psychiatric treatment. Defence attorney Eudaldo Baez Cruz said Pietri will have to work every Saturday with children at the police athletic league in San German, Puerto Rico.

First international for women's wrestling

STOCKHOLM (R) — Norway's women spent Monday night pinning the shoulders of their Swedish counterparts to the mat in the first full-scale women's international amateur wrestling clash.

Norway won 8-2 and it was deemed a big success despite some male opposition.

Thinka Berg, 24, Sweden's best woman in the 53-kg division, has wrestled since the age of 14. She brushed aside the critics. "Poppycock. It is beautiful, technical and fast, unlike the men who mostly strut around the Pelle Svensson, a prominent Swedish lawyer who won a wrestling silver medal at the 1964 games in Tokyo, said: "This was great to watch. I'm convinced women's wrestling will be in the Olympics within 15 years." Some wrestling officials were not so enthusiastic.

"I guess it's all right for young pirls to wrestle. But it is not suitable after they develop breasts. This is a male sport," said Jan Torsell, board member of the Swedish Wrestling Asso-

The Norwegian victory in weight divisions ranging from 38 to 70 Kg took place in the Swed- more speed and action than in ish northern coastal town of men's wrestling."

BY CHARLES GOREN AND OMAR SHARIF

Q.2-Neither vulnerable, as South

↑AKJ952 ♥Q93 ♥7 ♣A62

Q.3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

± KQ10 ♥ K93 ♦865 ± AQJ6

Partner opens the bidding with one spade. What do you respond?

Q.4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 & Pass 1 NT Pass

What do you bid oow?

It was watched by a 500-strong capacity crowd and covered by reporters from 17 newspapers and national television. The event was billed as a world premiere by the International Wrestling Federation (FILA) because it was the first official women's international to include all 10 weight divisions.

Seventeen FILA member countries now officially recognise women's wrestling as a sport and the first European championships were held in France last year with 13 countries taking part. The first FILA-sanctioned women's world championships are planned for Martigny, Switzerland, from Sept. 15 to 17 in conjunction with the men's championships.

France, the leading nation, has 2,000 women wrestlers, and the sport is growing in many countries, says Hakan Mellander, editor of the Swedish Wrestling Association's magazine.

"I think we will see a snowball effect," he said. "It's almost like wrestling was made for women with their lithe bodies. There is

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JANUARY 19, 1989

- As Charted By The Carroll Righter Astrological Foundation

GENERAL TENDENCIES: prise results. Double-check to pre-feelings may be brought to the sur-face. Hasty opinions and unsettled conclusions may affect the day. Happy timeo appear on tho Avoid overreacting to passing ten-sions that cause npasts and create permanent emotional damage.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Han-dle nonharmonious situotions with tact. Avoid cooflicts with authoritarian figures and authoritarian figures and arguments that have on winner.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20)
You may have to face the real world
today and shed fantasy. The path

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)
You may have to face the real world
today and shed fantasy. The path

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)
Opposition to your ideas should not today and shed fantasy. The path

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)
Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20)

today and shed fantasy. The path to success has many if and but's. Call opoo your earthy nature.

GEMINI (May 2I to June 21)
You may feel insecure when objectives do not fall into place. Try to work with, an associate with, those who have the same aims as you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Be a team player at the with the flow. A spiritual approach promises made to family members. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Love

Jul. 21) Be a team player at the with the flow. A spiritual approach workplace to gain benefits. A will help you along. Stay away from disruptive attitude can give an unaffairo that can affect your favorable impression.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Great expectations will be realized if you can use patience for a short time longer.

The romance button is turned on and all systems say go.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)

Attraction to that can affect your anipument.

If Your Child Is Born Today the or she will be ambitious and thirst for experiences that are unique, challenging, and, at times, radical. Use patience when your child explores controversial affairs. Keeping appointments may be a Attraction to the bazaar will be challenge. Dress for the boss today quickly dropped when there is no using your best taste. Keep practical goal.

"The Stars impel; they do not can get you out of the rut. Trying compel." What you make of your out something new could have surlife is largely up to you!
© 1989, McNaught Synd.

FORECAST FUR FRIDAY, JANUARY 20, 1989

- As Charted By The Carroll Righter Astrological Foundation

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Be with responsibilities.

long range view and be a good the surface.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Nothing is free, so be wary of those toward advancing your position, who spark your interest with flettery. The employment picture develops good relationships.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

ceutious of your ections and sold point across today may be resurrected much to the may have barriers. Stay confident take potabots at your emotional armor.

APIEC Man 21 to Apr 10 Doc.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Don't 21) Provocative co-workers will be think you are too important to take admonished. Avoid joining into any suggestions from others. Take a get-rich schemes that look good on who spark your interest with flettery. The employment picture brightens in your favor.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Use your wit and superior memory

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)

Tending to household duties requires that you exercise self-discipline. Benefits come from previous efforts.

You snare matter and the develops good retationships.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Cataling with young family members. Expansive and positive feelings are shared later in the day.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Set previous efforts.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to aside some playtime. Cuddle up Jul. 21) An upbeat attitude will help with someone romantic. Take a different, more exciting approach to romance.

If Your Child is Born Today

you through the day. Put your worries aside and give yourself an emotional breather.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Ang. 21) Take advantage of an opportunity to patch up a relationship and make peace.
Your social evening glows hotter than you planned.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Being a team player at work helps your position. The domestic scene may feel like it is coming apart because of squabbles.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Great expectations can materialize. Keep a positive attitude as VIP's watch your performance. Help your mate

THE BETTER HALF. By Harris HARRIS 12-30

GOREN BRIDGE

WEEKLY BRIDGE QUIZ

Q.I—Neither value as South $ $54 \Q $ Q95 \Q $ $ AK you bold as proceeded:

What do you bid now?

action do you take?

Q.5-Neither vulnerable, as South

you bold: ♠A5 ♡A87 ◇AQ8 ♠109862

Your right-hand opponent opens the bidding with ooc heart. What

Q.6—Neither vulnerable, as South

A5 ♥A87 ♦AQ8 ±109862

Pass 1 + Pass

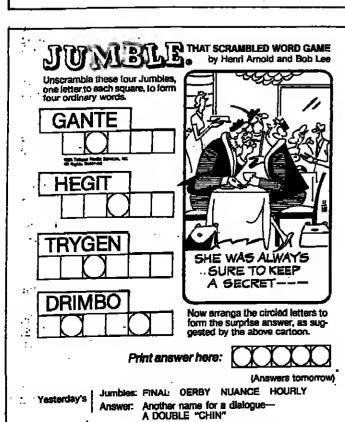

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North

What action do you take?

Look for answers on Monday.

Partner opens the bidding with one no trump. What do you respood?

"It's a new cold and flu medicine. Each capsule contains 100 milligrams of chicken soup."

10 Alan or Cheryl 14 Raison d' — 15 Lure 10 Ha loved Rose 17 When options cease 20 Shade tree 22 Takes time out 23 Component 25 Cyclops feature 26 Filip 27 Germanic god 28 Etching fluid 29 Exceed fluid 31 Finch 32 Jerk 35 Completes 39 Sock feature 40 Devoutness 41 Kiin 42 Forces 43 MIL crime 45 TV fere 48 Bugs 51 Like merinos Yesterday's Puzzle Selved: 13 Obtuse 15 Curling objects 19 Verdi opera 52 — firma 54 irritate 55 Try, try, a 55 Try, try, a 58 — fixe 59 Jibe 60 Snicker--61 Wimp 62 Dated 63 Attention 24 Style 25 Of hearing 27 Lash marks 27 Lash marks 28 Paris suburb 29 Behave 39 Talk fondly 31 Fat 32 Leek cousins DOWN S Katine Lopez 34 Favorite 35 Plano 37 Fivers 35 Cheer 42 Subm 52 Autocrat

THE Daily Crossword by Diane C. Baldwin

Australian Open

Graf chalks up whitewash

MELBOURNE (R) — Steffi Graf completed her fourth 6-0, 6-0 whitewash in a Grand Slam tournament Wednesday in the second round of the Australian Open.

Graf's performance against Canada's Rene Simpson, a repeat of her thrashing of Natalia Zvereva in the 1988 French Open final, varied between the staggeringly powerful and the merely excel-

Simpson grabbed just six points in the first set. But after loosening up she trebled that tally in the second and occasionally stretched the defending champion.

Graf was, not surprisingly, pleased with her display but still refused to contemplate completing a second successive Grand

"I like the way she plays. It was nice for me to get into a rhythm and go for winners," said Graf, who won her first round match

6-1. 6-2. "I enjoyed it much more when. she began to challenge me in the second set. I had a lot of fun."

To talk about the Grand Slam at the beginning of the year is not a thing I want to do. I've got a chance hut it's awfully difficult and out of my mind totally," Graf

Sixth-seeded American Zina Garrison and eighth-seeded West German Claudia Kohde-Kilsch joined Graf in the third round, Garrison with a hard-fought 7-6, 4-6, 6-4 victory over Belgium's Sandra Wasserman.

"I would have lost this match last year. It just shows there has been an improvement mentally in my game," said Garrison, ousted at the same stage of the 1988 open by unseeded Eva Krapl of witzerland.

Kohde-Kilsch dropped her first set against Frenchwoman Christine Damas but recovered to win 2-6, 6-1, 6-1.

In the men's competition American Aaron Krickstein. seeded 10, and 16th seed Amos Mansdorf both needed four sets to ensure victory.

Mansdorf downed American Rick Leach 6-7, 6-2, 6-4, 7-6 hit his best form but possessed

6-4, 6-1 on a hlustery centre hand. court.

The court's roof was left open as rain, which disrupted the programme over the first two days, kept away from the National Tennis Ceotre.

On a day when excitement was in short supply, spectator interest centred on court two where John McEnroe and Australian Mark Woodforde, a national hero after his five-set defeat of France's Yannick Noah Tuesday, made a successful Grand Slam debut as a doubles pairing. It was like old times, with win a tournament like this yet but people fighting for a glimpse of Γm capable of knocking off one the American, who honoured the occasion by tying on the red Bandaoa he wore io the days when he won three Wimbledon

The two left-handers, who captured two doubles titles last year, beat Argentina's Horacio De La Pena and American David Wheaton 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Krickstein, who won his first title in four years at last week's New South Wales Open, never ranging from cookies and bagels to T-shirts, floral bouquets and

Some of the more hardy fans

earlier showed their loyalty by doffing their shirts for playoff games in the bone-chilling cold of while Krickstein defeated West the most effective shot in the German Udo Riglewski 7-5, 2-6, match, a whipped topspin fore-

"Sometimes in the early rounds I get a little nervous and I'm just happy to stay alive," he said

Injuries have crippled Krickstein's efforts io the past three years but he said he had turned the corner with a victory over Stefan Edberg, Sweden's Wimbledon champion, at the U.S.

Open last year. "Beating Edberg showed that when I'm healthy I can competewith the top guys in the world. I don't know whether I'm ready to or two guys.

"I'd like to have a shot at McEnroe in the fourth round.' Injury or illness look the only things that can stop Graf at this tournament, a fact she tacitly acknowledged at her press conference wheo asked whom she thought could beat her. "Don't ask me," she muttered, obviously embarrassed." It's a long season and anything can happen. But I'm trying my best and I'm in good shape.

Super Bowl fever hits U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States will largely grind to a by seven points), or even the Sunday as all eyes focus on the the two teams will score. Super Bowl, the country's biggest Cincinnati Bengals will be bat- stripes are particularly popular tling for the championship of U.S. professional football, providing a brief diversion from the hassles of the real world.

MIAMI (AP) - The thought of playing a Spper Bowl without wide receiver Jerry Rice is enough to nauseate any San Francisco 49er fan. Or player.

It's not something the National Football Conference

champions will have to stomach

Sunday, despite the ankle injury Rice suffered in practice

Monday. Just ask any 49er - play," Joe Montana said. The pro receiver isn't about to let his first appearance in the U.S.

professional football championship hinge on a twinge six days before kickoff." Believe me, he'll play. I'll drag him out

If he doesn't do the dragging,

Bengals coach Sam Wyche

"This is a game where the two teams should be at full strength," Wyche said. "I hope he can play. Jerry Rice is one of the best players they've got and one of the best players

"If he can't walk, he'll or any Cincinnati Bengal.

Or coach.

halt for about four hours next oumber of combined points that A few exhuberant fans paint

one-day sporting event.

The San Francisco 49ers and the occasion — black and orange their faces or even fingernails for this year because they match the Beogals' helmets and uniforms. Vendors are hawking Bengals souvenirs from hastily erected Betting pools already are being stands on downtown Cincinnati organised at workplaces around streets. Retailers report brisk the nation. You can wager on the sales of black-and-orange items

Rice left San Francisco's

practice after injuring his right ankle and was listed as questionable for this rematch of the 1982 Super Bowl, San Francisco's first of two National Football League championships. In the minds of the medics, there

As for Rice's teammates and

"He's the man you want to get the football to," Cincinnati

pro bowl safety David Fulcher

"He's our gamebreaker," Montana said. "That's no secret. And you go to our hig-play guy in big games. That's not a play, on both sides."

might be a question.

opponents, forget it.

in the game.

for 104 yards.

Chicago, Buffalo and Cincinnati. The Super Bowl itself rotates among a number of cities with either warm climates or domed balloons.

stadiums, to eliminate the vagaries of weather and home-field advantage. This year's game is at Miami's 75,000-seat Jose Robbie stadium, where greedy scalpers will stroll Rice's ankle scares team the perimeter, selling a few of the much-coveted tickets, Prices easiin the league. I hope all of them ly can exceed $1,000,10 times or more their face value.

> Travel groups offer special package tours to Miami, and newspapers carry advertisements from enterprising residents of the Super Bowl City offering their own deals. One offered last week to swap four tickets for a pickup truck.

Other fans will gather at friends homes for Super Bowl parties or head to taverns with big-screen TVs. Beer-drioking and foothall seem to go hand-inhand.

While other one-day U.S. said of Rice, who when healthy sporting events, the Kentucky Derby Horse race and Indianapois the most dangerous receiver lis 500 auto race in particular, When Rice's ankle finally draw more fans to watch in perhealed earlier this season, the son, nothing quite matches the Super Bowl for overall attention. 49ers went on a four-game tear that boosted them to the NFC Super Bowl XX was watched by an estimated 127 million West title. In those four games, Rice averaged five receptions

Americans, well over double the average daily TV audience for the Seoul Olympics last summer. This year's game also will be televised live or on tape in 35 countries, from Saudi Arabia to Singapore and Argentina to Au-

Soviets lead in figure skating pairs

BIRMINGHAM (AP) — Marina Klimova and Sergei Ponomarenko emerged Tuesday from the four-year shadow of Soviet compatriots Natalia Bestemianova and Andrei Bukin to take the early lead in the ice dance competition at the European figure skating championships.

Klimova and Ponomarenko, who have never won a major event after finishing second at eight previous world, Olympic and European championship appearances, got off to the perfect start in their quest for gold as they led a Soviet sweep of the first three placings in the compulsories.

Second were Maia Usova and Aleksandr Zhulin, with Natalia Annenko and Genrikh Sretenski third. Hungarians Klara Engi and Attila Toth placed fourth, ahead of the leading Western pair, Sharon Jones and Paul Ashkam of Britain.

In sparkling, all-American costumes depicting the stars and stripes, Larisa Selezneva and Oleg Makarov won the original programme, which counts for 33 per cent of the total mark and replaced the former short prog-

Dancing to selected portions of Leonard Bernstein's score from "West Side Story," the married students from Leningrad combined grace and grandeur as they used the full width of the rink to include the eight required ele-

Second were East Germans Mandy Woetzel and Axel Rauschenbach, with Soviets Natalia Mishkutienok and Artur Dmitriev in third place.

Peanuts

Mutt'n' Jeff

Andy Capp

Cupid reigns

NEW YORK (AP) - Most

Americans believe there's enough romance in their lives.

and they reject the theory that a child takes the romance out of marriage, according to a poll released Tuesday by Parents Magazine. In a national survey of adults, 70 per cent of respondents said they had enough romance in their lives. Twenty-three per cent said they bad too little romance.

and an intriguing three per cent claimed to have more than they could handle. As far as children and marriage, 57 per cent termed

it a myth that the combination kills romance. But 39 per cent said they felt that when a child-arnives. Cupid leaves. The telephone poll, with a margin of error of plus or minus three percentage points, was conducted in Septem-her and October. Sixty-five per cent of the respondents were

BANCROFT. Wisconsin (AP)-

After eight years of unknown adventures. Clem the cat returned to its original owners. "I heard some meowing out on the front porch last Friday," Kurt Helminiak said. "When I opened the door, there stood a big, long-haired, gray male cat. "He walked into the house, checked it out for a few minutes, then he

Cat returns home

after eight years in Ú.S.

Jaruzelski overcomes opposition against legalising Solidarity

WARSAW (R) — Polish leader Wojciech Jaruzelski, bolstered by a Central Committee vote of confidence. Wednesday overcame a dramatic party revolt and pushed ahead with plans to legalise Solidarity.

Jaruzelski's victory in the unexpected showdown appeared to strengthen his hand in demanding that Solidarity accept his tough conditions for gradually re-legalising the union he suppressed under martial law in 1981 and outlawed in 1982.

The vote at a stormy Central Committee session climaxed a five-month struggle within the party since last August when the government first proposed to reverse the han and invited its leader Lech Walesa to talks on resolving Poland's problems.

Western diplomats said the party leaders appeared to have under-estimated the "enormous resistance" in the party to restoring Solidanty, but that Jaruzelski had then shown real determination in pushing his proposal

The last Polish party leader to seek a Central Committee confidence vote was Stanislaw Kania during the final weeks of Solidarity's legal existence in October 1981. He was promptly voted out of office and replaced by Jaruzelski. Party sources said Jaruzelski demanded the vote from the party's top policy-making body Tuesday night after opponents of a deal with the banned union accused the leadership of abandoning the party's principles — the cardinal sin in the communist

"In the discussions there were some sharp remarks from opponents from a dogmatic point of view unfriendly to the leadership," one party source present during the debate said.

They said the leadership had made mistakes in many moments and was now trying to liquidate them by giving np positions. They were not saying the leadership must go, but were saying it was sacrificing principles," the source added.

Jaruzelski, who has ruled since 1981, then demanded the confidence vote and won by a show of hands with only four abstentions - a massive endorsement of bis leadership by the 230-member Central Committee.

"It gave the leadership the authority to win a majority for its resolution on pluralism," the party source said.

The 65-year-old general later won majority votes for the con-troversial Politburo resolutions on introducing political and trade union pluralism in Poland and major changes in the Communist

The text on pluralism was not immediately available. It was believed to give the leadership the go-ahead to offer Solidarity legaisation under tight restrictions that would exclude it from mounting a challenge to comloaded in Germany' LOCKERBIE, Scotland (Agen- "No details of the container, cies) - Investigators believe the what else it held, where it was baggage container suspected of discovered or where it originated hiding a bomb that destroyed a were given officially but police Pan Am iumbo was loaded on and accident investigators are

'Pan Am bomb

Wednesday.

Detective Chief Superintendent John Orr, the Scottish officer heading the investigation, said

Tuesday that police have identified the baggage container in which the bomb was planted.

sengers to the Pan Am jumbo jet on arrival at London's Heathrow

The Pan Am jumbo jet was flying to New York from London

when it exploded last Dec. 21, killing all 259 passengers and crew. Eleven people died when flaming wreckage hit the small Scottish town of Lockerbie.

baggage container within the aircraft in which the explosive device was placed, and substantial forensic and reconstructive work is being undertaken in this regard," Orr told a news confer-

He had refused to comment on whether the bomb was placed aboard in Frankfurt or London.

Bnt the Times said in its report:

"We have now identified the

the Times of Loodon reported luggage first loaded at Frank-The Times said police believe the bomb, consisting of Czechoslovak-made Semtex explosive, tore a bole in the aircraft, and the air pressure at 440 metres ripped the jet apart. Flight 103 originated on another plane in the West Ger-Investigators say the explosion occurred in the cargo area just in man city of Frankfurt, transferfront of the left-hand wing of the ring continuing baggage and pas-Boeing 747. Orr said about 10,000 items of baggage and other articles from the plane have been recovered in searches across the entire width of Scotland.

> The transport department said Dec. 28 that investigators had found evidence of a bomb in two parts of the framework of a metal luggage pallet, the rack on which baggage is secured.

> Orr said Scottish police are working with U.S. and West German authorities but refused to identify a group, if any, that police suspect of carrying out the bombing.

> "There has been a lot of comment, some ill-informed, and I do not think it would be helpful to identify any group," he said.

ROBBING THE GRAVES - Charles Dunn (left). director of the State Bureau of Investigations stands with skeletons and artifacts collected from a natoinwide grave robbery network as they face reporters in North Carolina Friday.

Gunman's shooting spree kills 5 children in U.S.

STOCKTON, California (Agencies) - A man wearing comhat fatigues opened fire Tuesday with an assault rifle on children in an elementary schoolyard and then invaded classrooms, killing five children and wounding 30 people hefore killing himself.

The children killed were all refugees from southeast Asia,

Police identified the gunman as Patrick West, 24, originally from Stockton, He had lived recently in the states of Washington and Oregon.

"He was just standing there with a gun, making wide sweeps," said Lori Mackey, who teaches deaf children at the Cleveland elementary school. She ran to the window when she heard what she thought were firecrackers.

She said she saw a man standing in the schoolyard, spraying gunfire back and forth as 400 to 500 students from six to eight years old played at recess.

She said when she realised what was happening, she took her 10 students into a rear room where they couldn't be

"He was not talking, he was not yelling, he was very straight-faced. It did not look like he was really angry, it was just matter-of-factly," she said of the gunman, whom she described as about 1.7 metres tall with short, dark bloud hair.

"There was mass chaos. There were kids running in every direction," she said. Deputy police chief Ralph Tribble said West, dressed in hattle gear and wearing a bullet-proof jacket, set his car on fire as a diversion before entermg the school at about 11:40 a.m. (1940 GMT) Tuesday with two handguns and a AK-47 assault riffe.

Bruce Fernandes, a spokesman for the San Josephin connty office of emergency services. said six people were killed, including the gunman, and 30 wounded, most of them pupils. Deputy police chief Lucian Necly said at least 15 of the wounded were in critical condition.

Neely identified the dead children as Raphanar Or, nine; Ram Chun, eight: Thuy Tran. six; Sokhim An, six; and Oeun Lim, eight. Thuy Tran was from Vietnam, the others from Kampuchea,

Three of the children were slain in the yard, and the other two were killed inside the school, Tribble said. He said at least one teacher was injured. Neely said police had "no idea" of a motive.

West, who used the alias Patrick E. Purdy, had an "extensive criminal bistory.'

mostly in the Los Angeles area, Neely said. The crimes included soliciting for sex and narcotics and weapons violations, he Punzel said West had lived with an aunt and nucle for several months until October and said the annt. Julie Michael, "told me he was a loner and as a child he was an alcoholic.

Gun control call

California school superintendent Bill Honig said something had to be done about the violence that bas struck U.S.

"Long range, we in this society are going to have to do something to crack down on the avallability of automatic weapons," he said.

At least one state lawmaker said he would push for approval of a hill before the California legislature that would ban assault rifles of the type West

The Stockton killings were the latest in a series of mass school shootings over the past

On Sept. 27, 1988, James William Wilson, 19, killed an eight-year-old girl and injured 10 other people when he shot up a lunchroom and a classroom in a Greenwood, South Carolina, elementary school. A wounded teacher tackled him when he laid down his gun.

On May 22, 1988, Lori Wasserman Dean, who had a history of mental problems, killed an eight-year-old hoy and wounded five other children and an adult man before taking her own life. The incident took place in a grade school in Winnetka, Illinois,

Karabakh move will ease tension—Ryzhkov The Armenian party's second

MOSCOW(R) — Prime Minister Nikolai Ryzhkov says a Kremlin decision to place the disputed territory of Nagorno-Karabakh under Moscow's virtual control will help ease ethnic tensions Ryzhkov said Tuesday that last week's decision to put the territory under the jurisdiction of a special committee was in the interests of both Armenia and Azerbaijan -- the two southern republics which claim it.

This decision is not anybody's victory or anybody's defeat." Ryzhkov told a meeting of Communist Party activists in the Armenian capital, Yerevan.

The party newspaper Pravda. in its Tuesday editions, said dozens of top party, government and law enforcement officials in Armenia had been sacked and the interior minister reprimanded over the unrest that swept the republic last year. Armenia's prime minister. Fadev Sarkisyan, 65, retired Tuesday at a plenary meeting of the Communist Party Central Committee in Yerevan and was replaced by Vladimir Markary-ants, the official news agency TASS said.

secretary was also replaced at the meeting. No further details were disclosed about either move and it was not immediately known whether there was any connection to the recent sackings. Pravda said 49 of Armenia's top officials, government and law enforcement officials had been dismissed in December. TASS said Monday that more than 2,500 officials had been disciplined in Azerbaijan. Ryzhkov, in his address reported by TASS and broadcast in part on the television news, said

"virtually removes the base for inter-ethnic tension. "But it would be wrong to hope that normalisation would come of its own accord, from above." The prime minister, in Armenia to oversee efforts to deal with last month's devastating earthquake, blamed both Armenian and Azerbaijani leaders for the unrest, which has killed nearly 80 people in the past year.

He urged them to take action against anyone inciting racial tension or hindering Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev's perestroika reform programme.

purred and jumped up onto his favourite chair like he had never been gone." Helminiak said his family were incredulous at first, but he and his wife, Julie, compared the cat with pictures they had taken eight years earlier and confirmed Clem had come bome. "I let him out one cold night. ...and snowing and blowing, and he never came back," he said.

Baker takes presidential cake

QUINCY, Massachusetts (AP)

— Amid the preparations for U.S. President-elect George Bush's inauguration, George Montilio takes the cake. Actually, he will be taking about 20,000 hoxed cakes to Washington, D.C., for Friday's festivities. "We put the call in to the loaugural committee and asked them if we could do the cake and they called back and said sure, we'd the Nagomo-Karabakh decision love it." said Montilio, whose father used Washington connections to provide confections at President Ronald Reagan's 1980 inauguration. Baking the presidential pastries should be completed by Wednesday, said Montilio. Montilio's Bakery's contributions will be 10.2-by-12.7centimetre individual white cakes with buttercream frosting. The ingredients include 363 kilogramme of flour, 13 kilogrammes of baking powder, 5.4 kilogrammes of salt. 218 kilogrammes of butter and shortening, 454 kilogrammes of sugar and 480 egg whites, as well as cream of tartar, vanilla and milk.

Violence erupts anew in black Miami neighbourhood MIAMI (R) — Violence erupted in a black Miami neighbourhood The motorcyclist died from

for the second straight day Tuesday as an angry crowd hurled rocks and bottles at police and set fire to a car following the fatal shooting of a black motorcyclist by a white policeman. Police in riot gear rushed into the street in overtown - a predominately black section north of downtown Miami - and tried to disperse the crowd with tear-gas. Officers in another part of overtown were pinned down by sniper In a separate incident earlier in the day, a motorist passing through overtown was attacked by rock-throwing youths. He fired into the crowd, wounding a black teenager in the hip, police said. The victim was rushed to a local hospital.

Police spokesman Angelo Bitsis said it was still unclear why on Monday night the officer, identified as William Lozano, 30, had opened fire on the unarmed motorevelist and his passenger.

gunshot wounds, and a man riding with him died Tuesday in hospital of injuries which occurred when the cycle crashed after the shooting.

Lozano, a four-year veteran of the force, was relieved of duty pending the outcome of an investigation. Justice Department spokesman Mark Weaver said in Washington a Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) probe — requested by the head of the Civil Rights Division would begin immediately and would include interviews with police officers. He said the FBI would try to determine if there had been any violations of federal civil rights laws.

A Miami police spokesman said sporadic acts of violence were breaking out throughout overtown and were spreading to Liberty City, an adjacent black neighbourhood in which 1980 rioting claimed 18 lives, also was the end result of white policemen shooting and killing a black motorcyclist.

As a crowd of around 50 youths surged towards the Miami basketball arena in the heart of overtown, city manager Cesar Odio abruptly cancelled a game between the Miami Heat and the Phoenix Suns, citing possible danger to fans.

It was the second straight day of racial violence in Miami as thousands of football fans and reporters poured into the city for the Super Bowl Football Championship Sunday.

A crowd of up to 200 people took to the treets Monday night, setting fire to several ears and huildings, looting shops and hurling rocks at police, television news crews and motorists.

The six-bour siege ended early Tuesday as hundreds of heavily armed police imposed a nearblockade on the streets of over-

But, after several hours of calm, violence flared again.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Gorbachev meets Kissinger

MOSCOW (AP) - Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev met Tuesday with former U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. who relayed to him President-elect George Bush's opinions on the future of superpower relations, TASS reported. Kissinger is taking part in a Moscow meeting of the trilateral commission, along with former French President Valery Giscard d'Estaing and former Japanese Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone. TASS said Gorbachev and Kissinger discussed "some considerations on the development of Soviet-American relations, which were set forth by Kissinger on behalf of U.S. President-elect George Bush.

Garlle, onions cut stomach cancer risk

WASHINGTON (R) -- Eating garlic and onions may significant ly reduce the risk of stomach cancer, according to a study of nearly 1,700 Chinese published Tuesday in the Journal of the National Cancer Institute, The study, conducted in China's Shandong provioce where the death rate from stomach cancer is particularly high, found that the risk of the cancer declined according to the amount of garlic and onions consumed. The effect was also triggered by garlic and onion relatives like shallots and chives. Researchers from the U.S. National Cancer Institute, the Peking Institute for Cancer Research and other U.S. and Chinese centres interviewed 685 patients with stomach cancer and 1.131 cancer-free individuals in Shandong province. They found that those with the highest consumption of garlic and onions were 40 per cent less likely to develop stomach cancer than those who consumed the least.

Solarz: S. Asia nuclear race reduced

NEW DELHI (R) - U.S. Congressman Stephen Solarz said Tuesday he was hopeful that prospects of a nuclear arms race in the Indian subcontinent would be significantly reduced in the coming months. Solarz, chairman of the congressional Sub-Committee on Asian and Pacific Affairs, told a news conference that recent events in South Asia had transformed relations between long-standing enemies India and Pakistan. Congress has repeatedly voiced fears that Pakistan is developing nuclear weapons. India detonated a nuclear explosion in 1974 but, like Pakistan, says its nuclear programme is peaceful. Solarz said Pakistan Prime Minister Benazir Bbutto had given him assurance to that effect. He was also encouraged by the establishment of warm personal relations between Bhutto and Indian Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi during a meeting in Islamabad last

EEC heads urge steadier ties with U.S.

STRASBOURG (AP) — The chairman of the European Economic Community's (EEC) Council of Ministers Tuesday called for improving ties with the United States. In his maiden speech before the European Parliament, Spanish Foreign Minister Francisco Fernandez-Ordonez urged the 12 EEC member states to "strengthen the steady relations with the United States." Spain is taking over for the first time the chairmanship of the decision-making council. The most recent Trans-Atlantic dispute arose from the EEC's decision to ban imports of hormone-treated meat for which the U.S. retaliated by doubling tariffs on some European products. The 12 nations said they would counterretaliate but have not yet imposed measures. "We must do everything to avoid trade wars, which can but have disastrous consequences with those who must remain our staunchest allies." Fernandez-Ordonez said. "The dialogue with the United States is of key importance."

Journalists set to challenge IRA gag

ment's han on hroadcast interviews with supporters of terrorist groups in Northern Ireland will be challenged in court by journalists who attacked the policy Tuesday as "perverse" and unlawful.

Permission to bring the suit was granted "with some hesitation." said Lord Justice Sir Tasker Watkins, who joined two other justices in hearing arguments. The order by Home Secretary

Douglas Hurd barred the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) and the independent broadcasting authority from carrying interviews with spokesmen for 11 groups, including the Irish Republican Army (IRA) and its legal wing. Sinn Fein; the Ulster Defence Association and the Ulster Volunteer Force. Hurd's order, issued in October, also hanned the broadcast of words which supported, or invited support for, the banned organisations. However, broadcasters remained free to show pictures of the banned spokesmeo and to paraphrase what they

David Pannick, an attorney for the journalists and television producers who sought to challenge the han, argued that Hurd's order was illegal.

"The directions are so perverse an interference with the free flow of information in a democratic society that this restriction on the freedom of expression is nutside the discretionary powres which were conferred upon the secretary of state by parliament." Pannick said.

Pannick said those discretionary powers were conferred by the 1981 Broadcasting Act in relation to the independent broadcasting authority and by the BBC's charter and license.

John Laws, counsel for the home secretary, contended that Hurd's order should not be subject to the courts, but to the political judgment of purliament. He stressed that the television networks had not joined the chal-The court case is part of a campaign coordinated by the National Union of Journalists against restrictions imposed by the British and Irish governments on media interviews with 11 Irish organisations. At the time the ban was announced. Hurd made it clear that the IRA and Sinn Fein were the primary targets, and that his intention was to deny them pub-What people hear on television is not the Sinn Fein politicians being grilled by journalists. What they hear is supporters of Sinn Fein glorying in violence and death. That is what we propose to stop. Hurd said.

At the same time, the government announced plans to revoke the right of silence for persons suspected of terrorist acts in Northern Ireland.

Arguing against the hroadcast ban. Pannick accused Hurd of breaching Article 10 of the European Convention on Human Rights hy interfering with freedom of speech "in circumstances where there is no pressing social need for it."

The full court hearing was expected to be held before the end | most widely circulated newspap-

Balloonist to make first solo crossing TOKYO (AP) - A Japanese adventurer will attempt an 8,000kilometre solo crossing of the Pacific Ocean in a helium-filled balloon which he designed, it was announced Wednesday. Fumio Niwa, 38, will attempt the flight in a balloon with a gondola Feb. 11 from Yokohama, south of Tokyo, to a site yet to be decided along the U.S. west coast, said Kazuyuki Kodama, one of 20 officials engaged in the project. He plans to complete the trip in three or four days. In 1981, a four-man crew from Japan and the United States successfully completed a trans-Pacific crossing in a balloon, but Kodama said this would be the first time anyone has tried it alone.

Press attacks Andrew, Sarah

LONDON (AP) — Britain's tabloid newspaper Tuesday accused Prince Andrew and his wife, Sarah, of being the "no-work royals," and said their current Swiss ski boliday proved the pair did nothing useful. Headlines such as "Tough Old Life, Isn't It Andrew?" and "No-Work Royals on the Piste" were splashed above colour pictures of the duke and duchess of York in their bright pink and green ski suits. The couple arrived Monday for a four-day holiday at the Klosters ski resort, where an avalanche last year narrowly missed Andrew's brother, Prince Charles, and killed their friend Major Hugh Lindsay. "And as the couple frolicked on the ski slopes here, working Britons were asking: "Are they ever on duty?" asked the Sun, Britain's

Heart research shows it's okay to be a workaholic

MONTEREY, California (R) -Cheer up, workaholics. The latest research on heart disease shows it's okay to be a fanatic about

But if you're hostile, suspicious of others' motives and have a hard time controlling your anger. you are far more likely to oic at an early age than your friends who are trusting souls, Dr. Redford Williams of the Duke University Medical Centre said

"Being a workaholic, always being in a hurry, talking fast and always interrupting are not always had for your health." Williams told in American Heart Association forum here. "What is bad is anger and hostility and not always being able to hide it." he said.

that all so-called "type A" behaviour leads to an early death from heart disease.

Williams said the latest research spells the end of the notion

said the most recent studies show.

Specifically, people who are found, via standard psychological tests, to harbour a cynical mistrust of others' motives, to frequently experience anger and to openly express that anger are "five times more likely to die going from age 25 to age 50" than those without those traits, said Williams, who is a professor of psychiatry at Duke.

The moral: "Trusting hearts last longer." Williams told the

He advised people who flare up in a slow hank queue or constantly challenge their tennis partners' out-of-hounds calls to teach themselves to ease up and live

Williams' research was an attempt to refine studies performed in the late 1970s suggest-ing that impatient, ambitious, hostile people -- those with type rom heart disease. A personalities — were more likely over time to suffer from such behaviour are at fault, he heart disease than more easygoing individuals.

He compared individuals' longevity with their responses to individual questions on a standard psychological test administered over a quarter of a century ago. The different questions were intended to identify a large variety of different behavioural types.

He discovered that only some aspects of type A behaviour were linked to a greater risk of heart disease. This may be due in part, he said, to the fact that people with high hostdity scores on psychological tests smoke more, drink alcohol more and report more frequent hassles in their everyday

Williams said he believes the effect is caused by the makeup of an individual's nervous system. He said there is preliminary evidence that non-hostile individuals have a more effective

parasympathetic branch of their